Emergency Savings

To work out how much you need in emergency savings, compile your household and personal expenses in a month, including loan repayments, credit card bills, insurance premiums, and taxes.

When budgeting for your expenses, a useful tip is to separate the essentials from the good-to-haves.

Aim to set aside enough to cover at least 3 to 6 months' worth of expenses. If your income is irregular, aim to have savings equivalent to 12 months of expenses.

Prioritise paying off high interest debts (e.g., credit card bills), to avoid high interest charges.”

Coverage for death, total permanent disability and critical illness

The Life Insurance Association of Singapore recommends coverage of:

- 9x annual income for death and total permanent disability; and
- 4x annual income for standard critical illness.

Dependants' Protection Scheme (DPS) is a term life insurance scheme that provides a one-off payout (up to $70,000 until age 60; up to $55,000 from above age 60 to 65) in the event of death, terminal illness or total permanent disability. It is automatically extended to you upon your first CPF working contribution.

Term insurance policies are a cost-effective way to ensure protection, especially when lower premiums are “locked-in” at a younger age.

Learn more about DPS here go.gov.sg/dps

Premiums for term insurance policies are usually cheaper compared to whole life insurance policies, for the same level of protection. This is because most term insurance policies only provide insurance protection and do not have any investment element (i.e. no surrender value).

For more affordable options, explore:

- Group term insurance policies (e.g MINDEF & MHA group term insurance policies applicable for active service personnel, NSFs and NS men, and their dependants); and
- Direct Purchase Insurance. No commission is charged as this option does not come with any financial advice.

MediShield Life

MediShield Life is a national health insurance that covers large hospital bills and selected costly outpatient treatments such as cancer treatments and dialysis.

All Singapore Citizens and Permanent Residents are covered by MediShield Life and premiums can be fully paid using your MediSave. For individuals supporting parents in their golden years, consider paying your parents' MediShield Life and CareShield Life or ElderShield premiums using your MediSave.

If you prefer to choose your own doctor, or opt for private hospitals or Class B1/A wards in public hospitals, your hospital bill would be larger.

Half of Singapore residents with IPs do not utilise their IP benefits fully by choosing to stay in Class B2/C wards when hospitalised. In such cases, MediShield Life's coverage would be sufficient and additional IP may not be necessary.”

*IP policyholders are also not eligible for Additional Premium Support (APS), which is a form of financial assistance for MediShield Life/CareShield Life premiums. If you are currently receiving APS to pay for your MediShield Life and/or CareShield Life premiums, you will stop receiving APS if you choose to be insured under an IP. This applies even if you are not the person paying for the IP.

Private insurers offer Integrated Shield Plans (IPs)*, which provide additional coverage on top of MediShield Life to help with your out-of-pocket expenses.

When making a decision to buy an IP, evaluate your needs and be mindful of the long-term costs that increase significantly with age. You can use MediSave to cover IP premiums, but it has withdrawal limits. If your IP premium (excluding MediShield Life) exceeds these limits, you may need to pay a portion using cash.

CareShield Life

CareShield Life is a national long-term care insurance scheme that provides monthly financial support should you develop a severe disability. CareShield Life covers all Singapore Citizens and Permanent Residents born in 1980 onwards, and premiums can be fully paid by your MediSave.

CareShield Life provides enhanced benefits as compared to ElderShield. ElderShield policyholders who have not developed severe disability may sign up to join CareShield Life. For individuals supporting parents in their golden years, consider upgrading your parents' ElderShield to CareShield Life or encourage them to join CareShield Life for higher and longer payouts.

Severe disability is when you cannot perform at least 3 out of the 6 activities of daily living independently (e.g. feeding, dressing, toileting, washing, transferring and mobility).

If you would like higher payouts or additional coverage (e.g. for less severe disability), private insurers offer CareShield Life Supplements. Carefully consider your needs and the long-term cost of CareShield Life Supplements, which depends on your current age.

If you are born before 1980, check if you have switched to CareShield Life and encourage your loved ones to do so too! go.gov.sg/csl

CPF and your retirement

Your CPF savings help to prepare for your retirement from the moment you begin working.

Grow your retirement savings by making cash top-ups and/or CPF transfer to your CPF Special/Retirement Account.

