School Song

Lives are in the making here,
Hearts are in the waking here,
Mighty undertaking here,
Up and On!

We are arming for the fight,
Pressing on with all our might,
Pluming wings for higher flight,
Up and On!

Fair before us lies the way,
Time for work and time for play;
Fill the measure while we may,
Up and On!

Life and time will not delay,
Time is running fast away,
Life is now today; today;
Up and On!

Foes in plenty we shall meet,
Hearts courageous scorn defeat;
So we press with eager feet,
Up and On!

Ever onward to the fight,
Ever upward to the Light,
Ever true to GOD and RIGHT,
Up and On!

CHORUS
Up Boys! truest fame
Lies in high endeavour;
Pay the game! keep the flame
Burning brightly ever!

- John Oxenham -

School Hymn

Our Father, by whose servants,
Our School was built of old,
Whose hand has crowned Thy children,
With blessings manifold;
For Thy unfailing mercies,
Far strewn along our way,
With all who passed before us,
We praise Thy name today.

They reaped not where they laboured,
We reap what they have sown;
Our harvest may be garnered,
By ages yet unknown.
The days of old have dowered us
With gifts beyond all praise,
Our Father make us faithful
To serve the coming days.

Before us and beside us,
Still holden by Thy hand,
A cloud of unseen witness,
Our elder comrades stand;
One family unbroken,
We join with one acclaim;
One heart, one voice uplifting
To glorify Thy Name

Principal's Message

I have been greatly encouraged by your commitment to develop our boys into young men who will truly serve the coming days.

Why do we print a School Annual each year? Aren't books going the way of the Dodo bird? Given the pace of technological advancement, it is not irreverent or irrelevant to ask such questions.

The truth is, however, that somehow print or 'hardcopy' does seem to be more durable than the ephemeral pages of a website or a digital storage device at least for now.

What you may not yet realise, dear Saints, is that this volume will mean a great deal to you in ten or twenty years time. So find somewhere safe to keep it. As Old Boys of the school will attest, leafing through the pages of their old School Annuals brings back great memories of activities and events, but most of all, of friends and teachers.

I, for one, will cherish this year's Annual for years to come. It documents my first year here at St Andrew's Secondary School. Just like a Secondary One student might feel, everything has been new, exciting, occasionally bewildering but often endearing.

To the wider community of St Andrew's who will also be reading these pages - parents, Old Boys and partners - I hope that you will be inspired by what has been achieved by our boys in 2011. I have been greatly encouraged by your commitment to develop our boys into young men who will truly serve the coming days.

Through my interactions with you, I know that, at St Andrew's, we are not interested in success as the world often depicts it. Instead, the St Andrew's community is intent on building men who have a heart to serve as future husbands, fathers and leaders in all spheres of life with compassion for the least, the last and the lost.

Chaplain's Message

To Serve The Coming Days

"To serve the coming days", the theme for this year's school magazine, is a timely and appropriate point of reflection for all of us – whether we are students, educators, parents or former students of St Andrew's School.

As we reflect, we ask ourselves what does it mean "to serve" and what exactly are "the coming days".

Many young people understand what it means to be served.

They have maids or mums at home who tidy up their rooms, cook their meals, clean the houses, wash and iron their clothes. Or when they are outside their homes, they have waiters serving them or elderly cleaners clearing up their tables after meals at the canteen or food courts, etc. It is a nice feeling to be served.

Yet, there is a greater feeling of accomplishment and fulfilment when we are serving others. However, many young people find it difficult to serve.

We are finding lesser heroes who would help the "uncles & aunties" in keeping the school clean by picking up trash left behind by inconsiderate students.

We are finding lesser heroes who would spend time and energy helping a person with special needs, eg. children with autism or dyslexia or those who are physically-challenged, just to name a few.

We are finding lesser heroes who would travel to a third-world country to bless the residents leaving in slums or sordid villages.

But, to serve, we must.

In the coming days, there will be opportunities offered for many young people to serve. It could be at home. It could be in school. It could also be in the various community services run by the Singapore Anglican Community Services (SACS) or it could be overseas Anglican community-involvement projects in countries like Indonesia, Thailand, Cambodia, Vietnam, Laos, Nepal or Myanmar.

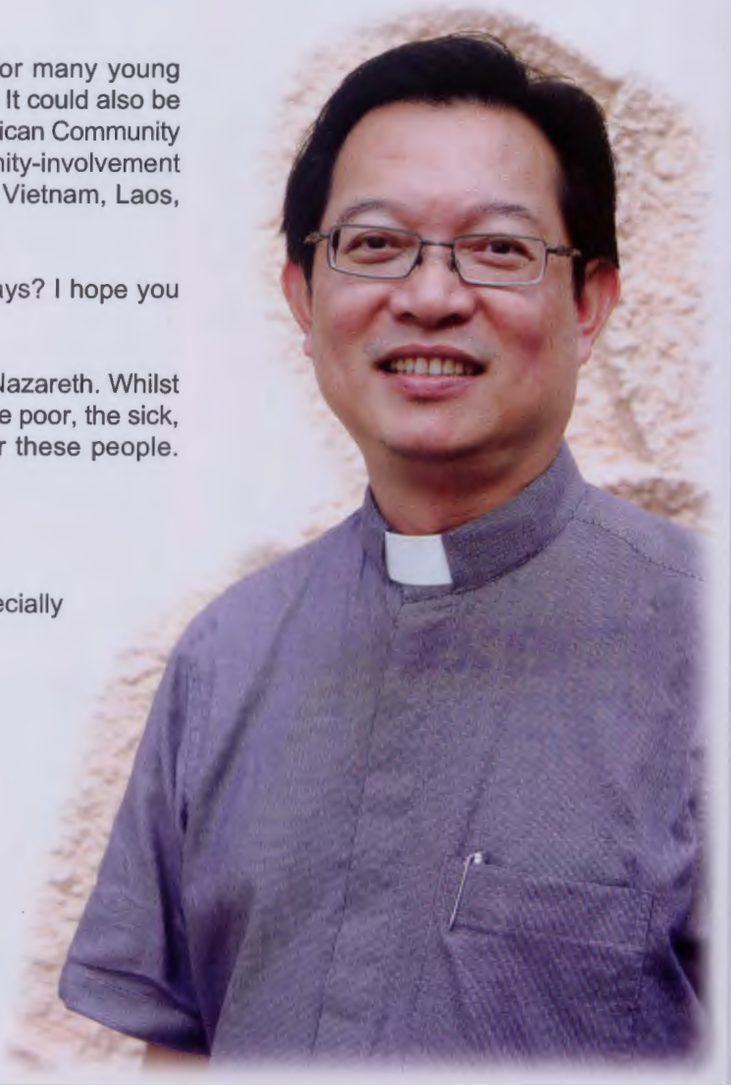

Will you consider serving in these areas in the coming days? I hope you will consider.

My greatest hero who serves is none other than Jesus of Nazareth. Whilst on earth, He served the marginalized, the down-trodden, the poor, the sick, the oppressed, the rejects, etc... because of His love for these people.

"He (Jesus) came not to be served but to serve…"
(Matthew 20:28).

I am emulating His example of serving. You can too…especially in the coming days.

Founder's Day

Founder's Day

"Lives are in the making here, Hearts are in the waking here."

Our 149th Founder's Day was a grand event with many distinguished guests including our Guest-of-Honour Mr Koh Boon Hwee, Chairman of the Nanyang Technological University Board of Trustees.

Founderís Day is a celebrated school event to recognise students who have performed well academically and those who have excelled in their respective CCAs in sports, the uniformed groups and clubs and societies. Dressed smartly, our saints marched upstage to receive their awards. It was a triumphant moment for many of them who have laboured and who now reap the fruit of their labours on special day.

