Vision

St Andrew's Village:
Home of servant leaders who bring life to the nations

Leading Self (WISE)

Saints pursue wisdom through a passion for learning, having a healthy sense of wonderment about the world, and active reflection of God-centred values. (cf. Proverbs 2:10-12)

Wonder

A Saint is curious about the world, he wants to learn. A Saint asks questions.

Integrity

A Saint does right wherever he is, whomever he is with and whatever he is doing. He does right when no one is watching.

Self-discipline

A Saint wants to be known for his self-control. He perseveres because he wants to finish well.

Excellence

A Saint relentlessly strives to exceed personal best, celebrating high endeavour as its own reward.

School Values

Saints are principled servant-leaders, upholding the WISE and TRUE values that define who we are and how we act when we stand together as a village.

Serving Others (TRUE)
Saints seek truth by addressing claims and evaluating their soundness, by walking the talk and being role models. (cf. John 1:4)

Thanksgiving
A Saint is not a self-made man. He acknowledges that others constantly give effort and time for his benefit. He uses words and deeds to express gratitude.

Resilience
A Saint does not give up even when life is tough. A Saint does not quit. A Saint overcomes evil with good.

Unity
A Saint respects others especially those whom God has made differently from him. A Saint is humble.

Empathy
A Saint puts himself in the other person's shoes. A Saint speaks up and acts for those who are down.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

It is absolutely critical that each generation of boys raises up the next by inducting them into the values of the Saints and by coaching them to shoulder responsibility in their CCAs and in the school community.

My heartfelt thanks goes out to all the boys, their teachers and parents as well as the Old Boys who have made 2013 such an action-packed year as these pages will testify. Truly, Saints live an abundant life here at St Andrew's and this is the best way to have an education that grows you in wisdom, in stature and, most importantly, in favour with God and man.

This Yearbook will be especially important to the Class of 2013. Keep it somewhere safe, gentlemen, so that you can refer to it again and again and bring back memories of Morning Assembly, Hymns, CCA Camps, Class Gatherings and, of course, lessons! On behalf of the whole school, I would like to thank the Class of 2013 for their servant leadership to their juniors. It is absolutely critical that each generation of boys raises up the next by inducting them into the values of the Saints and by coaching them to shoulder responsibility in their CCAs and in the school community.

One of my most memorable experiences this year was working with the dedicated parents who organised our very successful Food and Funfair. Thank you so much for blessing the boys with sumptuous food and money raised to keep the SAPTA programmes going for our students. Thank you also for all the small acts of kindness – your encouraging phone calls, smses and emails to our teachers, your support for your son's class and his CCA, your presence at matches, concerts and events. And also for all we do not see: the little reminders to your son each day, the expectations you set them for their homework and self-study; we are very grateful. Indeed, we are privileged to be partnering with you in raising your sons!

Finally, Old Boys as you flip through these pages, may they bring back happy memories! Many of us older ones are a little envious of the educational opportunities this generation has. Yet it is you who are the ones who often make these opportunities possible through your expertise and your generosity. Keep coming back to the Home of the Saints!

Up and On!

"The main objective of this food fair is to bring the parents together, make them feel more connected to the school because often the parents are not sure what their roles are as the students are quite independent. This is one way that they can feel like they are helping the students by giving them a great time and raising funds for the school. I am grateful for the parents."

CHAPLAIN'S MESSAGE

"Still holden by Thy Hand", a phrase taken from the School hymn, resounds the assurance that God will always be there for those who put their trust in Him.

We live in a broken world, plagued by struggles and suffering. The Bible records the hymn of a psalmist as he stands before a challenging range of hills and mountains to overcome. Sensing it to be an uphill task, he naturally asks, "Where does my help come from?" (Psalm 121:1)

But, before despair and despondency can take hold of him, he resolutely declares that "my help comes from the LORD, the Maker of heaven and earth!" and he finds confidence and assurance that God will assist him. (Psalm 121:2)

Indeed, our help is from God our Heavenly Father, who will always hold us by His hand if we hold on to His.

"Still holden by Thy Hand", a phrase taken from the School hymn, resounds the assurance that God will always be there for those who put their trust in Him.

It is a beautiful picture of a child trusting the father through holding of hand and a beautiful picture of the love of the father towards the child to protect, to lead and to guide to places or situations that would be best for his child. God is our Heavenly Father.

St Andrew's 151st Anniversary this year is a clear testimony of His grace and blessing and guidance upon the Saints' family. God's faithfulness is unquestionable.

May God's hand continue to lead and guide St Andrew's School in dealing with every challenge that may come. To God be the glory!

Up and On!

74TH PREFECTS' COMMENDATION SERVICE

8th February was a special day for the Prefectorial Board. On that day, St Andrew's Secondary School held its 74th Prefects' Commendation. 46 prefects took part in the ceremony, with 28 prefects taking centre-stage. 17 prefects were newly sworn in as Junior Prefects, while the other 11 were sworn in as Senior Prefects. Held at St Andrew's Cathedral, our audience was the entire Secondary 3 cohort, parents, teachers, along with various guests and some prefect representatives from other schools.

Ms Nur Aishah Nadiah (Head, Student Government)

School Captain Jotham Teo with his parents, Ms Jaslin Kok & Mrs Lucy Toh

Guest-of-Honour, Mr Dennis Tan

The guest speaker at the ceremony was Mr Dennis Tan, the Senior School Counsellor from St Andrew's Junior School. Before we received our badges from Bishop Rennis Ponniah, Mr Tan gave a speech on leadership. When questioned whether we were ready to take on the responsibility of being a prefect, each of us announced loudly, 'I am!' It was a truly awe-inspiring moment, as our words echoed around the Cathedral, signifying to all present that we were ready to become prefects. As the ceremony ended, everyone cheered loudly and embraced each other just outside the cathedral, elated that another chapter of our school lives had just begun.

After the ceremony, we invited all guests and parents as well as the prefects from other schools to a buffet lunch. There, we thanked various teachers and interacted with prefects from the other schools, making new friends. Truly, the 74th Prefects' Commendation was a success as it served to recognise and celebrate the servant leaders of St Andrew's Secondary School.

"Timeless Qualities to Carry Us Forward"

ADDRESS BY BISHOP RENNIS PONNIAH

Distinguished guests, Board of Governors, Principals, Vice-Principals, Chaplains, Teachers and Staff of St Andrew's School, Prize-Winners and their parents, Students of the graduating classes, Ladies and Gentlemen.

I count it a great privilege to address the St Andrew's Family on this 151st Schools' Founder's Day. After the euphoria of the 150th Year Celebration last year, I am glad to say that we have settled down and got on with the tasks that make our School such a School of Choice.

In fact, buoyed by the celebrations, we have enhanced our outstanding performance in Sports (for example, Hockey, Cricket, Badminton and Water-polo to Rugby). Not only that, we have made important strides forward in the Performing Arts (winning distinction Awards at the 2013 Singapore Youth Festival for Band, Choir and Drama). And our boys have done really well in the PSLE and 'O' and 'N' Level exams. To top it all, both our Junior and Secondary Schools have won the Outstanding Character Development Award. So, let me begin by offering on behalf of the Board, Alumni and Parent-Teacher Association, our congratulations to the Principals, Staff and Pupils of our School.

This is my first year as Bishop of our Diocese and Chairman of the Board of Governors. I have felt such a welcome here and I am honoured to be called upon to serve the School alongside such committed and able people. I am also amazed by the grace of God to be brought back to the School where both my great-grandfather and my grandfather served. My great grandfather, Rev D S Ponniah, was Principal of St Andrew's School from 1890-1912. And my grandfather, William Henry Ponniah, was a Senior Teacher here in the 1940s. So, you could say, "I was lost but now am found". Or, you can be more generous and say I was sent on an excursion to find food for our journey.

In any case, it is my joy then to speak to you today on 'The Timeless Qualities that carry us Forward'. In an ever-changing world, what are some timeless qualities that have carried St Andrew's School past the 150th year mark and that will hold us good for all the years to come? I draw your attention to what I believe are three timeless qualities that will carry this School forward to greater heights for God.

