School Song

Verse 1
Lives are in the making here,
Hearts are in the waking here,
Mighty undertaking here,
Up and On!
We are arming for the fight,
Pressing on with all our might,
Pluming wings for higher flight,
Up and On!
(CHORUS)

Verse 2
Fair before us lies the way,
Time for work and time for play;
Fill the measure while we may,
Up and On!
Life and time will not delay,
Time is running fast away,
Life is now today; today;
Up and On!
(CHORUS)

Verse 3
Foes in plenty we shall meet,
Hearts courageous scorn defeat;
So we press with eager feet,
Up and On!
Ever onward to the fight,
Ever upward to the Light,
Ever true to GOD and RIGHT,
Up and On!
(CHORUS)

CHORUS
Up Boys! truest fame
Lies in high endeavour;
Play the game! keep the flame
Burning brightly ever!

- John Oxenham -

School Hymn

Our Father, by whose servants,
Our School was built of old,
Whose hand has crowned Thy children,
With blessings manifold;
For Thy unfailing mercies,
Far strewn along our way,
With all who passed before us,
We praise Thy name today.

They reaped not where they laboured,
We reap what they have sown;
Our harvest may be garnered,
By ages yet unknown.
The days of old have dowered us
With gifts beyond all praise,
Our Father make us faithful
To serve the coming days.

Before us and beside us,
Still holden by Thy hand,
A cloud of unseen witness,
Our elder comrades stand;
One family unbroken,
We join with one acclaim;
One heart, one voice uplifting
To glorify Thy Name.

Principal's Message

> "It is not surprising, therefore, that MOE has recognised St Andrew's Secondary School with a School Distinction Award and Best Practices in All-Round Student Development, Staff Well-being and Development and Partnerships."

First, I would like to say a big THANK YOU to all our parents and alumni for the amazing support throughout the year. You are always there for us in tangible ways. We really appreciated your presence in school for the Food and Funfair, for Project CHEER, for the Self-Study Programme, at every major match and at our celebrations such as Founder's Day and National Day. You ran with your sons in the Cross Country Race, you built with your sons in the Millennium Race! You cooked for them and organised for them in all the different CCAs. And when you could not be here in person, you gave so generously to the needs of the boys. Your gifts made it possible for us to provide the boys, especially those in financial need, with a rich education through quality programmes and facilities.

When the boys see you in school, it is a huge encouragement to them! And when the boys use the pool or study in the Centre of Excellence in air-conditioned comfort, they know that this is because you make it possible. Your love for St Andrew's motivates us, the staff of St Andrew's, to do our best for the school. It is not surprising, therefore, that MOE has recognised St Andrew's Secondary School with a School Distinction Award and Best Practices in All-Round Student Development, Staff Well-being and Development and Partnerships.

Second, I would like to encourage the current students to keep on living the School Values. Over the course of this year, I have seen a much greater level of responsibility in the students. I think you are listening to your teachers more. You are putting in more effort in your lessons and in your CCAs. Teachers are reporting that you are taking notes in class thus living out the values of SELF-DISCIPLINE and EXCELLENCE. You are showing more teamwork in your CCAs even when you have long or frequent training sessions thus showing RESILIENCE and UNITY. I am particularly encouraged that you are keeping the school much tidier and, in this way, you show EMPATHY for our cleaning staff.

Third, as our nation's 50th year draws to a close, I would like to remind you all that you, not me, will be around at our nation's 100th. As the Pioneer Generation for our future 100th anniversary (and the school's 200th!), I hope that you will look back with pride because you have lived with WONDER, INTEGRITY and THANKSGIVING. I hope that you will be servant leaders and make Singapore a nation which brings life to other nations. Remember the example of our Guest-of-Honour, BG(Ret) Eric Tan Huck Gim at the Founder's Day Service. He had the opportunity to serve Singapore and serve East Timor when he was posted there with the United Nations. Dream big. You too can be a bringer of life. Up and On!

Chaplain's Message

"The days of old have dowered us with gifts beyond all praise." (A phrase from our beloved school hymn and the theme for this year school magazine)

St Andrew's School must never forget the gifts that God has bestowed upon us.

When we reflect on "the days of old", we remember our founding fathers like Rev Edward Sherman Venn, Simm Quee and Tye Kim, without their vision and commitment the school would not have existed.

When we reflect on "the days of old", we remember the past school headmasters, superintendents and chaplains – notably Mr Cheok Loy Fatt, Rev George Frederick Hose, Rev William Henry Gomes, Rev J. Romanis Lee, and Rev R. K. S. Adams. Most of them have been embodied in our "houses" or programmes.

When we reflect on "the days of old", we remember our seniors who have passed through the gates of the school and many of whom have invested and many of whom are still investing in our school through finances, resources and time.

We are also grateful to all stakeholders, past and present – Board of Governors, the Alumni, the Parents-Teachers Association, Parents Prayer Groups, and other special interest groups.

These special people are truly gifts from God to our beloved School.

These special people are gifts sent by God to build and bless St Andrew's School.

And truly, we cannot praise God enough for His wonderful gifts and abundant blessings upon all at St Andrew's Village.

"Great are the works of God Almighty;
they are pondered by all who delight in them."
(Psalm 111:2)

Up and On!

Address by BG (Ret) Eric Tan Huck Gim

"CHOICES"

Adapted from a speech by BG (Ret) ERIC TAN HUCK GIM at Saint Andrew's School's 153rd Founder's Day, 29 August 2015

We like having choices don't we? It's fun to decide what to wear, what to have for breakfast, which mobile phone to carry around – make, model, screen size, storage capacity, type of data plan, colour – and so on. Choices allow us the freedom to be ourselves (Jean-Paul Satre said "We are our choices"). Students today, you will in the years ahead make choices that impact the world we live in. In his National Day 2015 Rally speech, Prime Minister Lee Hsien Loong said "Our best days will always be ahead of us, provided we continue to have a strong team, a team of lions and the lion-hearted, leaders and the people." You and your peers will be part of that team, and as you choose what to do with your lives, you will co-author the SG100 story.

How will you prepare to make career/job choices? What will help you decide whether to take a civil service career path, join the private sector, be a musician or artist, or venture out as an entrepreneur? If an unexpected opportunity comes your way to help improve the lives of others, what will you say? Will you accept the sacrifice and risks that come with saying yes? How will you grapple with the consequences of saying either yes or no? I invite you to reflect on these questions as I share with you my life story.

