

Annex

Table 1: Offences with composition fines of $150 with effect from 1 January 2022

| S/N | Offences <sup>1</sup>                                                                                                                            |
|-----|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1   | Not complying with any traffic sign (e.g. failure to stop at red light)                                                                          |
| 2   | Riding abreast of another cyclist on single lane roads, and on bus lanes during bus lane operational hours                                       |
| 3   | Not riding as near as practicable to the far-left edge of the road                                                                               |
| 4   | Not riding in an orderly manner and with due regard for the safety of others                                                                     |
| 5   | Riding against the flow of traffic                                                                                                               |
| 6   | Riding on expressways, as well as in road and expressway tunnels                                                                                 |
| 7   | [New] Riding with more than five cyclists in a single file, or ten cyclists when riding two abreast (on roads where riding abreast is permitted) |

---

<sup>1</sup> In more serious cases (e.g. where the cyclist caused harm), the cyclist may be brought to Court, where s/he may face a fine of up to $1,000 and/or a jail term of up to 3 months, if convicted for the first offence. If convicted for the second or subsequent offence, the cyclist may face a fine of up to $2,000 and/or a jail term of up to 6 months.