The celebration began with our Guest-of-Honour inspecting the Guard-of-Honour contingent. Our boys in their uniforms had perfected their drills and gave Mr Koh a rousing welcome with our award winning band performing in the background.

The invited guests then proceeded to the school hall for the Founder's Day service. Reverend Michael Tay led the school in an opening prayer, followed by a recital of excerpts from the New and Old Testament by our school captain, Russ Hoe. We were honoured to have the very Reverend Ong lead the school in another special prayer.

Mr. Phoon Kok Kwong, a strong vocalist, led the school in the traditional singing of the school song with much gusto before our principal Mrs Toh delivered her opening speech.

Mr. Koh Boon Hwee then delivered a heart-warming speech affirming the quality education in St Andrew's Secondary School. He struck a chord with many saints in sharing the unique and quality education in St Andrew's Secondary School. The strong foundation laid in the moral values and character of saints has been a testament to the quality education St Andrew's School has provided. Saints from the Junior School were encouraged to continue their education journey at the secondary school as one family unbroken. He truly epitomises the slogan: "Once a Saint, Always a Saint."

After the service, the guests proceeded to the Centre of Excellence where many of the Saints showcased their excellent photographic works from the "Heart of the School" photographic exhibition held earlier in the term.

"I must say, it is good to be home." Mrs Belinda Charles, ex-principal of SASS said as she looked around her with a sense of nostalgia. "If I were to be remembered, I would want to be remembered by how I understood how the boys thought," she said as she expressed her opinion on the deep impression left in many a Saint's mind about her.

Mr Koh commented in an interview with our student journalist, Yu Sheng, "I believe that there is no difference, modern or not... students must always be curious, have the urge to continuously learn and be able to differentiate right from wrong." He then left the Saints with a "goal" to achieve while talking about what constitutes a holistic schooling experience. "Students must enjoy their school, do their best in whatever they do, take part in their CCAs and most of all, value all their relationships formed within the school." Profound words indeed for many of us to take back home.

The 149th Founder's Day has touched the hearts of many saints, both past and present. We are reminded again of the privilege and blessing to be a member of the Saints family.

Founder's Day :

Speech by Mr Koh Boon Hwee

Mr Koh Boon Hwee studied at St Andrew's School and went on to obtain a 1st Class Honours Degree from Imperial College, London in Mechanical Engineering. He also obtained an MBA with distinction from the Harvard Business School. Mr Koh has always been a committed old boy of St Andrew's School. He led the building fund efforts for St Andrew's Village and, when he was just a very young Old Boy, back in 1974, he set up the Lenn Mei Ling Award for best progress in Mathematics in honour of his teacher who had died from cancer.

Distinguished Guests, Board of Governors, Principals, Vice Principals and teachers of St Andrew's School, Prize Winners and their parents, Members of the graduating class,

Progress in St Andrew's

Congratulations to all of you – teachers, students, parents, friends and alumni of St Andrew's – for all that has been achieved this year. I understand that our Junior School boys were a formidable force in both the Junior and Senior Divisions of the Primary School Rugby National Competition emerging Champions. The Performing Arts in the Secondary School achieved a hattrick with their triple Gold in Band, Choir and Drama at this year's Singapore Youth Festival. The boys who were involved in these achievements, I know, will never forget the experience of training hard and succeeding in these competitions. Many other boys represented St Andrew's in all kinds of ways; well done to all of you.

I know that you bade a fond farewell to Mrs Belinda Charles and Mrs Wai Yin Pryke who served St Andrew's with distinction. It was my privilege to have worked closely with both of them and I believe that the education fraternity continues to keep these two energetic ladies very busy with Wai Yin at the helm of the brand new English Language Institute and Belinda returning to her first love of teaching in her capacity as Dean of the Academy of Principals.

The staff and students of the two schools have been getting to know their new Principals: Mrs Wong and Mrs Toh. They are continuing to build on the quality systems and strong relationships established by their predecessors.

Theme of 'To Serve the Coming Days'

The theme for this year's Founder's Day is 'To Serve the Coming Days'. It is taken from the school hymn. The verse it comes from goes:

The days of old have dowered us
With gifts beyond all praise,
Our Father, make us faithful
To serve the coming days.

I would like to speak about two aspects of this idea of serving the coming days. First, to reflect on what it means that we will be 150 years old as a school next year and how we might serve together as part of the celebration of our 150th anniversary. Secondly, I want to speak to the graduating students and to say something about the idea of 'the coming days' – there is something a little ominous, a little forboding about those words but they are also words full of promise. I want to reflect on how you might seek to serve the real world through serving in the virtual world.

Our 150th Anniversary will be next year. As we look back to the origins of St Andrew's School as a small school serving a handful of boys back when the population of Singapore numbered just a few thousand, surely we must be amazed at what our island nation has become. St Andrew's School's history is intertwined with the history of Singapore. It really is a privilege to be part of that history just by belonging to our school. In the coming weeks and months, alumni, parents, teachers and students will come together to plan many celebratory events and gatherings.

I am told that there will be a Dedication Service in February with over 5000 members of St Andrew's Village gathered on the rugby field – some of you may be involved in putting out 5000 chairs on the rugby field! I am sure that for the Carnival in April next year, there will be boys and teachers staying up to all hours to set up stalls. For the Arts Festival in May, you will put in hours of practice. For the Founder's Day in August, many of you will be involved in your ceremonial best. And then there will be the Gala Dinner in September – our 150th birthday bash. I think it will be a joyous and unforgettable time. Savour the coming days as you work together.

You will remember this celebration for many many years to come. I know, because I was here in Primary Six when we celebrated our 100th Anniversary. Today, I can no longer remember the lessons, the classes, the tests, or the exams, or even some of the sporting events, but I remember clearly the preparation and celebration of the 100th Anniversary. So those of you who will be here next year, make sure you participate.

Now, on a more sober note, what does it mean to 'Serve the Coming Days' given the way the world is going. I believe that God has created each one of us for a purpose and He placed us on earth at this particular time, in this particular place to fulfil that purpose.

What will these coming days hold? In many ways, things may not change. People will still have the same propensity to do good and to do evil.

In many ways things will change. Those of you who are graduating, when you were in Primary One, mobile phones had nothing like the functionality they have now. You could not take a photograph with a phone. You could not access the internet on a phone. Now, these things are taken for granted.

The virtual world is the source of a great deal that is good but also much that is disturbing and harmful. Through the internet, people can rally each other to a cause, help others in dire need as happened when the Japanese Tsunami struck. But through the internet, people can also teach each other how to create a bomb, how to exploit others, how to hate. It is sobering to consider the role the internet had in making Anders Behring Breivik, the extremist who gunned down young people in Norway.

There is one particular challenge I want to make to you, gentlemen. Your generation has been referred to as Internet Natives – the Internet has been around for as long as you can remember. I have a particular challenge to you as Saints to go out and to be a Force for Good on the web.

Social entrepreneurs on the internet are helping impoverished communities leapfrog to a higher level of development because of the education, resources and networking that they bring about with their innovative goods and services.