I nearly missed being a Saint! Dad wanted me to go to another well-known school, but mom preferred a school within walking distance of home. Mom won and so began 12 wonderful, formative years of classes, classmates and morning assemblies. For that choice made by my parents, I will be eternally grateful. St Andrew's School made me what I am today. Each time I recall the words of the School song and hymn, I see a part of my character in them. Notwithstanding my youthful negligence, my teachers never gave up on me, and I eventually stumbled through PSLE, O and finally A Levels. Dad passed away just before I sat for my A Level exams, and later that same year I reported for NS. A year later I had become a junior officer, and just before ROD , I decided to sign on in the Army for 4 years; only to stay on until finally retiring after 32 years of service. At a recent reunion, some of my classmates said I was the last person they expected to choose the military as a career, more so end that career as a Brigadier General. They remembered me in school to be skinny, fragile, shy and anything but soldierly.

In 1999, the Army tasked me to organise NDP 2001 as Chairman EXCO. I initially wished this ginormous assignment had gone to someone else, but looked back at it as one of the highlights of my time in the SAF. I was blessed to have talented people from the creative/performing arts industry in the team, and we designed a celebration to convey a message; one that stitched together the 5 tenets of Singapore21: "EVERY SINGAPOREAN MATTERS as we build our Best Home, where STRONG FAMILIES and ACTIVE CITIZENS sustain the SINGAPORE HEATBEAT in our Global City where there are OPPORTUNITIES FOR ALL" . What made the NDP01 journey especially memorable was having my wife Cynthia (originally my schoolmate in St Andrew's School Pre-University class of 1972-73) at my side during rehearsals and preparations.

Then came the call to be the first Singaporean General to command a United Nations multinational Peacekeeping Force. Although hesitant, I felt I could not turn it down, even though others more qualified were ready to take my place. I'm glad I went, but at the time of departing for the mission, I was anything but confident. The risks were high: East Timor had just emerged from 25 years of occupation and was the world's newest nation, but had spiralled into chaos due to a small group of armed citizens who did not want independence. The UN had quickly intervened and made it their success story. Four capable Force Commanders hand-picked from around the region had already made their contributions to peace in East Timor. Compared to them, I was young and had no operational experience. If I could not continue this success story, I would not only fail the Timorese people who had already suffered so much, but also the United Nations, the international community and most of all Singapore. Added to this daunting list of worst-case outcomes is the personal sacrifices I would need to make by leaving my wife and our young daughters behind. Nevertheless, eyes wide open and focussed on the challenges, I went.

If I had not made the choice to be Force Commander UNMISET, I would not have led the PKF to deal decisively with the armed groups that came over from West Timor in early 2003, would not have experienced leading more than 3,000 men and women from 26 military forces around the world, and would not have done a service to people less fortunate than us here in Singapore. Sadly, there were heart-rending moments, such as when 5 Korean peacekeepers lost their lives in a flash flood, but there were also many more rewarding ones.

After UNMISET, I retired from the SAF in 2005, and had just settled into a new job in NUS when a phone call came from MFA . Timor-Leste had a fresh internal crisis in early 2006 (the local police and military fought each other, resulting in a breakdown of law and order and thousands of internally displaced persons who had no home to return to), and Singapore wanted to help re-stabilise the situation. Unlike the first time when I went as a soldier, this time as a civilian I could have said no to MFA. But I felt I could leverage the trust I've gained from the leaders of Timor-Leste, who knew me from the time I served as Force Commander. I wanted to use this trust to bring about a shorter recovery time, and quickly put Timor-Leste back on track. Again there were risks (the political situation in that new country was highly volatile) and sacrifices (leaving family behind and not being able to help my elder twin daughters decide their course of study after O Levels). What surprised me was that my wife supported my return to Timor-Leste, thus making her own sacrifice. So I told MFA of my decision, presented myself as best I could in an interview at UNHQ, and was accepted as the Deputy Head of a new UN mission in Timor-Leste called UNMIT. After one tumultuous year, we had restored law and order, reconstituted the local police force, and provided security for three rounds of national elections. Peace had returned to Timor-Leste.

Returning home from UNMIT, I rejoiced when the International Olympic Committee chose Singapore to design and deliver the world's first Youth Olympic Games. The IOC wanted the YOG to prepare young athletes to make the right choices, for instance resisting the temptation of taking performance enhancing drugs, appreciating the differences amongst those living in this wonderful world of ours, and exemplifying the values of Excellent, Friendship and Respect. The YOG would be different from the Olympic Games in that a Culture & Education programme would run parallel with high-level sport competition to allow the young athletes to imbibe those values and attitudes. When an opportunity came my way to join the organising committee, I jumped at it. Though pathetic at playing sports, I could put my teambuilding and organising skills to good use, and contribute in a small way to the youth of the world. I could not guess at that time what an impact the Games would have on my own life – the two year journey to deliver the YOG has become the most memorable time of my working life!

After YOG, I served for a while in the National Archives before accepting an offer from a private sector company to set up the facilities management team – responsible for cleaning, maintenance, safety, security, car parking, and other operations – of the Singapore Sports Hub. In our first 12 months, we hosted more than 1.2 million people at 101 events, 63 of which were sport events. I wanted to make the work of my colleagues more meaningful, and motivated them to see that we help create pleasant memories in those that came to the Sports Hub, memories that they will cherish for the rest of their lives. Memories a young child and his grandpa have from going to their first football game together, a young man and his girlfriend treasuring their pop concert experience, or memories a family has of cheering on their favourite swimmer to win a gold medal. If I had not organised NDP, YOG or worked with internationals I would not have the skillsets to lead my multinational and multitalented facilities management team in the Singapore Sports Hub.

As you followed the career choices I made over 40 years of working life, I hope you were reflecting on how you would be making your own choices. Whilst your circumstances will surely be different, some of the considerations I took into account may help clear your mind when it is time to make your choice. However you choose, I encourage you to do as much as you can, for as many people as you can, while you can. Keep in mind what a Founding Father of the United States of America Benjamin Franklin (1706 – 1790) said: "Dost thou love life? Then do not squander time, for that's the stuff life is made of."

I wish you a lifetime of exciting choices.

Speech by School Dux

Good afternoon Guest of Honour, BG(Ret) Eric Tan Huck Gim, members of the board, principals, vice-principals, alumni, parents, teachers and fellow saints.

It is my honour to be here on Founder's Day speaking to the St Andrew's family.

