Belkin Recalls Portable Power Banks and Wireless Charging Stands Due to Fire and Burn Hazards

Belkin is voluntarily recalling the Belkin Auto-Tracking Stand Pro (Model number: MMA008), the Belkin BoostCharge USB-C PD Power Bank 20K (Model number: BPB002) and the Belkin Playa USB-C PD Power Bank 20K (Model number: PB0003). Of these three recalled models, only the Belkin Auto-Tracking Stand Pro (with serial numbers 57X10F61E00046 - 57X10F67E06078) is sold by Belkin in Singapore.

The lithium-ion battery in these portable chargers may overheat, posing a fire hazard.

Consumers who have purchased these affected models should immediately stop using them and disconnect them from all power sources and devices. The product should be placed in a safe, dry location away from anything flammable.

Consumers may register using this link to confirm eligibility for a full refund. Valid proof of purchase or serial number is required.

After receiving confirmation of eligibility, consumers should dispose of the product at a certified facility that accepts recalled lithium-ion batteries. Do not dispose of such products in regular trash or recycling bins.

For enquiries regarding this recall, please contact Belkin's Customer Service Local Representatives. Local contact telephone numbers are available at the provided link here.