Let me illustrate for you from my own observations and experience in the corporate world. Strange as it may seem, water is one of the scarcest resources in the world. Not water in general, but potable drinking water. We take it for granted in Singapore, but not so in many other places in the world. In East Africa, for example, an average of 3 hours per day is spent by someone getting to a water point and carrying the water back home. Unfortunately, most of these water points are broken as the government does not fix the broken pumps. Rakesh Rajani, a well educated young man, like many of you, founded Twaweza East Africa, and was determined to make life easier for his countrymen. Using the internet, he mapped every water point in Tanzania. If the pumps are working, they are green. If they are not, they are marked red. He encouraged the young people everywhere to report the status of the pump by SMS so the map is updated constantly. To reach the whole country, he encouraged the daily newspapers to print the map and status each day. This resulted in pressure on the government department responsible to fix the pumps, significantly improving the time lost searching for water. Only your generation, with its internet and mobile phone savvy, could conceive of an idea like this.

You have a choice, you can choose to use the virtual world developing for good, taking a stand to serve humanity through choosing, advocating, endorsing, 'liking' all that is worthy, all that is excellent online and rejecting, sidelining, refusing to be part of all that is degrading, inhumane, dishonourable on the internet.

You may think that you are only one person, a young person at that, and that you do not have the power to bring about good. The truth is quite the opposite. Each one of us can make a difference. May you serve the coming days with courage and conviction.

Before I end, I would like to address another choice many of you make when you finish primary school, and that is, whether to continue to St. Andrew's Secondary, or to go to what you may think is a better school. The definition of "better" in this regard refers to academic standards. I would like to share with you my perspective from having hired and developed thousands of people in the organizations I have been involved with in the private sector. If it were true that academic excellence is the passport to success, then since we have almost 1600 people every year with straight As in the A levels, we would not be complaining about the shortage of leaders in every field in Singapore, from politics, to business, to our community, to education. The truth is, leadership is not developed by surrounding yourself with people who are exactly the same as you. If you choose to go to a school where everyone roughly has the same grades, come from the same backgrounds, live in the same vicinity, I am almost certain you will not develop leadership skills. It comes from being in a school like St. Andrew's, where we take students of all stripes, both those who are great academically, and those who are average, those who are rich, as well as those who are poor – it is only in a diverse environment like this that leadership can be developed. At least in the corporate world, I can tell you this, success often accrues to those who come from very normal schools.

I wish you the very best and look forward to working alongside you as fellow Old Boys of St Andrew's in the years ahead, fulfilling the purpose for which God has created us.

Founder's Day:

Speech by School Dux

A very good evening to our Guest-of-Honour, distinguished guests, members of the board, principals, vice-principals, teachers, parents and fellow Saints. It is a great pleasure and honour to be making this speech on behalf of the class of 2010.

Like many seated in the audience, for me, school life in St. Andrew's certainly brings back countless fond memories.

My four-year stint in St. Andrew's was truly an amazing experience—all the friendships fostered, knowledge gained and moral values learnt. I must say, along my journey here, I was endowed with committed teachers, comforting friends, as well as an optimistic outlook towards a stressful school life, without which I would not have succeeded.

St. Andrew's provides a holistic approach to the education of Saints—producing men with wisdom and stature. One patent manifestation of such an all-rounded education would be the myriad of learning opportunities that caters to the entire community of Saints, both in the form of academic enrichment as well as social involvement and engagement.

The RKS Adams' class, which I am grateful to have been part of, was introduced to a wide variety of enrichment programs that extended throughout my four fulfilling years here. The River Studies Project, which Mr. Michael Lim is madly passionate about, provided us with a greater understanding of the environmental condition of our Kallang River and the extent of environmental degradation that our water bodies have suffered. Our cognizance of water as a scarce and finite, yet indispensable, resource further reminds us to cherish the potable water flowing through our taps daily. Above all, this program opened up a new perspective in us: we now value and appreciate water as a necessity and in years to come, will champion efforts to safeguard our water supply and our mother Earth.

If you ask me about the most memorable CIP I had taken part in, I would say it's the collection of used items and newspapers from Potong Pasir estate that were exchanged for money as donations for a village in Philippines. We collected those items from all the households—block by block, floor by floor and door by door. It wasn't easy; in fact, it was exhausting. But it was worthwhile. The bonding amongst the classmates was invaluable; and the notion that donations collected could help rebuild a village in Philippines was heartwarming. This CIP reveals the compassion in residents of Potong Pasir to care and share for the less fortunate.

Prudence and courage—I believe most of you in the audience would relate these two characteristics to our respected former Principal, Mrs. Belinda Charles. As the linchpin of St. Andrew's, she is remembered as a devoted, passionate and loving Principal. Mrs. Charles made time to connect with her students and established an undisputed respect amongst the boys. Despite the load of administrative matters under her, she made no delay to remedy a problematic situation. One classic example would be her incessant reminders for our young Saints "to study hard and to not give up" after she had reviewed our results. Her motherly nature extended across all her motivating speeches as she truly cared for the welfare of each of us. On behalf of the class of 2010, I would like to thank Mrs. Charles for her unstinting support in all endeavors, especially during tough times. On that note, I trust that Mrs. Toh will do a good job in pushing St. Andrew's to greater heights.

Now, let's give our greatest thanks to our dedicated team of teachers for their care, tolerance and invaluable patience in class.

I would like to start off with Miss Tan Yii Yann, who was our form teacher from Sec One. It's this faithful attachment to our class that made her our constant inspiration. She took care of all administrative matters efficiently and cared for our class. I remember vividly that just weeks before the 'O' levels, she urged us "not to lose our steam". I would like to thank you on behalf of 4SA, Miss Tan, for your unwavering support.

Mrs. Low Geok Peng, a down-to-earth Physics teacher, takes a systematic approach towards teaching and I, personally, have been deeply influenced by her. She once said, after a few similar queries from the class, that "When in doubt, follow the definitions". She continued to reassure our class that questions set in examinations are disguised to complicate the basics we have learnt, and that we should be calm and discern the fundamental Physics concepts hidden within. Thank you, Mrs. Low for your steadfast approach in teaching us.

To Mrs. Yeo See Wan, we would like to thank you for your perpetual love for Mathematics and on behalf of the cohort of 2011, thank you for your passion for St. Andrew's and willingness to postpone your retirement plans.

To Mrs. Yeo Yuen Chin, we would like to thank you for your time and effort in going through the Chemistry syllabus during the June Holidays and the many Saturdays preceding our 'O' levels. Also, we would also like to thank Mrs. Jacinta Leong for your guidance and timely reminders to stay focused.

Mr. Liang Sea Fong, a devoted English Language and literature teacher, takes on a tech-savvy and innovative approach in his teachings such as reviewing inspirational speeches made by Al Pacino. In this way, Mr. Liang effectively brought the learning of English onto a more engaging and personal level—one that students can easily access.

I believe the 2010 cohort have only one thing to say to Mr Koh Yong Mong, our social studies mentor: Thanks, Venice did eventually come out!

Mr. Lam Wai Leong is one unique history teacher who is pragmatic yet humorous when the time calls for it. Thank you for going the extra mile by coming out with your indispensable source-based question guide, Sir.

To Mrs Daphne Ang, I must say that you definitely are a kind, loving, passionate, caring and helpful Geography teacher who brings joy to people around you. There are far too many teachers for me to thank and I must apologise for not being able to do so now. To deal with difficulties and obstacles in life, we should maintain a sanguine and calm disposition—because the darkest hour is only sixty minutes. I believe I owe a lot of that optimism to some encouraging friends here in St. Andrew's.

Two Davids, I must say, made a rather significant impact on me. Firstly, David Mark Lim Ti is a straight-cut, unpretentious person who engages well with his friends and won't hesitate to give critical remarks on his friends' work. Personally, David encouraged me to look towards the brighter side of things and comforted me when I was in a quandary. David, what a great friend you are! Secondly, David Chibueze Daniel, who is easily noticed in school due to his 2-metre frame, is a great friend in terms of his candid and sincere outlook towards treating his friends. Personally, I most remember him at the big steps where he would approach me and ask me about school life. He always had a smile on his face, and that somehow was transmitted to me in the form of a moment of laughter and smiles when he told me not to be too stressed but to get some fun. Thanks, David, and do work hard for your 'O' levels -- not much fun now, but there will be a time for fun.