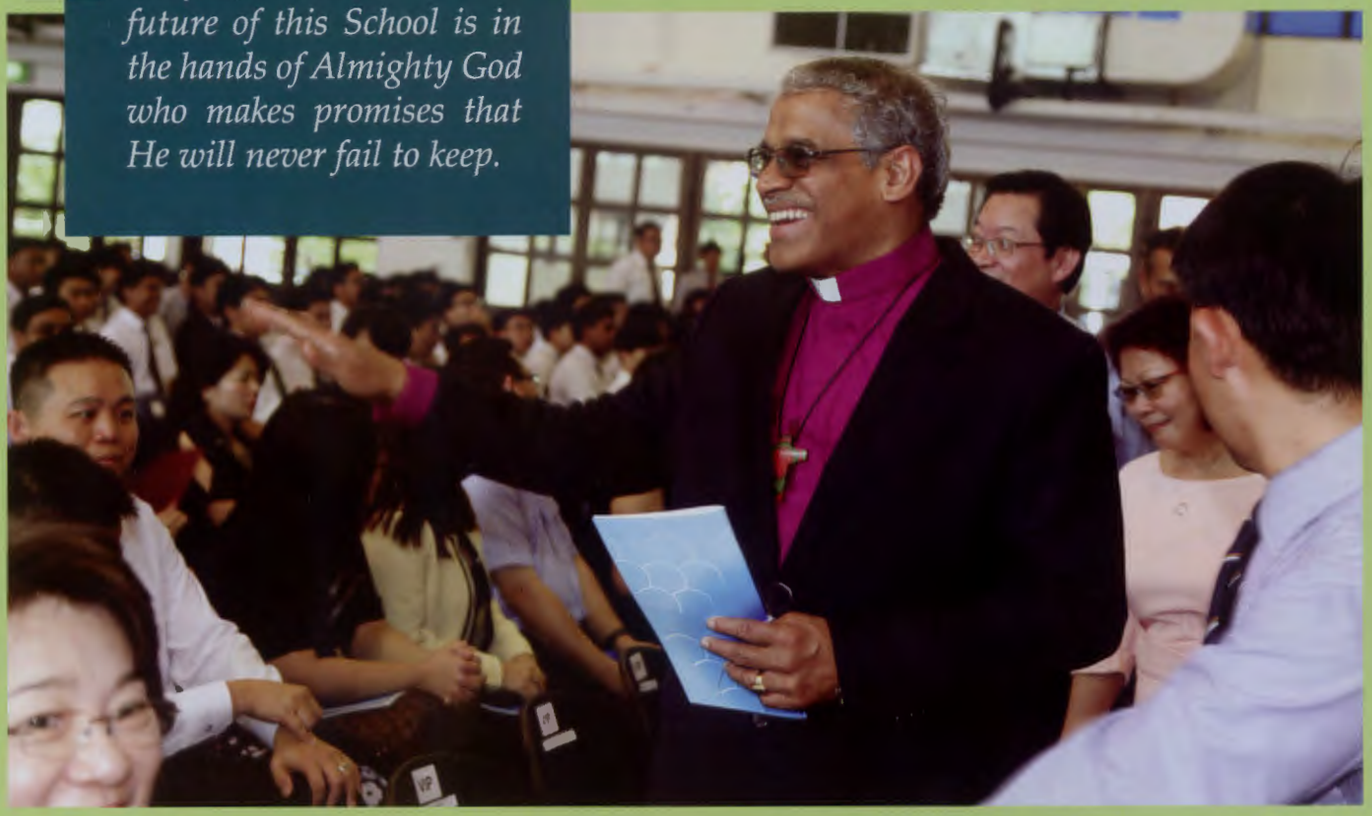

I. WE ARE VALUE-DRIVEN

1. My dear friends, we are not success-driven (as the world defines 'success') but we are value-driven. Do not mistake me, we are not shying away from 'success' but we see success through God's eyes and we see 'success' as the fruit of practising good values.

2. So, we are not chasing success to impress everybody else; we are concentrating on building those values in our students that will bring 'good success' (Joshua 1:8-9) - success that brings life to others and builds up our own personhood.

3. That is why the Principals and Staff have spent considerable time to chisel out the values that shape our School. There are eight of them, contained in the acronym WISE (Wonder, Integrity, Self-Discipline, Excellence) and TRUE (Thanksgiving, Resilience, Unity, Empathy). Let me elaborate briefly on just two of them, one from each word.

The future of this School is not just in our hands. The future of this School is in the hands of Almighty God who makes promises that He will never fail to keep.

4. 'S' in WISE is for Self-Discipline.
a. A self-disciplined person is not over-run by his own passions, emotions and cravings. He has the self-control to keep them in check. He is able to even forgo his own rights for the sake of the larger good.
b. Such a person is not restless, driven about here and there by conflicting fears or ambitions. His heart and mind are well-ordered and ready for service.
c. Self-discipline at its best leads to SACRIFICE. A self-disciplined person is able to deny his own rights for the sake of promoting the well-being of others. This School was built and has grown over these 150 years because there have been people in every generation to make sacrifices for this community to thrive. They are there among this present batch of principals and teachers and Board members and alumni. And they were there from the very beginning. I was humbled to learn that an early headmaster of the School served without salary for six months. That is the kind of SACRIFICE emerging from self-discipline that will carry us forward into the future whatever the circumstances.

5. 'R' in TRUE is for Resilience.
a. This is the quality associated with endurance through hard times and the strength to bounce back after failure or defeat.
b. By cultivating this value, we free our students from the fear of failure and we enable them to face life knowing that 'they may be struck down and yet not crushed' and that with God's help, they can overcome their failures or their daunting circumstances and become even stronger.
c. So, Resilence leads to COURAGE in facing an unknown future.

6. Such values as SELF-DISCIPLINE and RESILIENCE are passed on to us by our forebears. They are modelled by our teachers and our parents and they are sustained by our peers.

7. In St Andrew's Village, we have the prospect of developing these values over 14 years of our children's lives - values that will enable them to be victors in life and to bring life to their respective nation.

II. WE PURSUE EXCELLENCE

1. Excellence is the 'E' in the acronym WISE. We have been reminded again by our Prime Minister in his National Day Rally speech that 'excellence' is not single-dimensional. There are many mountains of excellence to scale.

2. I thought about St Andrew's School. What is our distinctive mark in pursuing excellence? I believe it is this: We are to pursue an EXCELLENT MIX of three qualities: CHARACTER, COMPETENCE and CARE FOR THE COMMUNITY.

3. The 'clue' that it is the Mix that is the distinctive we are to pursue is in the Sustained Achievement Awards we have been winning year in and year out. They cover practically the whole field of education: Sustained Achievement Award in Sports, Uniformed Groups, Value-Added Academic Results, Aesthetics plus Character Development Award. St Andrew's School is marked by holistic development of the person, whatever your personal or family background. We give you an excellent all-round education, marked by these three C's: CHARACTER, COMPETENCE, CARE FOR THE COMMUNITY.

4. CHARACTER is the formation of life-long values in a person. I have covered the VALUES earlier, so I need not say more.

5. COMPETENCE refers to ability in knowledge and skills, including life-skills to handle life and relationships with people. When a child enrols in St Andrew's, his vocation is to be a student. So it is right that the energy and effort of the staff is to develop him to his full potential in acquiring knowledge and skills, together with instilling in him a desire to keep on learning in life.

6. We will do our best for our students to excel in COMPETENCE, in CHARACTER, and also in CARE FOR THE COMMUNITY.

7. Against the tide of the day, we want our students to learn the priority of COMMUNITY over the individual. That is to say, to find their personal happiness by contributing to the larger good.

8. Perhaps I can illustrate how this happens at our School. At St Andrew's, there is a longstanding tradition of big brothers helping younger brothers. Of course, the obvious place for this has always been your CCAs. Band seniors helping band juniors. Rugby seniors helping rugby juniors. This must continue. I understand that in the last three years, there has been a team of boys who wake up early and go over to SAJS to read with their little brothers to help them in English, Chinese and Tamil. In fact, their help has been so significant that the boys' reading has improved and their marks have improved. Not only have the little boys benefited, the bigger boys have benefited too. And I am not just referring to the MacDonald's breakfast so generously sponsored by SAJS parents. Of course, that is a really important benefit! Beyond these tangibles, so many intangibles are gained. There is the intangible of new knowledge. Knowing how to motivate, knowing how to guide, knowing how to reach because now you have done it. I am told teachers benefit too as the boys have come to them to tell them they now understand that a teacher's job is really difficult! And by giving of their time and effort, these boys are helping to make other boys into givers also. The young lads who have received will go on to give in the same and different ways when they are older. It is a positive ripple all round.

This 'Care for the Community' is embodied in the Leadership of this School. It will not surprise you that a stalwart of our School Board, Mr Tan Soo Kiang and our former Chairman, Bishop John Chew both won National Day awards this year for their distinguished service to the community.