I would like to start by talking about how my life in St Andrew's family began. I remember walking up the big steps on my very first day and glancing up, I saw the school mission: 'to produce men of wisdom and stature that stand in favour with god and men'. And I had no clue what it meant, back then at least.

As I continued on, I found myself in my classroom, full of 40 boys I had never seen before. I guess you could call me an introvert, so that made me naturally nervous. To be honest, I had no friends.

My form teacher was Jason Ang. He introduced himself proudly, as a Saint, one that has been in the village for over 19 years! From the kindergarten, to the junior college and eventually returning home by coming back to teach at SASS. And with the fervour of a passionate old boy, he also told us that SA is a special school, one which we must always love.

Being the oblivious sec 1 kid I was, I did not know that this school, is full of such dedicated and devoted alumni, nor, could I understand why they were so passionate about SA.

So, I embarked on a journey many SA boys had gone through, a journey of discovery and inquiry into what SA was all about. For me, it was through the times spent in the library. Mr Kenneth Yeo, our school archivist and librarian, often shared proud moments in the history of SA with us. For example, how after many years of separation, the SA Family was finally reunited in 2006. Or the contributions of the various ex-principals and headmasters, names of which our 5 houses bear. Like how Canon RKS Adams started boxing as a way for two boys resolve a conflict. Or like how it was Revd Romanis Lee, who introduced the school song that we still sing with much gusto till this day. And these were the stories which made us swell with pride. It made us proud to be Saints, wanting to make SA better than it was before.

And whenever I hear the uplifting singing of the school song by Mr Yee Teck Peng, or think about respected teachers such as Mrs Yeo Yuen Chin, who has taught many of our teachers currently teaching in SA, I always feel a strong sense of pride in the rich history and culture that we share. They are living proof of people who have dedicated their lives to SA, truly believing that they were sowing seeds of a special tree.

And in my four years here, I also saw, first hand, how the SA spirit burns brightly. It is all around us. I vividly remember, how the school roared with pride, during the rugby finals, when Haziq Jo declared 'WE WOULD DRIVE THEM BACK TO DOVER ROAD!'

Or even outside the compounds of the school. I read from a post in 'The St Andrew's Family' FB group by an old boy on the day before national day. It said, 'I though today was a public holiday & forgot to put a carpark coupon. But was pleasantly surprised by a gracious gesture from a fellow Saint, who put a coupon for me. He must have spotted my Saints decal. The Saints spirit is alive & well……' Indeed, I hope the SA spirit will be alive and well for many more years to come.

I remember once, when my father brought me to a talk by Mr Cherian George after school, I was wearing my school uniform. Before Mr Cherian started his speech, he said this, 'Before I start my talk, I must say that I am very proud to have a Saint right here because I was from SA' before I could respond, a voice from the room shouted 'I am from SA too!' while another exclaimed 'Up and On!' For a brief moment, the room was almost immediately warmer, it felt like a mini family reunion and I truly felt the presence of the school spirit.

In a SAOBA dinner in 1968, our late founding father, Mr Lee Kuan Yew, once said,' If St Andrew's School is still known by the same name by the year 2000, then the Singaporean would already have been clearly defined."

I fear the day, should it ever come, where SAS is no longer know by the same name, but, what I fear more is, if ever, SA is no longer known by the Saints spirit! Indeed, it is the duty of all of us to hold on dearly to the traditions, cultures and SA spirit that makes us SA. Keep the flame burning brightly ever.

And who else do I have to thank for such a wonderful experience at SA, but my fellow Saints and teachers.

I want to thank all my teachers – for going beyond the necessary, not only in terms of our academic matters, but also in treasuring the relationship with us and treating us as saints. Even till now, when we see our teachers, we relate to each other like old friends catching up. I will always remember Ms Lee Bin Choo's Saturday lessons, where she would always bring curry puffs for use so that we would not feel hungry. Staying in school till 10pm with Ms Fernandez and Mr Kenneth Yeo before our debate rounds. And these teachers are just a glimpse of the wider group of dedicated, caring and ever encouraging teachers at SA. So, thank you teachers!

And to my fellow Saints – for making this journey all the more enjoyable, exciting and enriching. Even as each of us had different strengths and interest, we still accepted one another and grew to understand each other. Even as each of us, individually, were ordinary students, as a group, we spurred each other on and helped each other achieve excellence. I will always remember how we stayed back till midnight preparing for the debating competition at our school, or the insane rugby trainings that we endured as a team. It is through things like that, through the many PE lessons, joking around after the last period of the day or getting into trouble together, that we had built a community, one that helps each other out and unites.

And I am honoured and thankful to have been part of this community.

So I left SA saying, "I've got no friends… I got family!"

One family unbroken.

This is what I think the SA spirit is all about. It is all about the brotherhood, the sense of family, the upholding of cultures and traditions.

So, to the graduating batch of 2015,

Work hard and do your teachers proud, they have invested their time and effort into you and this is one way to express your gratitude.

Embody and exude the SA spirit,

Help one another out when you see that someone is falling behind, it will be something you can never do enough of. After all, we all bleed blue and white. There will be time for work and time for play, but I think what is important is that we work together and we play together. When it is time to settle down and study hard, let's encourage each other and keep each other going. However, when it is time to relax, remember to include everyone and have ample time to bond and have fun with one another's company. After all, when you have graduated from this school, what you look back upon will not be your test scores in the prelims or the common test, but rather the time spent with your friends in this school.

Cherish the moments, cherish the people and cherish SA.

The Race of the Millennium - 10 April 2015

By Roshan Monogaran and John E.Q. Golena
Photographs by Chan Chen

The Saints Millennium Race, an annual event held at St Andrews Secondary School where secondary one and two students pit their homemade race cars against each other, was held on 2 April 2015. The event, organised by the school, was held to put the students' cars to test against each other after learning to make them in their Design and Technology class.

The school hall bustled with activity as students gathered around and waited anxiously for the annual race to begin. Vice Principal Mr Shashidaran Kaneson was called on to initiate the start of the race. At the blare of the air horn, the first set of cars zoomed off, with the crowd at their feet cheering.

There were two categories in the Saints Millennium Race. The first was for motorized cars, where the cars were attached with a motor and powered by batteries and was participated in by all secondary two students. The second was taken part by secondary one students where the cars were powered by a propeller winded up with a rubber band.

Ganesh Mishra from secondary 2A, who took part in the Design and Electronic car category, said that there were tons of ups and downs during the design process. He needed lots of supplies and his process was very tedious. He was elated that his car was able to finish the race and that he was able to realise his design. The only unfortunate thing was that his car broke immediately after the race.