As the Dux of 2010, I would like to encourage the Saints here to continue to have faith in your teachers and yourself, and make a continuous, relentless effort to discover the world of knowledge that awaits you. As Sir Winston Churchill puts it: "Continuous effort—not strength or intelligence—is the key to unlocking our potential." Also, you have to keep in mind that the key to academic success is by observing intellectual humility—to be humbled by the many things you have learnt; as you know, deep within your heart, that there is so much more to be learnt.

I shall end off by saying that failure is the only condiment that gives success its flavor—so overcome your fears and press on towards your dreams, for there will be a time for you to savour success.

Saints, I urge you all to keep to your own faith, to persevere and have the courage to serve the coming days!

Up and On!

Building an Appreciation for the Arts

Our SYF Journey

Saints Choir

In 2009, following the Silver achieved during the SYF Central Judging Competition, a burning flame ignited in the choristers' hearts; a desire to achieve greater heights. In December of 2010, we had our own choir concert, "CANO", at the Young Musicians' Society. Following that, the choir's next destination was Hoi An, Vietnam. There, we participated in the 1st Vietnam International Choir Festival and Competition in March 2011 as a form of preparation for the upcoming SYF Central Judging Competition.

The trip turned out to be an eye-opener for many. It allowed us to discover a completely new level of detail in our music just when we thought we knew where to place every single ending consonant and dynamic change. This made us realise that in order to achieve the highest level of artistry, we needed to take our pieces to a much higher level.

As the day of the SYF competition drew near, rehearsals stretched on for longer periods and the mid-year examinations slowly headed our way. Thankfully, Ms. Deborah Gan, one of our choir teachers, together with Mr Ng Chee Keong, one of the rugby teachers, helped us by organising mental skills sessions to prepare our hearts and minds for the event.

Finally, it was performance time. We were inspired by our conductor, Mr. Albert Tay, who told us, "Gold? Gold with Honours? So what? What matters most is that we make good music to the best of our abilities." And so we gave our best in the performance and our hard work paid off. For the first time in history, the Saints Choir achieved its first Gold. Praise be to God!

Saints Drama Club

There is a famous quote that "Every accomplishment starts with the decision to try." This is exactly what the Saints Drama Club set out to do.

In September 2010, after the successful run of our very own musical, 'Up & On!' we decided that we wanted nothing less than to achieve a Gold award in the 2011 SYF Central Judging.

We embarked on a long and arduous journey, perfecting our skills and working as a team to achieve our dream. Our determination was further fuelled by the fact that we now had a venue to practise in a room that we could call our own.

The actors went through gruelling training sessions, sometimes even on Sundays, leaving nothing to chance. Together with our talented directors - Ian Loy & Natalie Hennedige - and our favourite voice trainer Fanny, we worked on every scene, ever actor and every movement. It was truly a team effort. The efforts finally paid off when we achieved the Gold Award.

This, for the Saints Drama Club, is just the beginning...

Band

Once again, the St. Andrew's Secondary Military Band (SASMB) was awarded a Gold with Honours at the 2011 SYF Central Judging.

However, this was not without going through a long period of rigorous preparation under the tutelage of one of the most prestigious band conductor, Mr. David Glosz. His perfectionism inspired the boys to strive harder and deliver the best that they could. Each and every player was determined to perfect his musical skills.

Before the SYF competition, the band went to Kuala Lumpur during the March holidays to have combined rehearsals with other schools. The band exchanges held during the training sessions also helped the boys to pick up skills and learn from players of other schools.

Although the intense training period took a toll on the boys, constant motivation and the determination to excel helped them persevere. True enough, the band delivered an excellent performance on the day of the competition.

As a result, the band was also invited to play at the Closing Night for the Singapore Youth Festival in July.

Sec 5NA Camp Aspire

For the first time this year, a two-day, one-night camp was organised for our senior Saints from 5N2 and 5N3 on January 27 - 28. The objectives of this camp were to build in them a strong sense of belonging towards the school and to increase their awareness of: firstly, the gap between the 'N' and 'O' levels, and secondly, the importance of gearing for academic excellence. This was achieved through several team-building games and talks on target-setting. There was also a session conducted by our vice-principal, Mr Goh Boon Pin. What made the camp really special was that it was organised and conducted by the Year Heads, Jacob's Ladder committee and the boys' form teachers themselves. The highlight of the camp was an overnight hike. Setting out at 3am and armed with little sleep and heavy backpacks, the boys marched a total distance of 10 km back to school. It was truly a demonstration of their strong spirit of persistence and perseverance! Four hours later, at 7.25 am, the loud cheer of 'O' when the Saints go Marching In' broke the silence of the morning in the courtyard as the senior Saints ran in to the applause of the rest of the school. It was indeed a proud moment for these boys.

We wish them all the best in the upcoming 'O' level examinations!

Mother Tongue Highlights

Background

The teaching of Mother Tongue in school has encountered challenges due to more students speaking and using English as their first language at home and in school. The declining standards and command of Mother Tongue amongst the younger generations continue to be a challenge and a concern. We hope to enhance the effectiveness of teaching Mother Tongue as a second language in a bilingual environment in order to meet the learning needs of students. Through the many new and innovative programs that we have initiated this year, we hope that the students will be more interested in learning Mother Tongue.

Structured Reading Program for Chinese Unit

At the start of this year, our department initiated a structured reading program. Our reading program consists of five main components.

Firstly, we revamped our Newspaper Reading program. In the past, students did a mundane routine of checking their dictionaries and writing reflection reports. Presently, we have come up with a variety of approaches towards newspaper reading. For example, students do mind maps to train their organisation and writing skills. They hold discussions and debate on current issues related to youths so as to practise oral presentation skills.

Next, we sourced for and introduced two suitable and interesting Chinese reading books for our lower secondary Express students. We came up with a series of activities that aims to help the students in their speaking and reading of Chinese based on the two storybooks.

Thirdly, our department introduced a series of reading materials from the start of this year. It involved Secondary One to Five students as they have to read the reading material provided by their teachers every Wednesday morning. There are different articles for each level.

Fourthly, we have applied to be part of the MOE's CPDD (Curriculum Planning Development Division) Reading Project which is a three-year program. There will be collaborative learning and sharing of resources between the participating schools. The students will be given chances to participate in external competitions.

Lastly, our department is planning an immersion trip to Taiwan in March 2012. It will be an exchange of ideas for the reading program and a good chance for the students to interact with the local students there.

All the afore-mentioned components of the reading program aims to inculcate in the students a life-long interest in reading and learning through this initiative.

Mother Tongue Highlights

MTL Fortnight Program

In a recent MOE announcement to enhance the teaching of Mother Tongue Languages (MTL) so as to develop students into proficient users of the language, one of the key recommendations proposed by the MTL Review Committee was to create an environment conducive to MTL usage and leaming. As a start, St Andrew's School's Chinese Department has come up with a structured programme to create an environment that encourages our Chinese students to appreciate the culture associated with the language so that they will be encouraged to speak it. The Chinese Department organised an Annual School-based CL Fortnight for our Secondary 2 students. This took place between 18 July and 3 August 2011.