9. It is this pursuit of an integrated excellence that has led our Anglican Family of Schools to start up a Leadership Programme called ACTS – Anglican Character, Thinking and Service Leadership Academy – and we are proposing to have a special building in which to run the programme. It is code-named, 'The Building Across the River'!

Rev Ponniah receiving a memento from School Captain Jotham Teo

10. The PURSUIT OF EXCELLENCE, in our case an Excellent Mix - we would not give that up as we march into the future.

III. WE TRUST IN THE LORD

1. Our Theme for this year's Founder's Day is 'Still Holden by Thy hand' – which is a line taken from the School Hymn. It is a line which points us to God as the Unfailing One who preserves us as a Community and preserves our Destiny for us. It is His hand that holds us steady and moves us from one place of glory to the next.

2. We look back at the 150 years and we know that only God could have brought us to where we are today. Look, my friends at - a) The Gift of Land, b) The Gift of People, c) The Gift of God's Strength through the years.

3. In the Old Testament reading from Isaiah (41:1-13), the people of God are urged not to be intimidated by the might of militarily powerful nations around them. God assures them repeatedly: BE NOT AFRAID BECAUSE I AM WITH YOU ... TO STRENGTHEN YOU AND TO HELP YOU.

4. Interestingly, God says that this promise is for the descendants of "Abraham, My friend" (V8). How did Abraham become a friend of God? – By trusting God to do what only God can do. How can we become friends of God? The New Testament reading Romans 5:1-11 tells us – by trusting Jesus Christ whom God sent to die in our place, take away our sins and reconcile us to God.

5. The future of this School is not just in our hands. The future of this School is in the hands of Almighty God who makes promises that He will never fail to keep.

6. Listen again to His promise in Isaiah 41:13: "For I am the Lord your God, who takes hold of your right hand and says to you, 'Do not fear, I will help you'."

7. Abraham, when he started out on his journey, did not know where his journey would take him. But he believed God and stepped out in faith to "be a blessing to the nation".

8. We too do not know what the future holds. But our history tells us and our School Song tells us, 'Still Holden by Thy hand'! Why don't we take hold of His hand and march with humility and courage into the future God has prepared for us?

To God our King and Saviour be all the glory. Amen.

SPEECH BY SCHOOL DUX

A very good afternoon to our Guest-of-Honour, members of the Board of Governors, principals, distinguished guests, teachers, and fellow Saints. I consider it to be a privilege to be standing here today, in the school's 151st year, to address you. It would not have been possible without the grace of God and the exemplary efforts of the teachers here.

For many of us, St Andrew's Secondary School will always be a place that remains close to our hearts wherever life may take us. I will always treasure the friendships made over my four years here and the wealth of knowledge gained.

One aspect of St Andrew's Secondary School which sets it apart is the unique environment that is omnipresent. It is one that is not only conducive for learning but also encourages the development of servant leaders through the impartation of a wealth of values into the life of every Saint. It allows every Saint to be nurtured to his fullest potential and to grow at his own pace. It is in this place that my life has been made and my heart awakened.

Co-curricular activities play a major role in the development of every Saint. The sheer passion and commitment of Saints and their teachers have enabled many of our CCAs to achieve excellence. More importantly, it is in the CCA that many important values such as WISE and TRUE are being imparted to Saints, to be men of wisdom and stature.

As a member of the Saints Choir, the values of perseverance, excellence, self-discipline and leadership have been bestowed on me during my four years here. I can firmly say that the Saints Choir was a key pillar supporting my journey in St Andrew's Secondary School. None of this would have been possible without the unwavering support and sheer dedication of Ms Deborah Gan as well as Ms Jacinta Leong and Ms Wong Li Min.

At the heart of every school lies its students. Every one of you seated here today forms the life and blood of the school. Never ever give up throughout your journey here. Always remember to learn from your mistakes, put in consistent effort and whenever you do need that extra spurt of motivation, just picture what you strive to achieve out of the 'O' or 'N' levels. Press on with all your might, and plume your wings for higher flight. With one heart, and one voice, I am sure all of you will achieve your success one day.

I find the St Andrew's Spirit legendary in its ability to bond pupils from all kinds of background regardless of their academic prowess. I have seen this most prominently displayed during the many rugby and hockey matches and I'm sure we will get to experience it again later during the singing of the school song. I still have fond memories of myself screaming my lungs out to support our fellow saints battling on the rugby field or hockey pitch. "One family unbroken", "Once a saint, always a saint" remain an integral part of the DNA of a Saint.

St Andrew's Secondary School organizes countless enriching activities for students to participate in and broaden their insights. I vividly remember the Animation workshops organized for us in lower secondary, the Debate Programme, Kite Flying@Marina Barrage and the Millennium Race competitions. My most memorable experience, however, was the 3SA overseas CIP trip to Chiang Mai, Thailand in 2011. Spending two nights in a rural village without any electricity helped me appreciate the high standards of living we have in Singapore. Furthermore, we were able to give back to the locals through sprucing up their local school. 3SA became a more united class as a result; even more so during a 3-hour hike into the village.

The American author William Arthur Ward once said: "The mediocre teacher tells. The good teacher explains. The superior teacher demonstrates. The great teacher inspires." At St Andrew's Secondary School, such teachers are never in short supply. On behalf of the rest of the class of 2012, I would like to thank every one of you teachers for going the extra mile in whatever you do, whether it is to stay back late for consultation sessions with us or to mark our assignments. I am sure that many of us would say that your hard work and dedication has paid off as it has brought us success.

At this juncture, on behalf of 4SA, I would like to thank the many teachers who have played a role in our development.

Ms Jacinta Leong, who was my form teacher for two years, for motivating every one of us in 4SA to strive for excellence in everything we do, for fostering an unbreakable class spirit which stands to this day through the many birthday celebrations and class meals and for taking time out every Saturday to organise Chemistry lessons for us. On behalf of 4SA of 2012, thank you.

Next, I would like to thank Mrs Daphne Ang who has fueled my passion for Geography and whose lessons never fail to be enjoyable.

To Mr Lam Wai Leong, whose style of teaching made us look forward to his Social Studies and History lessons and whose important advice has greatly aided us in our memory work.

To Mr Koh Yong Mong, I believe that many of us would like to thank you for the many helpful comments you gave with regards to the countless source-based practices.

To Mrs Yeo Yuen Chin for making otherwise complex and hard-to-remember Chemistry concepts seem as straightforward as child's play. You have literally inspired generations.

To Mr Tan Yan Ho, we would like to thank you for always going the extra mile to ensure that all of us in 4SA would achieve our maximum potential in the English Language. We have indeed done you proud with our results.

To Mrs Low Geok Peng, we would like to thank you for enriching us with extremely useful exam skills and for making every Physics lesson an engaging and interactive one.

To Madam Ng Yuet Mei, whose ingenious and meticulously structured Chinese lessons led us to achieve beyond what we thought possible in the Chinese Language. I will always remember her for her perseverance in helping every one of us, regardless of how bad we were in Chinese, to achieve beyond our desired result. For example, she came to school at 6.50am every day for a month to give one-on-one practice for those of us struggling with our Oral components!

Lastly, I would also like to thank Mrs Jennifer Yew who was my form teacher in Secondary 1 and 2 for playing a major role in my journey through my lower secondary years.

There are many other teachers who have played a role in my 4-year journey at St Andrew's Secondary School, and I express my heartfelt apologies for not being able to thank every one of you here. You are very much treasured nonetheless.

Having been part of the Saints family for eleven years and counting, I would like to end by reminding us of the familiar phrase that greets us at the entrance of St Andrew's Junior College, "No one is here by chance". Definitely we are here for a reason that we should be able to determine at the end of our time here.

Up and On!

LET'S RACE OUR OWN CARS!

Reported by Ethan Ashwin Antoni & Glenn Lee Yong Kang [both 1A], with photographs provided by Saints Photography Club.

Our annual Saints Millennium Race was a really successful event - the hall was bustling with much activity! For the first time ever, the three media coverage groups (Saints TV, Saints Photography Club & Village Online) got together to cover this event and found it a really enriching experience to work together. The boys delivered excellent works which required minimal editing.

A segment of the Saints Millennium Race had a Parent-Son Challenge for parents to team up with their sons in making another model car in school. A total of 24 parent-son teams participated in this segment. It was heartening to see our students and their parents working in teams to build their cars.

St Andrew's Alumni (SAA) sponsored door gifts for the parents.

It's that time of the year again!