Joshua M. Sebastian from 1J1 who competed in the Design category responded that the design making process was tough but as he got used to it he realized he actually enjoyed it. He also understood the importance of know how to design his vehicle. He felt that the process was more interesting when the competition and prize was at stake.

Some clear stand outs from the competition were Chatchai Chaithrakulthong from 2A and Chu Xiang Fu Francis from 2B. Chatchai's eagle-themed race car stood out in the Design category. He had felt discouraged during the making process but the thought of the end product kept him going. "But on the good side, " he said, " I am thankful and happy when my car raced the whole length." On the other hand, Francis's car rocketed ahead of the rest in the motorized car category and quickly became a crowd favourite to win in terms of speed.

During the award giving ceremony, the hall was abuzz with cheers for students who went up the stage to receive their prizes. All in all, the students had fun racing their cars and competing with each other.

South Zone Millennium Challenge 2015

Running for the 16th time, this annual competition was held on 16th April this year. The distinguished Guest-of-Honour was Mr Ong Kong Hong, the Superintendent of South Zone 5.

A total of 25 secondary schools from all over Singapore participated in this exciting challenge. Schools could choose to participate in any or all of the three categories: Motorised Vehicles, Rubber-Band Propeller Vehicles and Bridge Building. Besides creating model vehicles that travel at expeditious speed and extensive distances, participants also fabricated innovative model bridges which withstood loads of several kilograms.

Participants were recognised and rewarded for their creativity in the design of the vehicles and bridges. The design prizes were won by participants with work of high level of aesthetics as well as innovative use of recycled materials. The design judging was conducted by a professional team of experts - Mdm Chia Soo Chin, Mr Jason Tan and Mr Imis Iskandar.

St Andrew's Secondary School emerged as the Overall Champion with the highest total scores from all three categories. It was truly an enriching and enjoyable out-of-classroom experience for all participants joining the Millennium Challenge.

Applied Learning Programme (ALP)

Teachers' training

Students' testing their Sea Perch at the pool

The ALP was inaugurated for the Secondary One students in our school this year. The ALP was carefully crafted by the Science Centre Singapore, Stem Inc. Mr Saravanan, representative of the Science Centre Singapore, had worked tirelessly with our team of ALP teachers to conduct the programme.

The ALP was conducted during curriculum time for three periods per week during Semester 1. The aim of the programme was to nurture the students' interest in engineering design. Through the programme, students learned to apply Science concepts in the construction of an underwater robot named the Sea Perch which is capable of manoeuvring under water and performing exploration tasks. Concepts of buoyancy, electrical circuits, electromagnet, motor, thrusts and momentum were mastered during the lessons. The students also went through the arduous task of putting together a working Sea Perch. Through the process, they picked up practical skills such as drilling, sawing, assembling and soldering electrical components.

Besides constructing the Sea Perch, students were also trained on visual and verbal presentation skills. Each team of students prepared posters and presented their work to their fellow classmates.

At the end of the programme, a race was conducted in the school's swimming pool. Students had to control their Sea Perch to overcome obstacles and reach an underwater target within the shortest period of time. Winners of the race as well as the best posters were presented with prizes to recognise their exemplary efforts.

The students have given feedback that they have enjoyed the ALP experience of working on real life projects thoroughly and that they look forward to their Secondary Two ALP classes. The ALP has served to present the exciting realm of scientific possibilities and fanned the students' desire to pursue further studies in Engineering.

ARTS for the Saints Hall Assembly programme: SYF Preview by Drama Club

ARTS Festival 2015: Mime workshop

ARTS for the Saints Hall Assembly programme: Performance by Gamelan Asmaradana

ARTS Festival 2015: Taiko drumming workshop

ARTS for the Saints

ARTS for the Saints is a special arts enrichment programme put together by the ARTS Committee comprising of art and music teachers, teachers involved in the performing arts as well as teachers with a love for the arts.

The main focus of ARTS for the Saints is the Hall Assembly programmes during which different local artistes are invited to perform for Saints. In addition, there are times when the boys themselves from the different performing arts groups take centre stage, to perform in front of their peers.

The programmes during Hall Assembly expose Saints to the four different art forms – art, dance, drama, and music – and are carefully selected to tie in with the music curriculum. Our school stage has welcomed the likes of Gamelan Asmaradana, Singapore Dance Theatre, the T'ang Quartet, and even film-maker, Royston Tan.

The ARTS Committee also plans a series of special arts programmes every year, some of which take smaller groups of boys out of school to experience the arts. For instance, annually, students from the RKS Adams classes attend an introductory dance lecture at Singapore Dance Theatre.

The highlight of every year is the ARTS Festival. Over two days, an entire level of students is treated to a variety of arts workshops. This year, our Saints participated in workshops on marbling, mime, capoeira, taiko drumming, just to name a few.

Chinese Cultural Camp 2015

The Chinese Cultural Camp was organized annually by the Mother Tongue Department to promote the appreciation of Chinese culture and interest in learning their Mother Tongue Language. This year, the Chinese Cultural Camp was held on the 14th of April 2015 for all Sec One students. The students were engaged in activities such as learning how to sing the Chinese Opera, traditional puppet-making as well as language games activities. Through these activities, they also learnt about the origin of these Chinese arts and culture and its purposes. The students also learnt them through language games such as guessing the right words.

From the survey, most of the students found that they have gained better knowledge of the Chinese culture and enjoyed the Chinese Cultural Camp Programme especially in learning how to sing Chinese Opera.

MT Fortnight

The use of MTL beyond the classroom is critical to making MTL a living language for our students. MTL Fortnight is one such structured programme which creates an environment that encourages students to use MTL and appreciate the heritage and culture associated with the language.

Reflections:

"There's a range of fun and interesting activities, these activities include cultural and language games, drama and other workshops."

"I got to appreciate that MTL can be a living language to be used and valued."

Buddy Reading

Buddy Reading, which started as an RKS Adams Class initiative, has now grown to include boys from other classes. The boys mentor their younger brothers from the Junior School how to read English and Chinese books.

From Monday to Thursday, the secondary school boys head down to the Junior School from 7am to 7.30am to read with the younger Saints and help them with pronunciation and articulation. Many of the younger boys have benefited greatly from the programme and feedback from the older Saints have proven that they have indeed learned the values of empathy, resilience as well as self-discipline after partaking in the Buddy Reading programme.