1. Students learnt Adobe Premier (ICT teaching and learning) and worked in groups to dub short clips in Mandarin as well as provide Mandarin subtitles for the clips.
2. Buddy-reading - Students performed skit presentations to show comprehension of what they had read.
3. Reading marathon - Sec 2 students mentored Pri 4 students.
4. Mandarin Singing Competition
5. Students shared lines of appreciation for teachers (for Teacher's Day) on Facebook.
6. Movie screenings

Chinese Cultural-cum-Drama Camp

The Chinese Cultural-cum-Drama Camp was held from 31 May 2011 to 1 June 2011. The objective of the Chinese Cultural Camp was to promote and awareness of Chinese culture. During the camp, the students learnt about Chinese Wushu and Chinese face Painting. They were also trained on phonetics and acting skills. Most importantly, it aimed to stimulate their creativity as students needed to come up with their own scripts for their performance. This was the first time we organised this activity as we felt that it was essential for our students who come mostly from an English-speaking background to have an opportunity for them to learn more about their culture and improve their language through the activities conducted. The students had to put up their creative drama acts in the auditorium on the second day of the camp.

Effective Partnership between Teachers and Parents

The Tamil Department has been practising a method which has proven to be very effective for the graduating students to improve their oratorical and conversational skills. The Tamil Language teachers maintain a close relationship with the parents of the graduating students who have contributed immensely and this has resulted in good Oral examination results.

The teachers organised and carried out workshops for the parents. They were taught how to carry out oral practice for their sons, informed about the rubrics of the oral examination and provided with the oral passages and discussion topics via email.

Then, the parents trained their sons on the oral passages and conversed with them on the topics at home. The parents provided them with feedback and the students learnt from them. Hence, besides teachers training students in school, they were also given extra oral practice at home by their parents.

On top of this, the teachers invited the parents to act as oral examiners along with them so that they would be fully aware of how an oral examination is conducted. This practice is considered a "Good Practice" initiated by the Tamil Department as it has proven to be effective and other departments are encouraged to carry it out too in order to further motivate the boys in speaking their Mother Tongue.

Malay Language Innovation - Heritage Trail using Ipod for Sec 2 & 3 Malay Classes

Our Sec 2 and 3 students went on a heritage trail at Kampong Glam on 12 April. Equipped with an Ipod each, students worked in groups to answer questions based on the basic information stored in the Ipod. This activity managed to engage the students as they learned at their own pace, walking and discovering the Malay heritage district. This was a student-centred activity as the students found out the basic information in the Ipod and walked around the area to look for more information required to answer the questions given. As students walked around, they made their own discoveries about the place they never knew existed. This activity was a good experiential learning for our students and successfully integrated ICT. The Malay Language teachers also use Facebook to discuss school work and school matters with their students. Groups have been created, for example, the Sec 1 Malay Class Group and the Poetry Recital Group. The use of Facebook has made it easier for the teachers to disseminate urgent messages and for students to seek clarification regarding their assignments.

Singapore Quality Class (SQC) Award

Business Excellence is about embarking on a journey to attain world-class standards of performance. It is a journey without a finishing line. The Business Excellence initiative helps organisations to strengthen their management systems and processes for high performance. It is based on an internationally comparable and holistic model for managing an enterprise for excellence. Organisations have to continuously improve and innovate on their management systems and processes to stay ahead of competitions. The HYPERLINK "http://www.spring.gov.sg/qualitystandards/be/bec/pages/singapore-quality-class.aspx" (SQC) is a key milestone of overall performance on the business excellence model. It gives recognition to organisations that have attained a commendable level of performance.

BEACON, the instrument that provides a framework for assessing organisations against the business excellence framework, covers the following areas:

- Leadership
- Planning
- Information
- People
- Processes
- Customers
- Results

In September this year, we were informed that the Business Excellence Assessment Committee has endorsed our School's SQC status. This means the structures and processes that we have put in place are sound and well-deployed.

Sustained Achievement Award (SAA)

The Sustained Achievement Award (SAA) recognises schools' ability in sustaining good outcomes over a number of years, in five areas: Academic Value-Added, Aesthetics, CHERISH, Sports and Uniformed Group. Schools that receive an Achievement Award in the same category over three consecutive years are awarded the SAA.

Criteria

SAA (Uniformed Groups) - achieve silver or gold in at least 2 Uniformed Groups for 3 consecutive years and school must have at least 25% of students in Uniformed Groups
SAA (Sports) - achieve top 4 positions at national school competitions in at least 2 competitions for 3 consecutive years and school must have at least 25% of students in Sports
SAA (Academic Value-added) - achieve silver or gold in value-added for 3 consecutive years

Our school has achieved
1) SAA (UG) since 2004
2) SAA (Sports) since 2007
3) SAA (Academic Value-added) for Express Stream since 2009

First Day of School

The first day of school, as with every new beginning, was a year full of unprecedented opportunities which awaited us. As we gathered in the field, ready for the ceremonial first morning assembly of the year, everyone seemed excited and cheery, not what I expected at all. In the midst of all the routine welcome backs and catching up, the same we would fail never to do every year, there seemed to be an atmosphere of euphoria that lightened up the mood. It wasn't just going through the motions yet again; rather, it was as if new life had been renewed within me. This was indeed a good thing. It was a refreshing sight to see the new Secondary 1 faces, so young yet so innocent as well.

As the day went by, an indescribable passion and motivation suddenly ignited inside me. Perhaps this was the doing of the burning desire to do well, achieve and to soar ? I personally enjoyed myself that day, being able to once again see all my beloved teachers and friends who had brought such fun to my school life the years before. This year will definitely be a packed one, since it is 'O' level year for us. Everyone will be studying their heads off because just like me, they want to excel too. So for the graduating classes, this is an absolutely crucial year. What I am looking forward to is seeing that L1R5 of 6 points in my 'O' level certificate. Nothing else could possibly beat that ecstasy, because it would show that all my hard work, effort and diligence have paid off.

Well , all those and the faith that our good Lord will pull us through the times of trials and the times when we simply feel like giving up. "Do not be anxious in anything. Instead, in every situation, through prayer and petition with thanksgiving, tell your requests to God. And the peace that transcends all understanding will guard your hearts and minds in Christ Jesus" - Philippians 4:6-7.

So too my fellow band of brothers, Saints, as we proceed into this new year, have our fair share of fun and joy, face a new set of challenges and mental tests, let us work together to strive towards our personal goals. Moreover, knowing at the back of our minds, that there is, and that there will be, a light at the end of every tunnel. Up and On .

Internationalisation Programme

Outgoing

Sixty-five Sec 2 students and 7 teachers went on a 6-day immersion programme to Beijing, China from 28 May to 2 June 2011.

Thirty Sec 2 students and 3 teachers went on a separate 6-day immersion programme to Taiwan during the same period.

Sec 2 RKS Adams students and 3 teachers went on a cultural and adventure experience to Cambodia from 4 to 8 June 2011.

Sec 3 RKS Adams students went on a CIP trip to Chiangmai, Thailand from 1 to 5 June 2011 with three accompanying teachers.

Sec 4 RKS Adams students went on a service learning trip to the Philippines from 26 to 30 January 2011. They raised funds to build a house and to donate a water purification system. They also did some painting work at Brookeside, Manila.

Internationalisation Programme

Incoming

We had the privilege to host the following groups this year:

- School Directors and HODs from Educational Department of Bangkok Archdiocese, Thailand in January.
- Educators, parents and students from IEP Chinorotwittayalai School, Thailand in March.
- Teachers and students from Prince Royal College, Thailand in March.
- Teachers and students from Suzhou No. 1 Middle School, China in July
- Band from Killarney Heights High School, Australia in September
- Principals and teachers from The University High School, Australia in September
- Prof Claudia Rugart from Ministry of Education, Germany in October
- Choir from Eltham College, Australia in December

Some students' reflections

When we visited a primary school, I found out that they do not have any fans and proper tables and chairs. It is shocking to know that they can still concentrate and study there. I learned that we should appreciate what we have in our school more and should stop complaining as there are many students in other parts of the world that are studying in schools with no basic facilities.