You can enjoy up to $8,000 in tax relief on your cash top-ups and receive higher monthly payouts due to compounding interest when you retire! For individuals supporting parents in their golden years, consider making cash top-ups and/or CPF transfers to your parents' CPF Special/Retirement Account to enable them to get higher payouts. You can enjoy tax relief of up to $8,000 on your cash top-ups to your parents.

You can withdraw any excess OA savings from age 55, after setting aside your Full Retirement Sum (FRS); or up to $5,000 if you cannot set aside the FRS. At age 65, you can further withdraw 20% of your RA savings (excluding cash top-up, CPF transfers and government grants), less the $5,000.

Use the Retirement Payout planner to plan your retirement payouts to support your desired retirement lifestyle. go.gov.sg/retireplan

CPF LIFE (Lifelong Income For the Elderly) provides you with monthly payouts no matter how long you live. Choose from three CPF LIFE plans based on your desired retirement lifestyle when you want to start receiving your lifelong monthly payouts. For each year that you defer your CPF LIFE payouts, your payouts will increase by up to 7%. If you want to enjoy even higher monthly payouts, you can choose to use a part or all of your available withdrawable CPF savings to increase your payouts.

Consider housing monetisation options if you need to supplement your retirement income (e.g., Right-sizing with Silver Housing Bonus, Lease Buyback Scheme, renting out your HDB flat or spare bedroom).

Investments

An important aspect of investing is understanding your own circumstances and the product before you put your money in it. Considerations include your financial goals, needs, investment horizon, risk appetite and budget, as well as the product's features, terms, benefits and risks. One should start investing early to grow your wealth. The earlier you begin, the more you can benefit from a longer time horizon and the power of compounding interest!

Every investment bears risk. In some cases, you could lose some or all of the money you invested. Bear in mind that there is no free lunch – the higher the potential returns, the higher the risks!

For lower risk products, you may consider Singapore Savings Bonds, T-bills and fixed deposits that are capital guaranteed by the Government or banks.

Diversification is a way to manage investment risks, by allocating funds across different asset classes (e.g. stocks and bonds), different industries and different countries.

There are diversified investment products such as Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs) and/or Unit Trusts (UTs), which can help you spread your investments across different asset classes, industries and countries.

There are also bundled products which have both investment and protection elements. Examples of such bundled products include whole life policies, investment linked policies (ILPs) and endowment plans.

Pay attention to the fees and charges incurred when purchasing investment products as these will reduce your returns. You are also strongly encouraged to purchase investment products through MAS regulated financial institutions.

Refer to MAS Financial Institutions Directory for a listing of the financial institutions regulated by MAS go.gov.sg/regulatedfis

Home purchase

For many Singaporeans, a home will be the largest purchase and investment that one will make. The Home Protection Scheme (HPS) is a mortgage-reducing insurance that protects you and your loved ones by settling your outstanding housing loan, up to the insured sum, in the event of death, terminal illness, or total permanent disability.

Mandatory HDB fire insurance covers building fixtures and fittings provided by HDB. For wider protection, consider home insurance to cover renovations, furniture, and personal belongings.

It is important that you plan your finances and budget for a home purchase carefully with HDB's ABCs of financial planning and financial tools.

You may also use CPF's Home Purchase Planner to view the impact of your home purchase on your retirement.

Legacy planning

Legacy planning is a process where you document and convey your preferences and decisions on your care, welfare and finances in case you lose mental capacity or pass on. With a clear plan, you avoid guilt, stress and conflict between loved ones – and ensure your wishes are duly respected and carried out in your best interest should the unexpected happen.

Complete these four planning instruments now to provide greater clarity and peace of mind for you and your loved ones.

In the event of a loss of mental capacity:

- A Lasting Power of Attorney lets you appoint one or more people (Donee(s)) you trust to act and make decisions on your behalf. Donee(s) may act in two broad areas: Personal Welfare, and/or Property and Affairs.
- An Advance Care Plan helps you communicate to your loved ones and healthcare team about your personal beliefs, values and how you wish to be cared for should you lose capacity to articulate your preferences.

Upon your passing:

- A CPF nomination ensures your CPF savings are distributed according to your wishes and at no cost. It also allows your loved ones to quickly receive your CPF savings upon death. To protect your CPF savings from potential creditor claims, CPF savings do not form your estate and cannot be covered by a will.
- A will sets out your instructions on how you want your estate to be distributed after your death.

To make a LPA, ACP or Will, you must be at least age 21;

To make a CPF Nomination, you must be at least age 16.