Parents of the Junior School have also shown their appreciation by treating the secondary school boys to a big breakfast meal after the programme and they have remarked that our boys have been true gentlemen and mentors to the younger ones.

JS Principal, Mrs Wong, also commended the boys for their servant leadership.

Buddy Reading Reflection Speech

Mrs Wong, JS Principal, thanking the boys for their selfless dedication and encouraging them to serve the school as teachers in future.

Good morning principals, teachers and fellow Buddy Readers. My name is Benjamin Foo and unlike most of you I have been involved in Buddy Reading since secondary one. I'll like to share a little about my journey in Buddy Reading. Waking up earlier than I have ever done before was definitely a tall order and I'm sure that all the Buddy Readers feel the same.

Two weeks into the program, and the lack of sleep started to take its toll on me, leaving me tired and sluggish in class. I didn't understand the purpose of Buddy Reading, how would reading to primary school kids improve their language ability? However as time progressed, I saw the buddies blossom and improve. From being too afraid to try to read, to being able to read pages of books, this improvement in reading ability was what kept the rest of the Buddy Readers and me going.

The relationship between us mentors and the mentees slowly became stronger, as I felt a bond of friendship, and perhaps even kinship forged between us. I myself didn't come from the junior school, and I never understood "One Family Unbroken" until now. Seeing the little difference that we made in the primary school kids showed me how it truly takes an entire village to educate the child. Perhaps one day these children would improve so much that they would one day return the favour, and become Buddy Readers themselves.

Buddy Reading has certainly made me, as well as my fellow schoolmates, a better person. Through it, we learnt patience, perseverance and compassion, values that are instilled in us and will lay forever etched in our hearts. I would also like to thanks Mr Antoni, for not only bring us this wonderful breakfast, but also making our whole journey much more delightful and worthwhile. You're a blessing to all of us and it's heartwarming to know that our hard work has not gone unnoticed. With that, I'd like to thank Mr Antoni again. Thank you.

River Studies 2015 – For Sec 1s

Awarded the Inaugural Watermark Award by the PUB in 2008, St Andrew's River Studies Programme has connected every student in eight cohorts with the Kallang River – a total of 2,500 boys. Evolving from a 2-day exposure to the River environment, history and some water testing into a 4-month self-directed programme, students now apply the Scientific Method collaboratively while acquiring digital literacies through the use of a Wiki to craft their report.

The 4-month programme comprises:

1. Project Overview – including importance of water to Singapore.
2. Tri-Science Workshops – facilitation approach to exploring the Scientific Method, the use of data-loggers and understanding the river ecosystem.
3. River visit – onsite analysis and hands-on experience of river environment.
4. Product completion –wiki-based project report and slide presentation.

The results revealed that students are much more engaged and challenged in this project due to its high requirements.

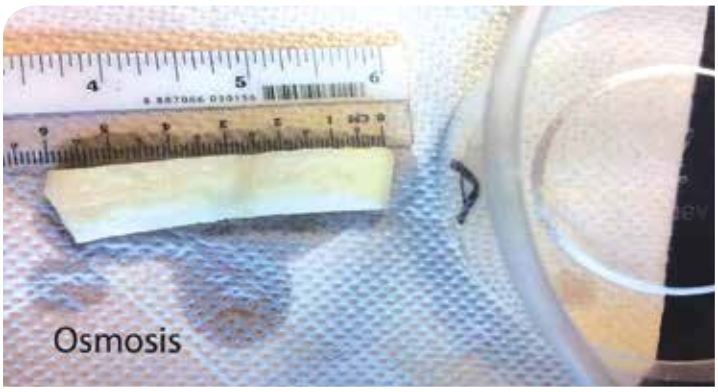

Guided peer and self-evaluation at start of 4th quarter of project provided a transparent assessment. This formative evaluation gave students who self-assessed to be under-performing, the opportunity to contribute more to their team.

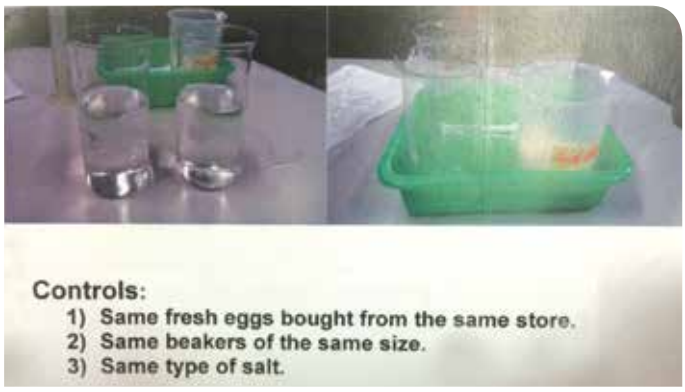

The team is studying improvements to scaffolding and differentiated student products to meet the learning needs of students across academic streams.