You could feel the tingles of excitement with a hint of tension in the air. And no, it was not because it was the period just after recess, but because it was the annual Saints Millennium Race organised by the Aesthetics and Design Department! Students were streaming into the hall, getting ready for the race. Their eager faces were shining with anticipation as they prepared their cars.

The students created their cars during their Design and Technology (D&T) lessons and they were judged on the design of their cars as well as how far they could go.

"My inspiration stemmed from Minecraft – I love Minecraft so my car is like a Dropship. Also, these wheels serve as bumpers so that the car will roll off and not get stuck against the wall should it come to that," shared Matthew Tjong from 1E.

"I'm kind of nervous but I hope to do well. My car started out badly but I just kept improving on it," said Musa Noor from 1A.

The race started off with students screaming their hearts out and cheering for their friends. As the racers made their way to the starting line, the tension on the makers' faces could be seen a mile away.

Matthew Tjong being interviewed for Saints TV

"Ready, get set, BEEP!" and the cars took off at incredible speeds! Some cars did not travel as far as others and disappointment could be seen all over their owners' faces. Some even threw up their hands in despair. Eventually, the winner-to-be emerged from the vast crowd, raced and claimed his rightful place on the pedestal.

"I had no inspiration. I just came up with the car's design as I built it. I guess the power of the car didn't come from the design but from the propeller. I'm extremely surprised and shocked that I finished in first place," said Golena John Emanuel Quinones from 1A, winner of the Secondary 1 category.

The Secondary 2 students arrived slightly after 12p.m. and started to make preparations for their Special Mission Motorized Vehicles category in which they were judged for speed. The atmosphere created by the Secondary 2s was quite different from that of the Secondary 1s. There was hardly any tension; instead, there was more cheer and they were not very nervous, probably because this was their second year racing.

The Secondary 2 students' cars were like speeding beasts tearing down the track, leaving a trail of smoke behind them. They had more creative ideas and their cars were crafted better as they had more experience.

Soon, the race for the Secondary 2s was over and the competitors for the Parents & Sons' race were greeted with a warm round of applause. The Parents & Sons' race was different from the other two categories in the sense that this category was more for parents to bond with their sons.

"I'm very happy to be in this race as it allows me to have fun with my son in school." said one of the fathers.

"Yes, it is very fun to have my dad around as we built the car together and it was good to race it together," said Andrew Chen.

Finally, after a long, nail-biting wait, it was time for prize presentation. As each winner went onto the stage, both the Secondary 1 and 2 students let out a thunderous applause.

The 2013 Saints Millennium race was truly a memorable race. The design and speed of the cars was out of this world and the racers' enthusiasm was like no other. There is no doubt that it will be an event the Lower Secondary students will remember even after they graduate from the school.

SOUTH ZONE MILLENNIUM CHALLENGE 2013

This annual event is organized by the South Zone COE for Design. It was held on 23rd May and is in its 14th run. The Nanyang Polytechnic also participated actively in this event by putting up an exhibition on Design and Engineering. They provided interesting fringe activities for the zealous participants.

To add to the excitement, a new category called a Bridge Building Challenge was introduced this year. Besides making model vehicles which can travel at exhilarating speeds, participants also use their creativity to make model bridges which can withstand loads of several kilograms.

National Day: DIKIR BARAT PERFORMANCE

Eleven of our Malay students participated in the NDP Dikir Barat performance. Read what one participant had to say about it.

I am privileged to have participated in the NDP Dikir Barat, a Malay cultural performance. As a non-Malay, I feel that this event shows the multi-racial aspect of our country. It was fun yet nerve-wrecking during the preview performances, but performing before 25,000 spectators on the actual day made me even more anxious and excited! However, I am proud that with this little contribution, I have helped to make this year's NDP a success. Another experience I will never forget was when we had the opportunity to meet and take pictures with the LionsXII. Through this journey, I have learnt to respect other cultures and beliefs and made new friends from other schools.

I would encourage my fellow Saints to take part in future events when the opportunity arises.

KEEPING THE BOXING SPIRIT ALIVE!

Reported by Bryant Yuen & Melvinder Singh [both 3SA], with photographs provided by Saints Photography Club.

Our National Day celebrations had a special Boxing Clinic where alumnus Mr Yee Teck Peng shared the rich tradition of boxing in SASS and Coach Khadir demonstrated the moves.

"As old boys having been out in the working world, having studied, having travelled, the lessons that we all drew, boxers and non-boxers alike, was keeping our chin up when you are getting beatings and carrying on fighting. At the end of the day, it is the fighting spirit and the will to do the right thing despite the circumstances thrown at you. That was something we all could identify with."

– old boy Mr Vincent Tan

Boxing, as a sport, has graced the halls of St Andrew's School for most of its years. Just ask any old boy and they will be sure to reminisce over the time they witnessed that "unforgettable match" or that "killer knock-out" during their national celebrations in school.

A tradition that many Saints, past and present, feel a sense of pride towards, boxing has served as the main highlight of the National Day celebrations in our school. As the only school in Singapore with boxing as a CCA, the appreciation for the sport is shared by all Saints.

This year's National Day celebrations included a special commemoration to the tradition: a Boxing Clinic, aimed at inculcating in Saints an appreciation for the sport and also to show them the ropes of boxing, was organised.

Mr Yee sharing the history of the tradition

The Boxing Clinic included a sharing by an old boy with much enthusiasm for the sport – our regular alumnus Mr Yee Teck Peng. Mr Yee gave the Saints an overview of the history of the sport and how it has been preserved as a tradition and still plays a critical role in forging the identity of St Andrew's.

"We started boxing in the early 1930s," Mr Yee recalled proudly. Speaking of his interpretation of the sport, he added, "First of all, boxing is a tremendously good game and it teaches students to control their temper, to take punishment, as in a punch, and not retaliate wildly."

His sharing was also accompanied by a variety of boxing demonstrations, covering moves from basic punches to slightly more challenging moves like a knock-up. The coach of the Saints boxing team, Mr Khadir, gave the students an in-depth breakdown of the steps involved in throwing punches and a step-by-step walk-through of the process in the ring.

Volunteers, who went up on stage to try their hand at the boxing pads, found it an interesting and unique experience to be involved and engaged. Joseph Daniel (1J2) enthusiastically volunteered to be a part of a demonstration, and he described the opportunity as unique and fun.

"It was good as he taught us how to stand properly and throw the correct punches, " he said.

Taking a swing at the pads!

Gloves on and ready to go!

Among the many reasons for the sport being an integral part of the school's identity is the lessons and values it imparts to Saints.

"Patience, self-control and I suppose generally, character building," said Mr Yee, when asked what he thought students can learn through the sport.

Mr Yee also believes that boxing requires one to have discipline: "Patience, confidence and self-control are very important," he asserted.

Another unique feature of the National Day celebrations is that they are not only meant for Saints of the current generation to enjoy, but also old boys who return each year to be part of the experience. Mr Wai Chin Peng, who was present at the Boxing Clinic, observed that the Clinic also served as a means to offer a new perspective of the sport for Saints.

"Boxing is like any other contact sport, where besides being physically fit, you must be mentally fit as well, to think on your feet about how to counter your opponent. This will allow you to develop into a better person as you put in what you take away into your school, work or personal life," he said.

"As old boys who have been out in the working world, having studied, having travelled, the lessons that we all drew, boxers and non-boxers alike, was to keep our chin up whenever you are thrashed and to carry on fighting. At the end of the day, it is the fighting spirit and the will to do the right thing despite the circumstances thrown at you. That was something we all could identify with," added fellow old boy, Mr Vincent Tan.

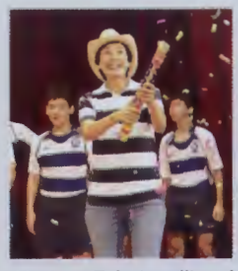

Having shared their views, Mr Tan and Mr Wai both agreed that the Boxing Clinic was beneficial and worthwhile for all Saints. Much effort was also contributed on the part of numerous old boys in order for the clinic to be a success.

O WHEN THE SAINTS GO MUNCHING IN...

Reported by Maximilian Wegener, Kiran Kumar and Jordan Chow [all from 1A], with photographs provided by Saints Photography Club.

Cotton candy, hot dogs buns, packets of Indian briyani for recess? Now, that's certainly a treat!

You could feel the tingles of happiness in the air. And no, it was not because it was a longer recess but because of the food that was going to be at the fair!

