Description of the problem:

The above referenced catheters are intended for use in angiographic procedures by physicians trained and experienced in angiographic techniques. Cook Medical has received reports of catheter tip splits and or separation. Based on these reports, Cook Medical is initiating a voluntary recall of specific affected lots in distribution.

Potential adverse events that may occur as a result of catheter tip splitting and or separation may include loss of device function, medical intervention to retrieve separated segment, or complications resulting from separated tip occluding blood flow to end organs.

Our records indicate your facility has received devices subject to this recall.

Action to be taken:

1. Please review the attached list of affected products and lot numbers shipped to your account, and quarantine any affected product that remains unused.
2. Immediately collect and return all unused affected products to Cook Medical as soon as possible for credit.