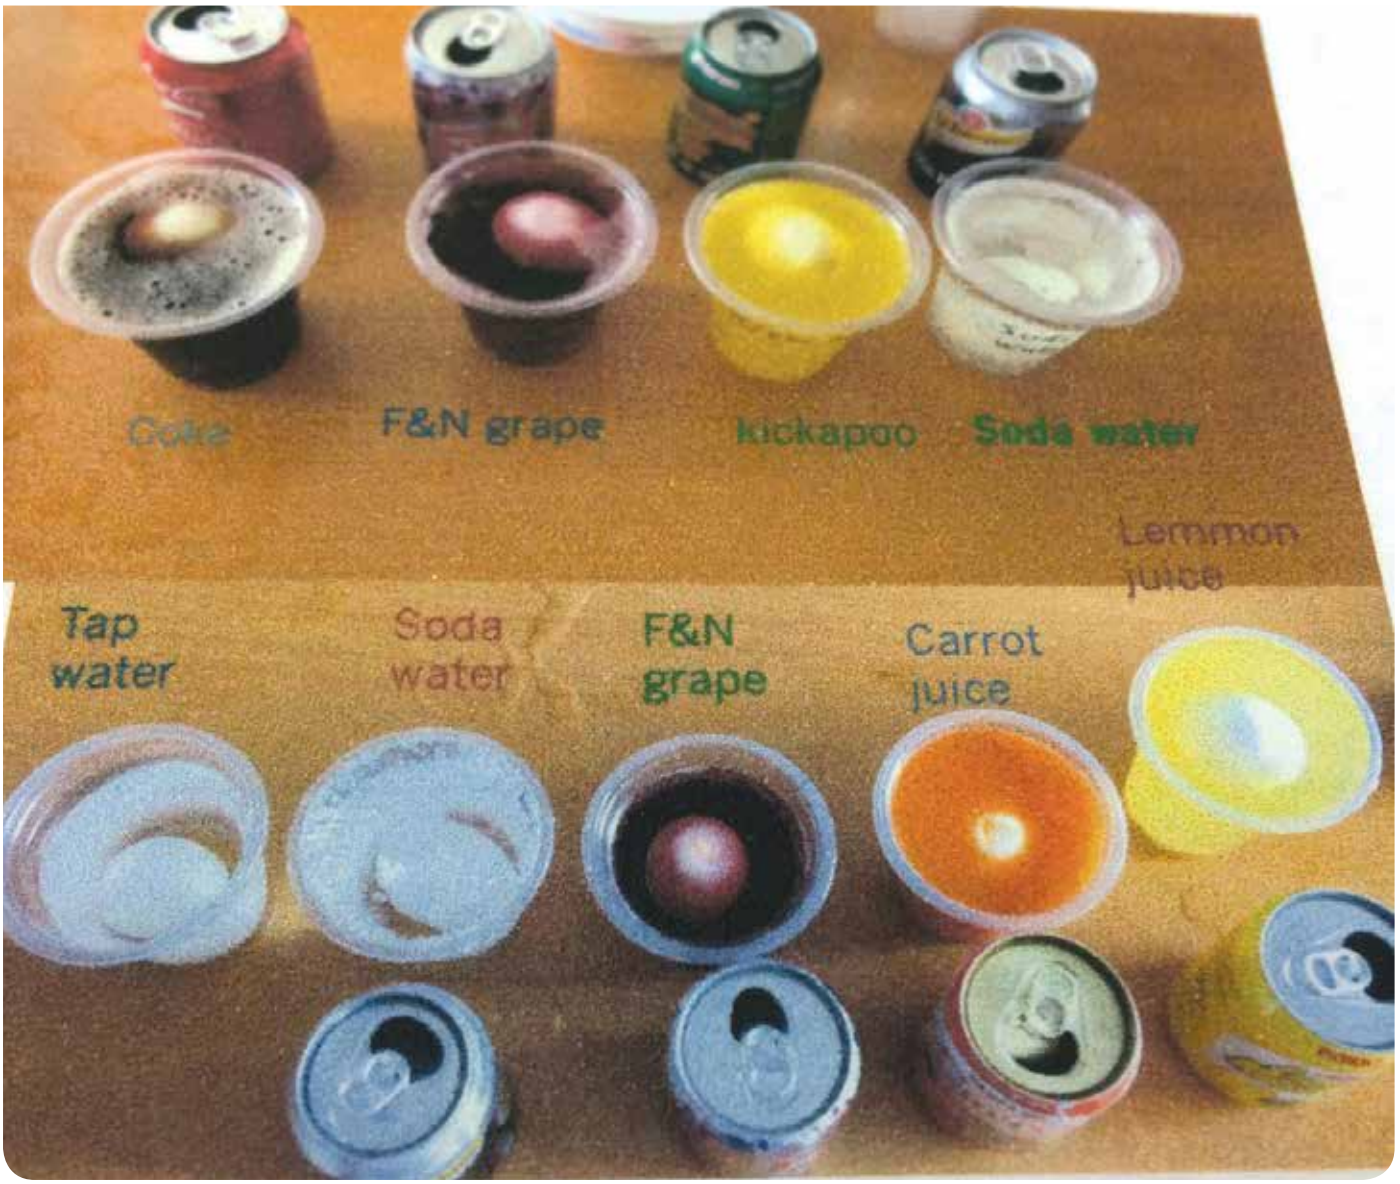

The Young Scientist Project (TYSP) – For Sec 2s

TYSP is in line with our current MOE lower secondary science syllabus which aims at educating students to be equipped with skills to be able to use scientific knowledge to identify questions and to draw evidence-based conclusions. TYSP aims to inculcate the spirit of scientific inquiry and develop self -directed learners. In this programme, the teachers are no longer an information dispenser instead they are facilitators leading students through the inquiry process.

Firstly, the students will be introduced to the eight Elements of Thought [Paul- Elder Model of Critical Thinking] to allow them to understand the process of thinking. Secondly students will be introduced to Scientific Inquiry. Thirdly, they will be introduced to the intellectual standards of Critical Thinking. The use of the intellectual standards allows students to acquire the skill of evaluating their thinking. Lastly, students will then go through a guided inquiry project on a given scenario and they have to complete a research report. The project also aims to enhance their metacognition and nurture them to be reflective learners.

Saints 7s

The Saints 7s tournament was started in 2009. It was designed to promote school boy rugby by providing schools in Singapore more opportunities to play 7s rugby. There was a need to expose more Singapore kids to 7s rugby especially with 7s rugby being included in the 2015 SEA Games & 2016 Olympics. When it was started in 2009, there was only one other 7s tournament for schools and that was the Singapore Cricket Club (SCC) 7s. Therefore the Saints 7s was billed as a warm up tournament for the SCC 7s.

Starting small, with only one age group being contested, the Saints 7s 2009 was a resounding success. Even Singapore Rugby Union stood up and took notice and SRU organised the National schools 7s.

After having organised it at the Padang in 2010, with the support of SCC, the Saints 7s tournament came back home to Woodsville in 2011 bigger and better. There were more than 30 teams contesting in three different age categories. This year the tournament is at its full capacity. We have more than 40 teams participating across three different age categories. The reputation of the Saints 7s has travelled beyond our shores and this year we play host to Vajiravudh College from Thailand, and Sin Sains Sultan Haji Ahmad Shah School and Marlborough College from Malaysia and St Peter's College from Sri Lanka. The invitation of foreign school to participate in Saints 7s will give the tournament a little international flavour. True to our ethos on promoting schools rugby, we are hoping to give as many school boys an opportunity to play 7s rugby.

Together with the SCC 7s and now the National Schools 7s, The Saints 7s is one of the premier school boy rugby 7–a–side tournaments in Singapore which promotes greater socializing and interaction between local schools and local international schools.

The 2015 Saints 7s will be even more exciting as there are already schools from 8 countries expressing interest to participate in this this event.

Interclass Games

The 2015 ICG or Interclass Games took place at the end of term 1. The competition saw boys from all levels representing their respective classes in a battle of skill and class pride.