Mrs Lucy Toh signalling the start of the fun fair by popping confetti

On the 30th of May, St Andrew's Secondary held a grand food fair in the school, organised by ever-supportive parents of the boys. The food fair was held at various places with the hall being the main venue, the courtyard as a place for games as well as the Big Steps where an Old Chang Kee van was parked.

How on earth did the wonderful parents of our Saints pull together such an event? We interviewed a parent volunteer and found out some details.

"We are all in a Whatsapp group where we discussed details about the funfair. We organised and planned with the catering companies as well as designed the banners. Some parents gave their own money to buy the food and decorated the stores beautifully. We have been here since yesterday setting up the stalls. It's a very meaningful activity," shared one of the parent volunteers.

The hall was the main venue of the event with stalls set up at the sides. It was bustling with students and the stalls were decorated with balloons and colourful banners. At the same time, some of the students did beat-boxing, singing and other activities to keep the place vibrant. A dazzling performance by the Saints Rugby team also caught everybody's attention.

After a nail-biting wait, students finally had the chance to taste the food after battling the long queues everywhere.

Our gungho parent volunteers

"Yay! Finally! I'm starving!"

No fair is ever complete without ice-cream!

The hot dog booth was the most popular stall for many students love the taste of hot dogs. With popular food, prices would tend to be slightly higher than the rest.

"'I find the price a bit too high – they should lower the price for the next fun fair," one Secondary 1 student commented.

Some unanimously agreed that the nasi briyani was as good as the hotdogs.

"The briyani is great,especially the tender parts of the chicken!" shared Raenon from 1J1.

Even teachers agreed that they had relished the food fair. "It's a nice way to end the term; the students were all relaxed in groups. This funfair was a good idea," said Ms Deborah Gan.

The upper secondary boys arrived slightly after 11.30am. The atmosphere created by them was a far cry from the one created by the younger boys. The whole place seemed to be reverberating with exhilaration, as perhaps, this would probably be their last chance to enjoy themselves as a class before their national exams.

Upper secondary boys bonding at the fair

"The main objective of this food fair is to bring the parents together, make them feel more connected to the school because often the parents are not sure what their roles are as the students are quite independent. This is one way that they can feel like they are helping the students by giving them a great time and raising funds for the school. I am grateful for the parents." shared Mrs Toh.

"I enjoyed every minute of helping," said a parent volunteer. This food fair indeed gave the parents ample opportunities to play and be together with their sons. Many stated that this would not have been possible without the parents' efforts.

Aside from the glorious food, Saints also had fun with the game booths lined up for them!. Teachers, too, joined in the fun!

"It's good because it's a break from the hard work we put in for the mid-year," commented a student.

Many felt that the funfair should have lasted the whole day.

"It's too short as there are many stalls and an hour isn't enough time to try food from all of them," lamented a young Saint.

This food fair has been truly memorable. The Saints hope that they will be able to participate in more of such fairs in the coming years!

Once again, thank you so much, parents!

All in the name of pure fun and a smashing good time with friends!

Ready, aim, fire!

"What did I sign myself up for?!!"

PAYING IT FORWARD

Reported by Melvinder Singh and Bryant Yuen [both 3SA]

Mr D Chew, 36, an old boy of St Andrew's Secondary School from the class of 1992, believes it is necessary for us to remember the source of our achievements and feels it is important to give back to society.

He has donated a generous sum to help less well-off students pursue their dreams in sports. Having played water-polo for the school in his younger days, Mr Chew knows first-hand the benefits of sports and wishes for needy boys in the school to be able to participate in sports without having to worry too much about the costs.

We conducted an online interview with Mr Chew and realised his deeds and inspiring words make him a true Saint.

1. What are some of the most memorable experiences you had as a student in St Andrew's and how has attending St Andrew's helped shape you into who you are today?
St Andrew's has given me many opportunities and second chances. Although my PSLE results were mediocre, I managed to enter SASS through affiliation (I was from the Junior School). But I did do well enough for the O-levels to get into a top junior college and eventually went to the UK's best engineering university on a government scholarship.

2. Are there any teachers in particular who have made an impact in your life at St Andrew's?
Numerous. I can't name them all but these are just some of them:
My Chemistry teacher, Mrs Tan Wai Ngan, who was very patient and made me reflect upon my behaviour one day after class – that alone was one lesson that still remains with me even after 20 years have passed.

Mr Michael Lim, my Physics teacher, who shared not just the scientific theories but also his life experiences.

Ms Braema Mathi, who made us realise Literature is really a platform to better understand the human condition.

Mr Joseph Teo, my Sec1 Form Teacher, whose patience was truly bottomless.

3. What was the main reason behind your contribution to the school?
"Always celebrate!" was the advice one university professor had for us. Whether it was in school or in our professional lives, he wanted us to commemorate the completion or success of a project, lest the moment passed. He was afraid that if we did not derive joy from our work, it would end up weighing us down and depleting our drive.

So when I reached a personal milestone, I was searching for something to mark it. I thought that doing something for others may be more meaningful. Hence, I decided to donate a modest sum of money to a cause. Having spent some of the best years of my life in St Andrew's, it struck me that perhaps the small sum can go towards helping the more needy among the students there.

After discussing with Mrs Lucy Toh, the school principal, we settled on an idea for a $10,000 donation to be used over 5 years, to help 10 needy boys each year buy sports equipment such as shoes or rackets, for a sport that they wish to participate in.

It would be rather tragic if a boy was denied the opportunity to play a sport just because he and his family could not afford it. We have so much we can learn, foster and experience through sports, such as sportsmanship, leadership, camaraderie, perseverance, determination, friendship and focus, in addition to developing our physical abilities.

I would like to name the award the Chew Kwee Teck Memorial Award, as a tribute to my late father, whom I believe will be happy to see a good deed done on his behalf.

4. Why do you think it's important for us as Saints to give back to the school?
I think people in general need to give back, not just to school but to society, to help those less fortunate, simply because we need to help one another. For those who have more, why not extend a helping hand to give the less-fortunate a boost to help them also fulfil their potential.

Specifically for St Andrew's, 飲水思源 (yin2 shui3 si1 yuan2) is part of the reason why. It means, when you drink the water, think about its source. I owe a debt of gratitude to St Andrew's for all that it has given me, and that made me want to do something for the school.

5. How can Saints further contribute to the school after they graduate?
I think if possible, old boys should definitely consider sending their sons to the school, to maintain a strong bond with the school. They should also join the alumni if only just to keep the link alive.

The fact is [and this applies to giving to the school or any other cause], each can contribute in his own way, and to whatever extent he feels he can bear. We don't need to be billionaires to contribute some money or time.

6. How do Saints stand out from the current generation of youths in general? What are the similarities and differences we have compared to Saints during your time?
I have no idea how the students are today, but I think one thing that will always remain similar among generations of people is this: we are all seeking a meaningful existence and a good life (good in all its manifestations, not just, and much much more than, mere material well-being).

7. What is the message you would like to pass on to the younger generations of Saints?
Learn as much as you can.
While it seems some things you are taught now are not immediately useful, what you learn at this young age is only basic knowledge – what any educated person should know. Trigonometry or Shakespeare, it might not seem apparent what it is good for, or how it might apply in a future job, but these are only basic things that lay a foundation for future learning.

Try to develop a love for learning (by this, I mean both formal learning, for example, in a school or a course, and also informal learning, for example, learning from others), and it will yield its own rewards. Since our minds are our greatest tool, we should seek to refine it in our quest for a meaningful existence and a good life.

We are indeed privileged to have a old boy like Mr Chew, who has made a monetary contribution for our needy boys and reminded us that learning never ends, with no 'final destination'. It definitely does not stop after 4 or 5 years of secondary school since learning is a lifelong process. Up and On!

AWAY WITH THE BOOKS... LET'S FLY KITES!

Reported by Quinston Lee and Anthony Tsui, assisted by Melvinder Singh and Nigel Chua[all from 3SA], with photographs provided by Saints Photography Club.

Our 3 Express and 3J4 boys headed to the Marina Barrage on May 29 for a kite-flying activity from 08.00am to 12.00pm. Into its third year, this is a partnership between the English and Science Department as the 3E Science teachers incorporated Science concepts from kite-flying into their curriculum. For this year's programme, various character building aspects were built in as the boys learnt to work together, resolve conflicts, and explore various themes such as respect, responsibility, and discrimination in a drama project. The kite-flying portion of the project would teach them the importance of balance: if they pulled too hard, the string would snap and if they did not, the kite would not soar. D&T and Art teachers also helped some of the boys in the construction and design of their kites.

Look how high the kite has gone!