Alvin Choo (2A), participant in the Sec 2 RKS Adams Cultural and Adventure experience to Cambodia

One of the most memorable things I did was to help the local farmers to harvest radish. It was a tough and tiring job and a lot of work and effort needed to be put in. I learned how previous food is and how much a single grain of rice can mean so much to a farmer.

Clement Tay (2D), participant in the Sec 2 Immersion Programme to Taiwan

GCE O Level Results
Singapore-Cambridge 2010

Our students in the Express classes have done well and have given a performance equivalent to the good one we attained last year. For the third time in a row, we have managed to keep to a Mean Subject Grade of 3.

Most of our students qualified for junior college and almost all qualify for a polytechnic course. Students obtaining five distinctions make up 1 in every 4.
We have continued to see some creditable distinction rates for our school: 64% distinctions for Maths, Add Maths and 59% distinctions for Principles of Accounts; 56% distinctions for Combined Science, 67% distinctions for Physics, 52% distinctions for Chemistry and 30% distinctions for English.

We are proud to announce the following top students, three of whom obtained 7 and more A1s.

- Ong Jun Jie, Chairman of the Mathematics Society and a veteran in the Maths Olympiads, from Holy Innocents Primary with a PSLE aggregate in the 240s, scored 8 A1s and 1 A2 and had an L1R5 aggregate of 6
- Timothy Tan Ziming, member of the School Military Band, from SAJS with a PSLE aggregate in the 240s, scored 7 A1s and had an L1R5 aggregate of 6
- Hargaven Singh Gill, School Rugby player, from SAJS with a PSLE aggregate in the 250s, scored 7 A1s and had an L1R5 aggregate of 6
- Chia Zhe Min, Senior Patrol Leader of the Boy Scouts, from SAJS with a PSLE aggregate in the 250s, scored 6 A1s and 1 A2 and had an L1R5 aggregate of 7
- Harris Kristanto Hidayat, who joined us only in Sec 3 from Indonesia, scored 6 A1s and had an L1R5 aggregate of 8
- Wang Peng Cheng, Vice President of the Saints Choir, from Kheng Cheng School with a PSLE aggregate in the 240s, scored 5 A1s and 3 A2s and had an L1R5 aggregate of 8
- Jethro Siao Shao Hao, Treasurer and Sectional Leader in the School Military Band, from SAJS with a PSLE aggregate in the 190s, scored 5 A1s and 2 A2s and had an L1R5 aggregate of 8
- Jeric Kwan Mun Chung, Patrol Leader in the Boy Scouts, from Townsville Primary with a PSLE aggregate in the 240s, scored 5 A1s and 2 A2s and had an L1R5 aggregate of 7
- Joel Wee Choong Soon, Squad Leader and Sergeant in the Boys Brigade, from SAJS with a PSLE aggregate in the 220s, scored 5 A1s and 2 A2s and had an L1R5 aggregate of 8
- Hong Qibin, School Basketball player, from SAJS with a PSLE aggregate in the 230s, scored 5 A1s and 1 A2 and had an L1R5 aggregate of 7
- Marlon Wong Yao Hong, Sectional Leader in the School Military Band, from SAJS with a PSLE aggregate in the 220s, scored 4 A1s and 3 A2s and had an L1R5 aggregate of 9
- Paul Cheung Yu Hern, First Sergeant in the National Cadet Corps, from Pei Hwa Primary with a PSLE aggregate in the 240s, scored 4 A1s and 3 A2s and had an L1R5 aggregate of 8
- Dean Ng Sheng Wei, School Prefect and School Waterpolo and Badminton player, from SAJS with a PSLE aggregate in the 240s, scored 4 A1s and 3 A2s and had an L1R5 aggregate of 9

We are as proud of our boys who did not score as well in PSLE but worked hard and were able to transfer from the Normal Academic and Normal Technical streams to the Express stream. We would like especially to congratulate the following for gaining a score that qualified them for junior college.

From the Normal Technical Stream:

- Tan Wang Ren, School Rugby Player, with 2 A1s
- Lyndon Teo Yuquan, active member of the Robotics Club, with 3 A2s

From the Normal Academic Stream:

- Daniele Haadi Tan, School Tennis player, with 2 A1s and 2 A2s
- Yeo Kee Han, School Swimming Captain, with 3A1s and 1A2
- Ruthran Raj Murugaiyan, School Prefect and Cadet Inspector in the National Police Cadet Corps, with 6 A2s
- Darren Teo Boon Chong, member of the Entrepreneurship Society, with 4 A2s

In the Normal Academic classes, 7 out of 10 boys qualify for the polytechnic.
As in the previous practice, our more capable students offered at least 2 O levels in the 2009 so that they gained more confidence in themselves.

We would like to congratulate

- Terrence Wong Jun Jie, member of the School Military Band, who scored 3 A1s and 2 A2s and had an L1R5 aggregate of 17
- Sherwin Kwek Ming Leong, member of the Saints Choir, who scored 2 A1s and 2 A2s and had an L1R5 aggregate of 15
- Brij Mohan Singh, School Rugby Player, who scored 1 A1 and 3 A2s

We thank God indeed for His grace and for giving us such dedicated staff who were willing to put in extra hours and extra days to work with our students. We thank God too for humble and cooperative students who were willing to work with their teachers.

An Eye for Perspectives, a Mind Out-of-the-Box

Heart of the School - A Youth Photo Competition

On 3rd August 2011, the South Zone Centre of Excellence for Design (St Andrew's Secondary School, SASS) in collaboration with National Geographic Store, held a prize presentation ceremony for its 3rd annual youth photographic competition at the Store. The theme of this year's competition was 'Heart of The School'.

"We chose this theme because the school is the main stage on which the many dramas in the lives of young people are enacted," said Ms Chua Xin Yuan, Head of Craft & Technology at SASS. "We want to showcase how photography makes youths look deeper at things around them, as well as inside them."

Students from primary schools to junior colleges in Singapore participated in the competition which saw some of them walking away with attractive prizes consisting of cameras, accessories and vouchers generously sponsored by Yolo, Cathay Photo, Photographic Society of Singapore and Popular E-Learning Holdings Pte Ltd.

Out of 1310 photographs submitted, only 30 were shortlisted. Our guest-of-honour, Mr Wong Siew Hoong, Director of Schools for the Ministry of Education, gave a rousing speech to encourage the participants to continue with their good work and to view art from various perspectives. Also present was Madam Tan Yen Fong, our South Zone 5 Cluster Superintendent. The top prize winners for Categories A, B and C were: Muhd Duzlfiqar B MdRasid (Edgefield Primary School), Lim Jia Jin (St Andrew's Secondary) and Zhao Wan Ting(Raffles Institution) respectively.

One participant was Tan Ze Xun from St Andrew's Junior College (SAJC) who won a Special Mention Award. He described his snapshot of the SAJC band as being a part of his life rather than just a photo itself: "My photograph is a snapshot of my brother's growing years, the formative days he spent pursuing his passion." He feels greatly honored to be able to showcase his photograph to members of the public at the National Geographic Store. Another prize-winner - Ernest Ng, 11, from Edgefield Primary - won a Special Mention Award. His photograph showed students learning Chemistry under their teacher's guidance, and he hopes that his teacher will become known for his concerted efforts in teaching the students. His proud father goes "all out to support Ernest in whatever he does, especially photography." "Photography needs an eye for perspective, an eye for the unusual as well as a mind that is willing to go out-of-the-box," said Mrs Lucy Toh, Principal of SASS. "These are, significantly, the same skills students need to develop for success in academic work, in project planning and in leadership," she added.