The competitions involved included:
1) Sec 4/5 3 on 3 Basketball (13th March 2015)
2) Sec 3 Handball (13th March 2015)
3) Sec 1 Rugby (22nd April 2015)

The students learnt and trained for these games for between 6-8 weeks during their PE lessons going through classroom sessions for the rules and regulations of the respective games as well as friendly matches between classes of a similar level. These culminated in the high standard of sportsmanship displayed at the 2015 ICG.

As part of the PE department's holistic approach to sports development (every boy aspiring). Student referees and organisers were trained and used for these competitions. Teachers present acted as facilitators to enhance the learning experience for the boys.

We believe that the entire ICG experience provides the boys with a platform for displaying values of sportsmanship, teamwork and empathy. With these values already learnt during PE lessons, we will look to provide more sporting opportunities for our boys to enhance their authentic learning in the area of sports as well as values appreciation.

St Andrew's Village Food Drive 2015

Food from the Heart (FFTH) is a voluntary food distribution program which helps the truly needy families in financial difficulties by providing them with food items donated by people like you and me. Being involved in this food donation drive, we have raised community awareness for the less-fortunate. We also hope to instill compassion within our students and to encourage them to share passionately with those who need their help.

As part of the Upper Sec (NT) program, both Sec 3M & 4M worked closely with "Food from the Heart", by providing them with food items donated by their peers and the whole school. They collected the food items, sorted and packed them accordingly. Then on a given day, they distributed the packed food at the various distribution venues.

Commencement Ceremony

Norman Wee being interviewed by Village Online

Village Online met up with our Prefect Captain, Jeremy Tabensky, Norman Wee from 4SA as well as two teachers, Mr Gene Yeo and Mr Winston Soo, to interview them regarding their thoughts about the Commencement Ceremony.

Interview with Jeremy and Norman:

1. What are some of your favourite memories in class?
Jeremy: I think probably the most memorable one was when I was in Secondary 1 or 2, when one of our friends wanted to use the toilet. So, there was a tap attached to the hose and while he was doing what he was doing, we sort of, on multiple occasions slung that over the stall and let the water flow out and disturb him. That's my favourite memory.

2. Tell us about one experience you had in your CCA
Norman: I'm from Scouts and annually, we have this cooking competition where there'll be different schools coming down to take part. Basically, what we do in this cooking competition is to cook outdoors– it's not kitchen cooking. It's outdoor cooking where you have to dig a hole in the ground and start a fire. It's really interesting. When I joined Scouts at first, I didn't know how to go about cooking outdoors. I don't think many people have a chance to go outdoors, dig a hole in the ground and cook their own food. It's really eye opening.

3. Tell us about a few of your favourite teachers
Norman: Mr Soo is one of my favourite teachers. He has been teaching me since secondary 1 up until now. In sec 1 and 2, he taught me Maths and now in 3 and 4, he is my form teacher. He's seeing me off in this graduating year. Mr Soon has made a huge impact on me and the class. He really has put in a lot of effort for the class and I really appreciate what he has done for us.

Jeremy: The one on the top of my list is Mr Selva. He is undoubtedly the most caring teacher who cares for a lot of his students. Following him, I'd like to thank Mr Chew Ee for motivating boys to study History through his humourous explanations of Hitler and all that and for being one of the craziest and most inspirational History teachers.

4. How do you find your 4 years in school?
Norman: I think these 4 years have gone by really quickly. I remembered the first day I came into this school very vividly and 4 years have gone by just like that. I think I had fun these four years; that's the most important thing to me. I have made a lot of friends these 4 years and it has been really memorable.

Jeremy: I think these past 4 years in school have been really life-altering. I've learned not just about academics and all that, but it's a whole compilation of experiences I've had – life lessons you could say that I've learned. One of the most integral things I've learned is about having gratitude; how it not only impacts students and teachers but how it is necessary to help you learn and to help you move forward in life.

5. What would you miss most about your friends?
Norman: Spending time with them, the funny moments we had in class disturbing teachers, playing during recess; just spending time together. The friendships we've forged... I don't think many of us will meet up after the O's. I hope we do. I will miss spending time with them – the comradeship.

6. What are some of the most important things you have learned from your 4 years in school?
Norman: I would say that throughout these four years, the most important thing is to never give up. Do not let any setbacks or obstacles stop you from progressing. That's very important.

7. You're about to graduate soon... could you share some of your thoughts about leaving the school?
Norman: I am definitely a bit sad that I'm leaving this school – leaving SA. I don't know if I'll go to the JC. I was from the Junior School and I went on to the secondary school; that's about 10 years in SA. So, it's rather sad that I'm facing the prospect of leaving SA, leaving this Village, because it has really been a family to me – growing up 10 years in this school. It's really grown on me. Also, being a Saint, the aspect of being a Saint and having all my friends around me for the past 10 years, these are things that I'll miss. I have friends since primary 1 until now and it's really hard for me to leave.

Jeremy: I'm never gonna forget it. It's also nice to know that you can talk to someone on the street and when they're from St Andrew's and you're from St Andrew's, you share something. Like, last night, I was at dinner with family friends; I didn't know they were Saints. We started talking and found out that they were Saints. It was cool to hear some of their memories about the school. It's a very unique school, full of unique experiences and a community of caring people. That's something that's never gonna be taken away from me.

9. Jeremy, as School Captain, what are some words of wisdom you would want to tell your peers and juniors
Jeremy: Love and accept everyone. It's integral because not accepting or not adhering to someone's wishes or desires, no matter who that person may be, well, we don't know how significantly and profoundly it can impact people down the road.

This is something that you can overcome throughout your 4 years. You learn through it and grow from it. When you start out, you're very self-involved, very self-conscious – it's all about the competition, it's all about you being prominent and succeeding. But throughout the 4 years, you realise it's not just about yourself but about the community of people around you and how you need to foster relationships in order to succeed at the end of the day.

The St Andrew's STAR Scouts Group is made up of 4 plus 1 section. The group was founded in 1924, 14 years after Scouting was established in Singapore.

St Andrew's Scout Troop
The Scout Troop has a total of 6 patrols and is sponsored by the St Andrews' Secondary School.

From November 17-22 of November, 2015, Singapore Scouts Association will be organizing the SG 50 Jamboree as part of the National SG 50 celebrations. For this Jamboree, about 3,000 participants aged 11 to 17 years old, including local and overseas Scouts and members of other local Uniformed Groups.

