Mosque Building and MENDAKI Fund (MBMF)

Introduced in 1975 as the Mosque Building Fund (MBF), the fund has played an important role in supporting the development of new mosques in Singapore through the collective contributions of the Muslim community. In 1984, with the establishment of the MENDAKI Foundation, the MBF was then expanded to support Yayasan MENDAKI's educational and social programmes for the community and was renamed the Mosque Building and MENDAKI Fund (MBMF). MBMF's role was further refined in 2009 to support religious education initiatives, as well as to include upgrading and revitalising older mosques.

The MBMF supports the building of new mosques and upgrading of older mosques, religious education initiatives, and MENDAKI's educational and social programmes to strengthen and uplift Malay/Muslim families.

The new mosque in Tampines North will be funded through MBMF as the 27th Mosque. The new mosque marks the continuation of Singapore's mosque-building efforts to meet the evolving needs of the Muslim community. The MBMF continues to support mosque development and upgrading, ensuring that mosque infrastructure remains accessible and responsive to the community's evolving needs.
