MODULE SYNOPSIS – WSDip in Integrated Supply Chain Management (Wholesale Trade)

Course Objective

This Work-Study Diploma in Integrated Supply Chain Management (Wholesale Trade) programme offers you a gateway into the exciting world of wholesale trade. It aims to equip trainees with essential skills, knowledge and professional attributes in managing wholesale and international trade operations, including inventory management, warehouse logistics, freight forwarding, sales and marketing, sourcing and procurement.

Additionally, trainees will develop expertise in leveraging digital commerce and data analytics to drive sustainable solutions within the global trade landscape, as well as hone their negotiation and stakeholder management skills to ensure compliance with international trade regulations and foster strong industry relationships.

Job Roles

A Business & Operations Executive takes on a key role in supporting and driving core business functions from a hands-on perspective. This includes managing trade operations, inventory, and logistics, as well as handling commercial activities like sales, marketing, sourcing, and procurement. The role also focuses on leveraging digital commerce and data analytics to implement sustainable solutions and applying key professional skills, such as negotiation and stakeholder management, to ensure compliance and build strong industry relationships.
