P*DA20: Power of Singapore Design

Design shapes how we live, work, learn, play, care and move through our city. It not only impacts on our everyday, but has been integral to the planning, construction and imagination of Singapore since our independence.

The President's Design Award (P*DA) was launched in 2006 as part of Singapore's push to develop a creative economy in the new millennium. As the nation's highest honour for designers and designs across all disciplines, it recognises the achievements of the people making a difference to our lives and the global community through excellent design.

*P*DA20: Power of Singapore Design* commemorates 20 years of the award by mapping its impact on the design industry and the nation. Discover, via the interactive atlas, the works of the P*DA's 47 Designers of the Year and 130 Designs of the Year, and how they have pioneered industry trends and expanded the definition of Singapore design. Get up close with recipients who reveal fresh insights on the making of their projects and the impact of design on life, economy, culture and innovation.

Come explore the ways the P*DA has transformed Singapore and how you can shape its next chapter as a Nation by Design.