Testing the wind

"In this modern Singaporean environment, most boys don't have the chance to fly kites in their daily lives." – Mr Vincent Lai, teacher in-charge of the Shine On programme

As part of the Secondary 3 post-examination activities curriculum, the Shine On programme has been a signature event for our Secondary 3 Saints since nearly three years ago.

This kite-flying event is a means to provide a holistic education, incorporating different subjects into one activity. The making of the kite incorporates skills that the Secondary Three boys have learned from Design and Technology (D & T) and Physics lessons.

"You can actually fly a kite with less difficulty if you understand the laws of Physics. You would be able to send the kite all the way up in the air and keep it there," said Mr Michael Lim when asked how learning the theory of aerodynamics helps students understand the principles of kite-flying better.

Aside from D & T and Physics, English and Art are also part of this inter-disciplinary programme. Application of the techniques Saints have learnt from Art enable them to design the kite and reading the novel, "The Kite Runner", allows the students to have a background of kite-making.

An atmosphere of fervent excitement surrounded the Secondary 3 Saints on the windy morning of May 29 as they eagerly awaited the opportunity to send their colourful array of kites soaring into the sky. Dressed in their iconic Number 2s – a name for the striped polo shirts Saints wear when they go for outdoor events – Saints were scattered all over the Marina Barrage in their fit of joy.

"I'm a big fan of unstructured playtime. Through this event, students are allowed to move around freely and interact with one another," said Mr Vincent Lai, teacher in-charge of the programme.

The enthusiasm of the Saints filled the Marina Barrage as they eagerly took out their kites to showcase to their friends the creativity and effort that they have put into making their kites.

"I am truly happy about the co-operation between me and my group members because we managed to create and design a kite that was both visually appealing and able to soar in the air," said Craig Justin Tan from 3SB.

When asked how he felt about the entire event, Mr Vincent Lai replied, "I'm very touched; I'm very happy with the response."

The Shine On programme has once again been successful thanks to the team work of the various teachers from different departments coming together to show the Saints that it is through the application of knowledge that one demonstrates true learning.

Through today's event, what the Saints have experienced is that while subjects learned may be seen as separate entities, the fact of the matter is that they are often interlinked. The value of a holistic education can be found through play and this is what makes St Andrew's Secondary a school that stands out.

LET THE GAMES BEGIN!

Sports Day was a wonderful end to Term 2, all thanks to Mr Jimmy Koh and the PE Department who organized this annual event!

Runners eagerly awaiting the start of their events

There was sensational energy in the air as Saints jumped out of their seats to cheer on their friends as they dashed past the spectators in an attempt to make the most out of the final seconds of the races.

The morning of 31st of May saw a brilliant start and wonderful finish to the first semester with another successful hosting of the secondary school's Annual Track and Field Championships.

The event which consisted of a variety of individual races ranging from the lower secondary link race, the 400 metre and 100 metre sprint, the interclass and CCA races and of course the staff race, got off on an early start.

Saints donned their house T-shirts in support of their houses and the excitement in their voices was sensed long before the start of the events, as they gathered at the bleachers at SAJC.

As the races kicked off with the Secondary 1s participating in the Link Race for the very first time, Saints screamed their heads off and cheered their hearts out. Everything came together to create an invigorating environment.

"Everyone has been really supportive of all the participants; they are all cheering loudly. The atmosphere today has really been a spectacular one; everyone is in a good mood and they are all enjoying themselves. You can really sense the excitement in the air," commented Craig Justin Tan from 3SB.

"Sports Day is a chance for us to display our talents and come together as a school for a day of fun and excitement. I think today's event really managed to capture that idea," he added.

As the event progressed throughout the morning, the support from the spectators only grew.

Charge on together!

"I think it's pretty good; you can tell from the noise, especially when they see their friends running - they're quite vocal in their cheering," enthused Mr Gene Yeo.

"My idea of a good Sports Day is when everyone gets involved in the whole event. Of course we can't have everybody running together but everyone can still get involved by playing their part, be it by cheering for their friends or otherwise and I believe today's Sports Day succeeded in achieving that," wise words from Ashiq Noor Imran of 3S1. It is no doubt that such a positive response contributed to the confidence of the runners.

The support that the runners received from their supporters is a means through which Saints proudly showcase their unbreakable ties of brotherhood and friendship.

In agreement, Mr Vincent Lai also pointed out how it helps foster friendship among brother Saints.

"Essentially it's their friends - they will support their friends. And it's a good thing because it builds camaraderie between students; it is promoting, I would say, teamwork as well as the relationship between themselves."

We also asked him how he felt about the staff race in which he was participating. "I'm going to win it! I've not won for the last two years. First year, I got silver. Last year I didn't win at all," he professed.

An event many keep a lookout for - staff race - is a chance for students to see their teachers on the track for a change. Although Mr Vincent Lai did not manage to clinch his desired trophy, he is contented with his team's performance.

"Well, some things are not meant to be. I commend my teammates; they tried their best, I tried my best."

The runners also displayed great effort on their part during the races. All of them could be seen giving their all and pushing through with an almost unbreakable determination.

"It was the support from my class that enabled me to achieve it. What really kept me going was the fact that I wanted to do my class proud. Before the race, I was feeling a little nervous but the cheers from my fellow classmates restored my confidence and focus. This is definitely a day for me to remember and I just hope next year will be just as special." So proclaimed Nigel Chua, 2nd runner-up in the 1500m 'B' Division event.

Those heartfelt words of 3rd place medal winner for the 1500m 'B' Division event, Nigel Chua of class 3SA, is only further proof of the unique bond between saints.

Winning is not everything, but rather it is the experience and effort put in which truly equate to happiness. When asked if he had any message to pass on to the participants, here's what Quinston Lee from 3SA had to say:

"I want them to know that we all saw every one of them put in a hundred percent and show fierce determination today. I admire the effort put in by the runners and I must say they did a really good job, regardless of whether they won or not. I wish them all better luck next time around."

Let us also not forget the people that made this event possible. Being a key member of the organizing team for this year's Sports Day, Mr Jimmy Koh told us a little insight to the challenges encountered in organizing the event."There weren't many issues because the teachers and student helpers involved were able to respond quickly when there were any issues."

He also mentioned that the co-ordination involved was a little tricky but reiterated that it was nothing that could not be worked out.

Overall, almost everyone felt that it was a successful Sports Day and many Saints felt that it was a great event that served as a fun way to end off the term.

"Sports Day gives us a chance to get out of the classroom and do something fun and interesting as a school," said prefect Aaron Seah.

"I really like Sports Day and it's something I look forward to each year. I really enjoyed myself this year and I hope next year will be just as fun." added Ashiq on a final note.

SINGAPORE STUDENT PHOTOGRAPHY CONFERENCE 2013

The Singapore Student Photography Conference held on 22nd March 2013 had 217 student participants gathering at Paya Lebar Methodist Girls' School (Secondary) to share their Photography knowledge. 22 workshops were conducted by 100 student trainers from eleven schools.

We were honoured to have Ms Chua Ai Liang, Director of NAC (Arts Engagement), grace the event. Feedback from participants was encouraging. We were also proud to have our very own Shintaro Tay (Class of 2012) as the student speaker who shared about his journey as a student photographer.

APPAREL SHOP Advertisement

We have rented out the small shop space (next to the Physio clinic) for the sale of sports apparel and related merchandise that will benefit the Village where Sports is the lifeblood here. There is a wide array of merchandise made available and the operating hours are from Mon to Fri, 11am to 4pm. Do pay the shop a visit and buy something if you find anything suitable. We are hoping that the business will be sustainable so we can generate a stream of rental income and also enjoy the convenience of buying sports stuff right in our village!

COMBINED BEGINNING OF TERM SERVICE FOR SAJS & SASS

Venue: The School Field

I arrived in school about 7.10am. Joined the VIPs - members of the Board of Governors, St Andrew's Alumni, St Andrew's PTA, Principals and Vice-Principals, etc - for a cup of coffee in the conference room and then it was off to take photos.

The boys had already begun to march to the field. Thank goodness for the artificial turf. Can't imagine what it would be if it were the old grass field which could get very wet and muddy!

At about 7.45am, the VIPs emerged and congregated at the LINK WAY.

The Boys' Brigade Officer called for attention.

We sang the National Anthem and recited the National Pledge followed by prayers for the schools by Rev Michael Teh, chaplain of SASS and Canon Ong Chooi Seng, chaplain of SAJS.