The 30 photos are on display at the National Geographic Store from 4th to 17th August. Members of the public can view the exhibition from 10am to 10pm daily. Admission is free.

Total Defence Day
Fire-Drill

"Precaution is better than cure" ~ Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

A screeching siren reverberated throughout the school compound. In an instant, the calm, serene silence of a lazy school morning erupted into a thundering barrage of playful shrieks and screams. Amidst the tornado of noise, the principal, Mrs. Toh, made an announcement over the PA system instructing all students to evacuate their classrooms for a fire drill exercise. Instantaneously, unruly herds of students spilled out of the classrooms, filling up the corridors as they noisily made their way to the school field.

A sea of white and blue flowed into the field from all directions. Prefects and teachers arduously ushered the students to their respective assembly venues. After what seemed like aeons, the school compound was finally evacuated and the students sat quietly in twos according to their classes. As they restlessly basked under the scorching sun, the principal, who was perched on the ledge of the swimming pool above the field, delivered a brief Total Defence day message. The students listened attentively as they were literally roasted under the blistering heat.

"It is important that every student is aware of the importance of the Fire Drill," commented Faiz, from 3S1. It was an eventful Total Defence day, and as the students strolled back to their classes, most simply disregarded the message that was brought forth to them a couple of minutes ago, while some paused to reflect on their actions and pondered over her words.

The fire drill is an important practice not only in schools, but also in workplaces and housing estates alike. Fire drills are no joke as we are never sure of when an accident may take place, thus we have to be serious and be prepared to tackle any situation at any given time.

"Fire drills are also important as they help to minimise the chances of people making mistakes as a careless blunder could mean the difference between life and death. Everyone has a part to play in ensuring the safety of our people and ultimately, the safety our nation." Mr Tan Yan Ho, a Social Studies Teacher, commented.

Indeed, precaution is better than cure.

Food from the Heart

"It's better to give than to receive."How often do we hear this phrase but sadly, most of the time, we do not take heed of it? Somehow as I grow older and become more aware and concerned about the things around me, this phrase is beginning to have a special meaning in my heart. Often we read and learn of people all over the world dying of starvation and suffering in poverty. Even in our own country, we hear of families not having the financial means to make ends meet; we read of families needing to turn to social assistance for their daily necessities. Sometimes, we tend to forget that there are fellow citizens who do not even have a roof over their heads and do not know of how or when their next meal will come. Hence, it is important that we take stock of what we are blessed with and spare a thought for those in need around us. We may be blessed with material belongings and have more than enough to put on our plate at every meal, but at the same time, I think it is also right for us to really spare a thought for these unfortunate people too.

The "St Andrew's Village Food Drive'project organised by the Saints family is certainly an important and essential milestone to show that we are a caring and compassionate community. The teachers and our principal, Mrs. Lucy Toh, encouraged the students to give as much as possible and elaborated on the point that if everyone brought an item, there would be more than a thousand foodstuff and this would definitely benefit the needy to a huge extent. Parents were notified of this special drive and the response was indeed overwhelming and encouraging. Over the few weeks that the project got underway, we saw lots and lots of students bringing canned food and other non-perishable foodstuff like rice, instant noodles and cooking oil, among other things, to the collection point in the school compound. It is indeed heartwarming to note that the Saints community cares and that we are a school that will lift a finger to help out whenever there is a call for it.

Boys from the Normal Technical stream were tasked to pack these collections and organise them into proper categories. I am sure all of them went that extra mile to lend their helping hands. The skit specially put up by these students during one of the morning assemblies clearly depicted their caring spirit and unceasing enthusiasm to ensure that this project be met with great success. Kudos to you guys!

The project may have ended but the spirit of giving must not end too. Let us continue to develop that caring attitude towards our friends in need. Nothing beats the sight of seeing these people putting on that smile when they receive these gifts. I am sure it will go a long way in their lives and one day, when they look back at this depressing episode of their lives, they will remember that when they were bitterly down, the Saints family was there to help them pull through those difficult times. "No one is a stranger, they are just friends we have not met." This is another statement that lingers in my mind when the "Food from the Heart" campaign was going on. As I pondered over the whole matter, I realise that since we came with nothing in our mother's womb, we will also leave with nothing to be with God in eternity. Whatever we are blessed with on earth, shouldn't we share with our fellow brothers who need them even more?

Surely, it is "better to give than to receive".

KIWI CUP

On 21 January 2011, Saints from all walks of life, Secondary One's, old boys, ex-students and teachers all arrived at Raffles Institution to watch the annual Kiwi cup match between perennial rivals St. Andrew's and RI. St. Andrew's have held this cup since 2007 and many hope to see us continue this domination and go for our fifth consecutive win.

The atmosphere at the stadium was electrifying. Raffles' supporters outnumbered ours and it was a competition to see who could produce more noise in the form of drums, cheers and mascots. Our voices were drowned by the din and it was impossible to carry out a normal conversation.

The C division curtain raiser started punctually at 3.00pm.

Our boys outsmarted, outclassed and outplayed a physically superior Raffles team. They were twice as strong and twice as fast as us. However, Raffles chose the wrong tactic and tried to power through the midfield thinking they could walk over us. We tackled low and rucked hard, driving Raffles back in defence. Raffles had failed to take their chances while we took advantage of their slightest mistakes, converting them into points. The score at half time was 19-0 in favour of Saints.

The second half started with Raffles kicking off. Saints still continued their domination and controlled possession and territory. Raffles stepped on the gas to score one try but Saints still ran in a few more tries. The final score was 40-5. Saints won.

Next came the real deal - the Kiwi Cup match, a match between the combined A Div and B Div squads of both schools. It was the cream of the crop playing their hearts out there. Tension set in as both teams sang their school songs and Saints performed their menacing battle cry. The match started at about 4.30pm.

Saints kicked off to begin this exciting match between two legendary teams. Once again, RI was bigger than us but we had one advantage - speed. We were faster and RI could not handle the pace of our game. Saints drew first blood, converting a penalty through the boot of Naresh. RI quickly replied wth a try. Raffles were in our twenty-two and from a lineout, the Raffles fly-half passed to the full back who ran through a yawning gap to race ahead to touch down, despite Naresh's efforts. The try was unconverted which brought the score to 5-3.

Ruck after ruck, maul after maul, it was a pretty even contest and both sides defence were rock solid. Nicholas Yau broke the deadlock by breaking through two Raffles tackles, sidestepping one more before passing to Bryan Lim who scored in the corner. Naresh's attempt at the conversion failed and the score was 8-5 at half time to Saints.

Raffles kicked off the second half. The second half was pretty even, with both teams struggling to keep the scoreboard ticking. Raffles' handling let them down, knocking the ball on most of the time and failing to take their chances. Saints made a few line breaks but our attack was halted by the unrelenting defence of Raffles. After giving away a penalty, Raffles kicked deep into our twenty-two, putting huge pressure on us. Raffles swung the ball left and right, trying to find seams in our defence. Pressure was building up as our defence became disorganised. Raffles swung the ball left and their player knocked on. Edwin Chia, our winger picked up the ball and ran into open territory. He did not have the pace to go all the way and was caught by the Raffles winger but he managed to sneak an offload to Nicholas Yau who scored a memorable try. Naresh failed to convert it and the score was 13-5 in favour of Saints.