During this Jamboree, there will be our Scouting in the Community section. There will be activities to help our Scouts understand the role that they play in the community, and to inculcate the spirit of service and giving within our Scouts.

Scouting in the Community is thus, about bringing the benefits of Scouting into the Community. On that day, Jamboree participants will be visiting homes, charitable organisations and public places to put their Scouting values into action, doing good deeds and creating a positive impact on the society.

Quotable Quotes:
St Andrew's St John Singapore was formed in 1955. Since then, our Corps has been actively building up young saints beyond our core activities such as first aid, foot drill and cadet proficiency courses which are organized by SJAB HQ and other external agencies. We had also successfully built in them character as well as values such as leadership, integrity, discipline, respect and ruggedness. We have few success stories from our old boys – how the CCA has been more than just an "after school" activity to them and how through the SASJ, they had learnt to give and to respect each other. The cadets study and train hard so as to achieve the standards. The camaraderie they had build up lasts for years to come.

Activities:
The Saints Debate team has had a fruitful year in 2015. As past years' debaters support our current team in reaping what they have sown, so does our team make ready to serve their successors in the coming days.

Singapore Secondary Schools Debating Championships 2015

The school team achieved a singular victory on home ground in the first round of 3 preliminary rounds, with 3rd speaker Isaac Arul simultaneously taking home the Best Speaker Award. Isaac went on to take home the same award in Round 3, and was ranked 11th best speaker in Division 2 overall.

Raffles Model United Nations

Saints Debate is currently expanding our programme to include Model United Nations competitions, so as to organically integrate debate into issues of social awareness and real-world engagement. Throughout the three days of the conference, 15 of our students role-played ambassadors or press members from an assigned UN member nation. Under the guidance of former SASS debaters Lim Nengdu, Pramodh Chandran and Melvinder Singh, our 'delegates' engaged in intensive debates over world issues which are currently being deliberated on by the UN. The collaboration between old and new Saints resulted in three days of stimulating debates, first-rate speeches and enthralling performances.

Team Singapore Debate Workshop

Our debaters were fortunate enough to attend Team Singapore's debate workshops at the MOE-ACJC Intercollegiates Debating Championship (MIDCs) 2015. This workshop, conducted on a one-to-one basis, covered a mix of fundamental and advanced debating skills from case construction techniques to framing strategies, before a hands-on tracking session at the Grand Finals of MIDCs 2015. It was a stimulating, if nerve-wracking, experience for our debaters to be coached so closely by our national team.

St Andrew's Junior School Pupils' Learning Festival 2015

Our debaters also put their skills to the test in the SAJS Pupils' Learning Festival. They ran several continuous debate workshops for several levels of the junior school students, teaching them the fundamentals of argumentation and spreading the love of debate.

The debate family continues to grow in strength and spirit.

Books Added
As at this point in writing a total of 205 books have been added to the library collection. Of which 73 were purchased the previous year and were delivered after the writing of last year's report.

Despite the success of having the student librarians help physically select books for consideration for purchase the previous year, the School has decided to discontinue with the practice and search for a more robust method of selecting books.

Partnerships
As in previous years, the Library was the venue for the NRIC registration exercise in the 1st semester and the NHB student health check at the start of the 2nd Semester. We are happy to report that both exercises were carried out smoothly.

The Library continues to be the 'home ground' for the School Debate Society during the National Julia Gabriel Debate Competition. We are happy to report that this year's team managed 1ranked, best speaker in the Division 2 competition. We congratulate Issac Arul being ranked the 11th best speaker at the Julia Gabriel Secondary Schools Debate series.

We train our students to be an independent and a responsible crew, able to interpret and respond to unexpected changes in programme requirements during an event.

We train our students in industry standard software for the production of film and animation such as Autodesk Maya and Maxon Cinema4D and produce creative animation content.

Service:
Saints Production aspires to be one of the most fulfilling and enriching CCA at St Andrew's Secondary School.

Our services are essential for the operation of events and major functions such as orientation camps, Speech Day and Open House. Our main goal in the CCA is to inculcate values of serving and belonging which is congruent to the school's strategic thrust.

Our team of passionate and dedicated crew members constantly ensures that all events are carried out successfully.

Our team also supports the learning of PA systems setup and videography for other students. We have once again participated in the SAJS Pupil Learning Festival and some of our boys assisted in the SAJS Mentorship Program.

Also, some of our Saints Production members learn how to produce their own videos. This can be seen with the It's Our School series of School Values in action.

Our team is also exploring the creation of educational animated videos that can help teach important concepts to students.

Meeting location: Chaplaincy Room

Saints For Christ (SFC) is a CCA that aims to provide students with a fellowship where they feel belonged to, a place where they can grow as Christians, and where they have opportunities to serve the school and fellow Saints.

With activities ranging from devotions, Bible studies, worship encounters (e.g., Saints Ablaze is a quarterly gathering of Christians from Secondary School), outings, sports, games and camps, students have fun bonding with one another even as they are equipped to become mature Christians. The close bond of friendship between students, teachers and pastoral staff is always a highlight in the CCA. This year, one area of personal development we are looking at is students in this CCA to take ownership and come up with activities, for example: Badminton sessions during March holiday breaks, outing or even having lunch together to have fellowship with each other.

Perhaps the quality which is unique to SFC is that one need not possess extraordinary talents or skills to be part of the CCA. Rather, the diversity that comes from different students coming together in friendship and service is a joy to witness. In the coming years, the dream is that more students will be able to experience the love of God, the friendship of brothers, and the joy in service in this CCA known as SFC.

Quotable quotes:
Reaching for greater heights!
SYFC allows me to bond as a team!

This year, we sent in 5 teams for the Singapore Amazing Flying Machine competition [Unpowered Glider]. The boys have to design and build small unpowered gliders (of limited wingspan) to be bungee launched from a designated launcher into scoring zones. They did well in their presentation which requires a good knowledge in the Theory of Flight. However, their gliders did not fly as far as the other teams'. Nonetheless it was a great learning experience for our boys and they had fun in experimenting with the various ideas in glider designs.

We will be having a camp in November this year during which we will visit the Air Force Museum at the Paya Lebar Air base. The boys wll get to see the various aircrafts on display from the Air Force's first possessions like the Cessna 172K, BAC 167 Strikemaster and T-33 Shooting Star trainers, to early aircraft like Hawker Hunter and SF-260 SIAI Marchetti, and finally to more recent acquisitions including the UH-1B Helicopter and A4-S Skyhawk.