Then the Principals - Mrs Wong Bin Eng of SAJS, Mrs Lucy Toh of SASS and Mrs Lee Bee Yann of SAJC - led in the singing of The Beginning of School Term Hymn followed by the School Hymn. It was jolly good singing.

The Bishop, the Rt Rev Rennis Ponniah, then delivered his devotion.

Mr Gerald Lim, Supervisor of SAJS spoke of the TRADITION of the CROSSING OVER.

It began in 1940 in St Andrew's School, Woodsville, now the Diocesan Centre.

In the centre of the old building is a rectangular QUADRANGLE. The block next to the PIE was the JUNIOR school and the opposite block, next to the Church of the Ascension, was the SENIOR school.

Std 5 boys, now known as Primary 6, would line up outside the corridor and at a signal by Archdeacon GRAHAM WHITE, they would run across the ADAMS QUAD to the SENIOR school and be warmly welcomed by the SENIOR BOYS. Almost without fail, one or two boys, every year, for some reason or other, would fall down.

And the 'Tradition' continues.

This year, a boy was 'left' behind. He was three quarters into his run when the rest of his school mates 'crossed' over. He was a wee bit on the heavy side.

Then a wonderful and beautiful thing happened.

A school mate who had completed his run, ran to him, accompanied him and together they 'crossed over' to the senior school!

Such a beautiful act! Under such circumstances, the boy was able to have the presence of mind to perform this kind deed!

While the Bishop delivered his DEVOTION, the heavens sent down its showers(drizzle) of blessing.

The gathering of parents, grandparents and others then adjourned to the SASS hall for a 'getting-to-know-you-better' makan.

It was a lovely and very meaningful and enjoyable day, especially for the 2012 P6 boys and those who had witnessed this grand tradition.

HUMANITIES LEARNING FESTIVAL 2013

On 29 May, nine schools and over a hundred teachers and students joined us at SASS for our 2013 Humanities Learning Festival. Students and teachers came together to debate, perform and host discussions on the social issues of our time in the Humanities. The Festival explored the theme of 'Singapore's Obsessions' through debates, performances and discussions to showcase the breadth and diversity of social issues in the humanities.

Highlights included a series of debates between our boys and several other schools. Two teams from the St Andrew's Debate Society strove bravely against teams from Anglican High and Manjusri Secondary School. Besides emerging victorious against the latter schools, our school debaters argued their cases with needle-sharp wit and cool-headed competency in their subject matter. Our Secondary 1 boys also took part in inter-class debates as well as a debate against Anglican High. Despite an unfortunate loss to AHS, the Secondary 1s demonstrated keen intelligence and quick reflexes in arguing against one another. Saints were also able to observe and learn from the even faster-paced and more demanding debates in the second session between YJC, SAJC and ACJC. In all, the debates were a scintillating display of our Saints' quick thinking, hard-headed determination and astute argument.

Performances by our Secondary 3 boys received popular applause and proved so appealing that other secondary schools were keen to watch them as well. The performances brought alive the book The Kite Runner as our boys convincingly delivered their rendition of the characters' actions. Greenridge Secondary School subsequently performed their SYF drama piece to clamorous applause from the audience gathered in the Hall. The exciting drama performances at the Festival exemplified the diversity and creativity in the Humanities by animating the issues studied.

While their students were busy vying against one another, the teachers from all schools gathered to discuss the teaching of the Humanities in their schools. While the SASS Humanities Department partnered CPDD to host a focus group on innovative pedagogy, the Geography Unit led three other schools on a Geographical Investigation field trip along our own Kallang River. The sessions were punctuated with so many lively inquiries and such enjoyment that they overran to a longer time than expected.

As one student said, "I feel really proud of what St Andrew's can do." The Festival has been an enjoyable and meaningful celebration of the Humanities by communicating the value and impact of the subjects studied.

Look forward to our Humanities Learning Festival 2014!

Miss Denise Marie Fernandez (Humanities teacher)

Quotes	St Andrew's St John was formed in 1955. Since then, our Corps has been actively building up young saints, beyond our core activities such as first aid, foot drill and proficiency courses. We have also successfully built in them character and qualities such as leadership, integrity, discipline, respect and ruggedness. We have quite a few success stories from our old boys – how the CCA has been more than just an "after school" activity to them and how through the SASJ, they have learnt to give and to love much, to study and train hard, and to play even harder. The camaraderie they have built up lasts for years to come.

Leadership	A group of players were selected to undergo the Outdoor Experiential Learning Module-Programme @ Republic Polytechnic.
Reflections for the year:	This is the second year that our school has taken part in the 'C' Division tournament since we restarted the 'C' division and the boys have done relatively well for an inexperienced side. We look forward to 2014 as it will be our first time having a 'B' division team with players who have experienced taking part in the 'C' division. Exciting times are ahead as we embark on making football a bigger part of St Andrew's by increasing the number of training sessions to three times a week starting from Semester 2 in 2013. With more focus and intensive training, we are striving for success in the near future. We would also like to express our sincere thanks and gratitude to Mr Paul Tan who has been instrumental in guiding our 'C' Division team. We wish him all the best in his future endeavours.

Highlights:

There are 2 groups of swimmers in the CCA: Social and Competitive. The social swimmers practise once a week while the competitive swimmers practise at least twice a week.

We sent swimmers to compete in both the 'B' and 'C' division segments at the National Schools Swimming Championships in April. Two of our swimmers, Ian Michael (2B) and Laurence Sukarti (2B) performed well, reaching the finals of the 'C' division 100m Backstroke and 100m Breaststroke respectively. Both of them came in 6th position in their respective events. Our 'C' division relay team comprising Ian, Laurence, Louis (2B) and Charles (2C) also came in 7th position in both the 4X50m Freestyle and 4X50m Medley events.

Debate And Oratorical Society

Teachers-in-charge	1. Ms Denise Fernandez 2. Mr Kenneth Yeo (consultant)
Office-bearers	Captain: Kinnard Chen (4SA) Vice-Captain: Keenan Kuah (4SA) Best Speakers: 1. Ariel Koh (4SA) 2. Ashruff bin Ibrahim (4SA)
Activities	"By the very act of arguing, you awake reason; and once it is awake, who can foresee the result?" – C. S. Lewis The St Andrew's Debate & Oratorical Society has indeed seen the results of an exhilarating and fruitful year of argumentation. Debate Training Workshops Our school debaters have regularly participated in a variety of debate clinics and workshops across the island. Training includes coaching by debaters from the Singapore National Debate Team, as well as seminars with debate doyens John Baty and Sam Myat San.

Activities	SAJC-SASS Debate Mentorship Programme The Saint debate culture carries on, as our old boys and their friends from the SAJC Debate & Oratorical Society regularly return across the bridge to train our SASS debaters. This is not only illuminating for the debaters, but also heartwarming to see our old boys give back to the DOS as great role models of fully-fledged debaters. Temasek Junior College Under-16s Debate Invitationals 2013 The team persevered through a grueling full-day session of three non-stop debates. Despite an unfortunate loss to Raffles Institution, the debaters emerged victorious in the latter two rounds against Crescent Girls' School and Ngee Ann Secondary School. Friendly Debates The DOS regularly holds friendly debates with other schools to keep our skills sharp. We often host schools in our CCA venue, the school library. These friendlies enable our debaters to hone their skills against debaters from schools such as CHIJ Katong Convent and Xinmin Secondary School. Friendlies are also a great way for debaters to build their social skills and make friends within the debating community.

Activities	Singapore Secondary Schools Debating Championships 2013 All our prayers and efforts culminated in the annual SSSDCs. Despite starting strong, our rivals finally edged us out by a tragically thin margin. The experience brought the club even closer together, and we are eager to emerge as a stronger team in next year's Championships. In addition, SASS has been represented in the top 20 speakers for Division II for the third year running with our second speaker Ashruff coming in a respectable 14th. St Andrew's Junior School Pupils' Learning Festival 2013 Our Upper Secondary debaters put their skills to the test in the SAJS Pupils' Learning Festival. They ran several continuous debate workshops for several levels of the junior school students, teaching them the fundamentals of argument and encouraging them to try it out. Their efforts were met with unconditional approval from the junior school boys who enjoyed themselves tremendously.

