Description of the Online Harm
Describe the online harm which occurred, by answering questions 1 to 4 below.	I am a lawyer acting on behalf on my client. My client wishes to remain anonymous for fear of her identity being leaked to her stalker, as described below. At 7am on 30 June 2026, a user named “BadUser” sent a message to my client, username @Girl123, on ABE. The message said “I love you so much. I think we should go public with our relationship. We should tell all our friends on Platform ABE how much we love each other and what we have planned for our future.” My client and “BadUser” used to be secondary school classmates a decade ago. Then, they were acquaintances who did not interact beyond ordinary conversation between classmates. My client is not, and has never been, in a relationship with “BadUser”. “BadUser” began contacting my client out of the blue about a month ago on the messaging application, DEF. He persistently expressed romantic interest in my client despite her saying she is not interested. My client was distressed with this interaction and blocked “BadUser” on DEF. “BadUser” then sent the above message to my client on ABE. My client has blocked BadUser on the platform. Later that day on 30 June 2026 at 8.30am, my client was informed that “BadUser” started reaching out to her close friends via ABE. Their usernames are @Friend456 and @Friend789. “BadUser” sent to these two friends of @Girl123, the following messages “@Girl123 is so cute, I really want her all to myself. Can you please let her know? Can I have her handphone number so I can meet her? Or I can see her near her office at Raffles Place?” On 1 July 2026 at 8am, my client was informed that “BadUser” messaged her mother on ABE. Her mother’s username is @Mum123. “BadUser” sent the following message “I love your daughter @Girl123. Can you give me her number? Or tell her to meet me below her block tonight? I can talk to her after her yoga lesson when it ends at 7pm!” On 2 July 2026 at 9am, my client was informed that “BadUser” reached out to another friend of her friend via ABE. This friend’s username is @FriendABC. “BadUser” sent the following text “@Girl123 is so cute. Can you give me her number?? Or can you ask her to meet me below her block? I will go to her yoga studio in Tanjong Pagar or her office and try to hit her up!”
