About SportCares

POWERED BY SPORT, GUIDED BY CARE

Established in 2012 as the philanthropic arm of Sport Singapore, SportCares uses sport as a platform for social good to uplift individuals and strengthen communities. We work with vulnerable and marginalised groups to ensure that access to sport is not limited by circumstance, ability, or background.

We believe in sport as a force for social good. When applied with care and intention, sport becomes more than physical activity. It builds confidence, nurtures values, and creates spaces where individuals can connect, grow, and belong. Our programmes are designed to be inclusive and responsive, meeting people where they are and supporting their life journeys through sport.

SportCares works in close partnership with organisations across the public, private, and people sectors. These collaborations allow us to extend our reach, deepen impact, and deliver programmes that are sustainable and community-centric. Through our network, we also aspire to seed a spirit of philanthropy through sport, encouraging shared ownership and collective action.

Foreword

A YEAR OF MEANINGFUL PROGRESS

SportCares was founded on a belief that sport can build character, strengthen communities, and create opportunities for those who need them most. In 2025, we reached close to 6,000 individuals across more than 25 SportCares programmes and initiatives.

Through our diverse programmes in children and youth development, inclusion of persons with disabilities, and seniors' engagement and empowerment, our participants have developed confidence, forged connections, and found their sense of belonging. Youths from our programmes gave back to the society, persons with disabilities formed friendships beyond the playing field, and seniors rediscovered joy through sport. These outcomes were made possible through thoughtful programme design, partnerships with over 400 community partners, donors, and collaborators. The commitment of our SportCares youths who contributed over 4,000 volunteering hours, and others who believe in our mission also played a key role in these successes.

Our partnerships with schools and social service agencies have engaged us to reach the underserved communities, while corporate supporters provided the resources necessary to sustain and grow our programmes. This progress was possible by our partners, donors, and volunteers, who share our commitment to using sport as a force for social good. Most importantly, we thank the participants and communities who placed their trust in us and approached our programmes with courage and determination.

We reflect on 2025 with pride, gratitude, and humility. Pride in the impact we have made, gratitude to all donors and partners who have contributed more than S$500,000, and humility in knowing that there is still much work ahead. As our community needs continue to evolve, we must also evolve our approach to serving these needs.

SportCares will remain focused on strengthening our programmes, deepening partnerships, and ensuring that access to sport and its benefits remain inclusive and meaningful. This Impact Report records our outcomes and reaffirms our commitment to the communities we serve.

Together, we will continue to champion social good through sport.

Our Approach

FROM VISION TO ACTION

At SportCares, sport is not delivered in isolation as an activity alone. It is carefully designed, guided, and supported to create meaningful outcomes for individuals and communities. Our approach recognises that sustainable impact comes from more than participation alone. It requires intention, care, and continuity.

This is guided by the SportCares HEARTS Framework of Care, which reflects our theory of change. The framework anchors our work in relationships, trust, and long-term development, recognising that sport is most powerful when it supports not only physical engagement, but also confidence, character, and social connection. Through this lens, sport becomes a platform for growth rather than a one-off experience.

Our programmes are designed to meet people where they are and evolve with their needs. We work across life stages and abilities, ensuring that access to sport remains inclusive and meaningful. Whether through grassroots participation, leadership development, or community-based initiatives, each programme is shaped by the same core principles of care, empowerment, and progression.

Impact at SportCares is shaped through deliberate co-design and shared accountability. We work alongside partners to align strengths, tailor interventions to community needs, and integrate care across every stage of delivery. By combining on-the-ground insight with collective expertise, we create programmes that are adaptive, resilient, and built for lasting outcomes.

By aligning purpose, people, and partnerships, SportCares turns vision into action. Our approach ensures that sport is not only experienced, but sustained, creating pathways where individuals are supported to grow, contribute, and thrive over time.

Future outlook

THE NEXT CHAPTER OF TRANSFORMATION

Looking ahead, SportCares remains anchored in a simple belief: that sport, when delivered with intention and empathy, can open doors that once felt out of reach. Beyond physical activity, it becomes a platform for confidence, connection, and care, meeting individuals where they are and supporting them through moments of growth, challenge, and change.

In the years to come, we will continue to use sport as a catalyst and a bridge, linking people to opportunities, communities to one another, and support to those who need it most. This means listening closely to lived realities, working hand in hand with partners, and designing programmes that are inclusive, responsive, and rooted in trust across every corner of the community.

At its heart, SportCares is not just about sport. It is about care in action. Care that moves, includes, and uplifts. As we step into the next chapter, we remain committed to ensuring that every session, every event, and every shared moment reflects this purpose. Because when sport truly cares, it becomes more than activity. It transforms lives.