Activities	St Andrew's Humanities Learning Festival 2013 The SASS DOS hosted the 2013 St Andrew's Humanities Learning Festival, with a total of 6 secondary schools and 3 junior colleges participating. Our debaters facilitated ten scintillating debates on motions such as population policy and wealth distribution. The club was represented in the debates against Anglican High and Manjusri Secondary School, winning the latter debate with confidence and flair. St Andrew's Village Debate Camp In late 2013, the SASS and SAJC DOS will be launching the inaugural SAV Debate Camp, a joint debate initiative by and for all boys within St Andrew's School. The camp is aimed at continuing the tradition of cultivating debaters as they progress from one school to another.
Quotable quote	Sean Tan, 3rd speaker in the competition team: "Colossians 4:6 says, 'Let your speech always be gracious, seasoned with salt, so that you may know how you ought to answer each person.' Amen!"

LIBRARY

Teachers-in-charge	1. Mr Liang Sea Fong (HoD Advisor) 2. Mr Tan Yan Ho (Snr Teacher) 3. Ms Kong Lai Ling 4. Mdm Gayatri Krishnan 5. Mdm Png Peck Tin
Office-bearers	Head Librarian: Alden Ng (4S1)
Activities	The Speak Well Programme Now into its fourth year, this was held in the Library for the Sec 3 students. Together with trainers from Julia Gabriel, the Secondary 3 students were given pointers and tips on how to speak, argue and convince their listeners – essentially how to debate! As in previous years, the programme culminated in an intra-class debate. Books Added This year, a total of 140 titles were ordered for the Library. Regrettably, this number falls short of the 180 books purchased last year and the 250 purchased the previous year. A quarter of the titles purchased were replacements for worn-out books. While the purchase of a second set of the more popular titles last year has led to a shorter waiting time among our students, their continued popularity among the students and the consistent wear-out rate has led to higher replacement costs.

Activities	Among the titles purchased for our students this year are classics like Baum's Wizard of Oz and other contemporary titles like the series Dr Who and the second series of The 39 Clues. As with the first set, this last is a series of books by different authors and has proven to be popular with our lower secondary boys who can often be seen rummaging the shelves to look for the different titles in the series. Other titles added to our collection include Derek Landry's Skulduggery Pleasant, Robert Muchmore's Henderson Boys and Cherub 2 and Alison Goodman's Dragoneye series. The recommendation to include the Dragoneye and Skulduggery series came from students and it is hoped such peer recommendations will prove to be an effective way of sourcing for titles that will be a hit with other students. Magazines and DVDs We would like to again thank the 4S1 Class of 76 for their continued generous donation towards the subscription of magazines to the Library which we know will continue to prove popular with our boys. We would like to also thank Mr Peter Tay (Pre-U Class of '76) for the generous donation of 150 books from his personal collection. Among the titles donated are Tom Clancy's NetForce, Ops Centre and the Mechwarrior series. We continue to see the expansion of the Library's DVD collection. We now have over 80 titles in our catalogue. Amongst the titles purchased for the Library in the first semester were the musicals The Phantom of the Opera, Les Miserables, Bond films Skyfall and Casino Royale, light-hearted comedy animations Hotel Transylvania and Wreck-it-Ralph and even more serious films like The King's Speech. With the slew of mega-hit blockbusters hitting the movie screens, we look forward to the inclusion of other popular hits like Thor 2, Iron Man 3 and Star Trek: Into Darkness once they hit the shelves.

Activities	Partnerships As in previous years, the Library was used to conduct the NRIC registration exercise in the 1st semester and the NHB student health check at the start of the 2nd Semester. We are happy to report that both exercises were carried out smoothly. The Library continues to be the 'home ground' for the School Debate Society during the National Julia Gabriel Debate Competition. Much effort went into preparing for the competition and the Library operating hours were extended till 9 pm for the exclusive use of the debaters. For the 3rd year running, the debate team has produced a ranked best speaker in the Division 2 competition. We would like to congratulate Ashruff B. Muhammed Ibrahim (4SA) on being the 14th best speaker during the Julia Gabriel debate series. In addition to the above, 15 lower secondary students participated in the NLB set up S.U.R.E. Club. The purpose of this programme was to equip our librarians with media literacy and enable them to become better librarians in their service to the School.
Hosting opportunities	We managed to play host to the following activities in the library: • The Julia Gabriel Debate Workshop (in conjunction with the English Department) • ICA NRIC registration exercise • HSA School Health Checkup • St Andrew's Humanities Festival Debates (in conjunction with the Humanities Department)

SAINTS FOR CHRIST

Teachers-in-charge: Mrs Daphne Ang & Mdm Chong Kin Yan
Chaplaincy staff: Pastor Aaron Ho

Saints For Christ (SFC) is a CCA that aims to provide students with a fellowship where they feel belonged to, a place where they can grow as Christians, and where they have opportunities to serve the school and fellow Saints.

With activities ranging from devotions, Bible studies, worship encounters (for example, Saints Ablaze is a quarterly gathering of Christians from St Andrew's Secondary School), outings, sports, games and camps, students have fun bonding with one another even as they are equipped to become mature Christians. The close bonds of friendship between students, teachers and pastoral staff is always a highlight in the CCA.

The theme of discipleship is the focus for the year, and SFC members will be journeying through a set of materials that teach what it means to be a disciple of Christ.

Perhaps the quality which is unique to SFC is that one need not possess extraordinary talents or skills to be part of the CCA. Rather, the diversity that comes from different students coming together in friendship and service is a joy to witness. In the coming years, the dream is that more students will be able to experience the love of God, the friendship of brothers, and the joy of service in this CCA known as SFC.

TANLYEWHATT animation lab

Last year, the boys tried out for their first ever shot at game creation in the SINGAPORE GAMES CREATION COMPETITION 2012 organised by Nanyang Polytechnic. Details were not available at press time then. Well, they managed to secure a respectable top 5-spot with a Merit Award! Not bad for first timers in this renowned island-wide secondary and tertiary schools competition. We are up again this year, so wish us luck while we do our best!

Oh, and we had a hand at doing 3D Avatars of some of our members. This is after intensive training with CraveFX's Mr Joshua Tan where we have been learning

Autodesk Maya!

Can you spot who's who over here? ▶ Digital haircut, glasses off...just about right for that uncanny resemblance, we think.

2013 also saw us tying up with OLD CHANG KEE Pte Ltd. Since their curry puffs have always been a favourite among our SWAT members, we got in touch with Mr William Lim, CEO of Old Chang Kee, an old boy, so that the company could help sponsor the SWAT T-shirts.

This was the draft...▶

..and that was how it looked on us. Thank you, Mr William Lim and Old Chang Kee!!

Proposed S.W.A.T. CCAT T-Shirt sponsored by Old Chang Kee Ltd.

We also got critically-acclaimed local comic artiste Troy Chin to do an 8-week storyboarding programme where some of our members tapped on his wealth of local and international experience.

On a typical training Tuesday, the boys are engaged in learning new knowledge that has been around in St Andrew's Secondary since 2008.

What's AWESOME though, is our audio-suite corner, which we had set up in the hope of doing scoring to picture.

After all, we all know the right music and sound will breathe some soul into our animation works. We hope our musically inclined students, SWAT members or otherwise, can benefit from this. We thank Mr Kevin Lune for the donated drumset and the family of the late Mr Tan Lye Whatt for the funding of this humble set-up.

Activities	With the merging of the Infocomm Club and the PA Club, we have adopted the name VIRUS. We are very proud to have come up with this new identity: V - Infocomm Club logo Innovative - Boys must be innovative in their projects/ entries in competitions. Responsible -Boys must be responsible in their duties. Unique - Boys are unique and have a unique role being ICT Reps. Service - Service to School Our boys are having training in Photoshop and Apps Creation using GameSalad.

Achievements	1. Saints TV – We have launched a new channel on YouTube featuring snippets of our school and activities. 2. SAJS Pupil Learning Festival - Our boys taught their juniors videography using iPads.
Service	1. Provide PA support during flag raising, assemblies and major school events (for example, Founder's Day, National Day, etc) 2. Created videos on cyberwellness for the school to create an awareness of online safety among the student population. 3. IT Reps in every class to help the teachers troubleshoot IT equipment during lessons. 4. Videography support for various school events. We have a VIRUS Facebook account for members to keep abreast of events, competitions and duties.

For our class photographs, each level has been set against one of the four seasons in a year.

Secondary One students are given a Spring backdrop as they are young and happy freshies who have just entered our school, just like Spring which is the first season of the year.

Secondary Two students are set against a Summer background as it reflects their growing awareness of secondary school life and some of the heat of streaming in this year.

In Secondary Three, our students are more mature as they gear up for greater academic pressure, hence the Autumn backdrop.

Finally, in Secondary Four/Five, our Saints brave it out to give of their best holistically even as they prepare to depart from the School in their Winter year.