Raffles had three players sin-binned and Saints held on and the whistle finally blew. Saints had won the Kiwi Cup in 2011.

There was jubilation everywhere. Students were jumping about in the stands and people were screaming their hearts out.

After both the C Div team and the Kiwi Cup team received their medals, the Kiwi Cup team performed the Saints battle cry again.

The crowds dispersed and people began to leave. A few stayed behind to watch the Jim Weir Cup.

In the end, we achieved a clean sweep of the day's matches, winning all four. Today was truly a great day to be a saint. Up and On!

India-Chennai Trip Dec 2010

Along with St John's Ambulance Brigade, the Saints Interact club went to Chennai, India for its Community Involvement Project.

On the first day, we met at the airport where Mrs Charles led a prayer for us to have a safe trip before we went in and boarded the plane. We were fortunate to stay in a service apartment compared to the youth hostel which we were first supposed to stay in as the service apartment was very clean and had facilities such as air conditioning and restaurant downstairs. After putting our luggage in the rooms, we went to a shopping centre where we watched a Bollywood movie, which was a first time for most of us.

On the second day, we visited a school called Vana Vani Matriculation Higher Secondary School where we saw their morning assembly and some performances by the students in that school. After the performances, all of us including the selected students of Vana Vani school went to the Indian Institute of Technology, Madras, where we saw presentations of water studies and experimental labs. It was an eye-opening experience for us. We also ate lunch together with the students of Vana Vani school before we set off for AMS IPD Orthopaedic Centre Chennai where some disabled children live. We went in and gave them gifts we had brought along. At night, we had dinner with the Rotarians in India and the food was so tasty that everyone went for seconds. It was a great way to end the day.

On the third day, we headed for the Dakshin Chitra Indian Architecture and saw many houses and different types of carvings in the houses. We watched a play about a native warrior and tried pottery which was very interesting and amazing. Some of us even rode on a cow!. Before we left, we bought some souvenirs from a shop near the exit. After leaving, we headed for the St Thomas Mount where we took a lot of photoraphs.

On the fourth day, we went to Cuddalore School Orphanage Home where we saw children who had experienced a tsunami and lost their parents. We prepared gifts for them as well before we came to india in Singapore. They looked happy to see visitors and to receive our gifts. Then, we went to Pondicherry, a French colony, for a tour. It was a two-hour trip from the orphanage home. As soon as we reached Pondicherry, we saw many people trying to sell their goods to tourists. Some of them were so persistent that our students felt disturbed. However, some of us bought their goods which made them stop following us. At night, we reached the Pegasus Institute of Excellence where we dozed off.

On the fifth day, we had various types of activities at the Pegasus Institute of Excellence which everyone enjoyed. One of the activities that everyone liked was the obstacle courses which required us to complete difficult courses using a lot of teamwork. At night, we ate dinner and some of us wanted to stay up all night to fellowship with one another. We felt kind of sad to think that we had to leave the next day.

On the last day, we visited the Hindu Senior Secondary School where we met the students and played games together. All of us enjoyed ourselves. We also visited St Thomas Basilica which was the national shrine. After that, we went to shop at a big shopping mall before we headed for a French restaurant to have a farewell dinner prepared by the Rotarians from the Rotary Club of Madras Chenna Patna. We enjoyed the food thoroughly and thanked them before heading off for the airport.

Reflections of Cebu Trip

Dec 2010

The Cebu Trip was not simply a fun event. It took me a lot of courage to cayon down a waterfall, swim with sea creatures and climb waterfalls. It was challenging and mentally tough, yet our group were able to experience it and really enjoy the activities. The living conditions in Philipines were not good, but the people there are really friendly and kind. We went to an elementary school, giving them stationery, games and books. The children there were delighted to receive such gifts, and seeing this with out own eyes helped us understand the true meaning of giving and life. God has blessed us and provided us new insights with this experience and I would like to thank everybody involved in making this trip meaningful.

Andre, a student participant of Cebu Trip 2010

Jacob's Ladder

The Jacob's Ladder programme encourages and provides opportunities for Normal Academic students to initiate, organise and manage purposeful events. In turn this enables our students to learn, develop and practise basic entrepreneurial skills.

Under the Jacob's Ladder plan, the Normal Academic students are encouraged to showcase their initiative in organizing activities. The first "Father & Son Fish & Bond Competition" was held on 26th March 2011 at Pasir Ris Fishing pond.

Bonding is spending one-on-one time with the father in some form of activity. The activity has no real significance but the mere act of being together, sharing and participating in an activity forms a solid connection. Common father and son bonding activities include fishing, bowling, playing pool, camping, playing games and sharing hobbies.

The student organisers from 4NA have benefited from initiating and organizing this event and they look forward to organising other forms of father-and-son activities in future. We acknowledge and thank Shimano for sponsoring our prizes.

Camp Pride 2011 - 3 Day Mandatory Camp for Sec 2 Normal

For the second consecutive year, Camp Challenge was appointed to run Camp PRIDE (acronym for Perseverance, Resilience, Integrity, Self - Discipline and Endurance) a three-day mandatory camp for Sec 2 Normal students. The three-day, two-night residential camp was conducted from 25th May 2011 to 27th May 2011 at Sembawang/Sentosa.

Twelve interesting and challenging activities were carried out during the three days to instil the main objective of Camp Pride which is to instil core values and self-discipline as well as to build character, confidence and teamwork in our Secondary 2 students.

Laser combat proved to be a popular activity and participants worked together in teams to capture their opponents' flags if they wanted to stay alive! Each team member had to realize that he played a different part in the team as either an attacker or a defender. They were then taught to relate this learning to other situations that participants may face in their home and school life. The other challenging and demanding activity was Rafting. It tested teams' co-operation and ability to work together to meet an objective. Communication, perseverance and doing one's part for the team were all essential for the team to build a raft that could ferry all the team members across a lake. The last part of the challenge was to build a raft as one "Team St Andrews", which forced participants to leave their smaller teams in order to come together as a school.

At the end of the event, when the camp participants were asked what their winning formula was, "team spirit and a positive attitude" was their chorus, and not surprisingly so, as the participants all agreed that communication and co-ordination within the team made a big difference.

The camp also proved to be an educational experience in more than one way as they had a chance to practise thinking on their feet, literally.

C Division Hockey

Saints beat SJI 3-0 to open campaign

Teck Whye Secondary, Friday, July 1, 2011 - Defending champions St Andrew's Secondary (SAS) beat St Joseph Institution (SJI) 3-0 to begin their National C Division Hockey Championship season with a win.

SJI played on the defensive throughout the game while St Andrew's constantly pressed forward, looking for the chance to strike. Saints dominated possession of the ball with their quick passing and good defensive play.

The first scoring opportunity arose when a SJI player found a gap in the Saints' defence and charged through. One on one with the SAS goalkeeper, he unfortunately tripped and lost the opportunity.

With SJI unable to break through the SAS defensive wall, the first goal eventually came from the Saints. Just before the break, a penalty corner saw Saints captain Faizal drag flick the ball into the net.

After the break, with the pressure mounting, Saints made some mistakes and lost many opportunities to score. Finally, 15 minutes into the second half, Imran flicked the ball in to score the second goal for SAS.

In the last few minutes of the game, Qayyum dribbled the ball past the SJI goalkeeper and scored the third and final goal of the game.

Said SAS captain Faizal after the game: "I think we played well in our first game. I hope to bring glory to St Andrew's Secondary School as national champions again."

Rugby 'C' Division Finals

St Andrew's Secondary beat St Joseph institution with a final score of 25-0 in the preliminary round of the National C Division championship

Greeted by the scorching sun at Yio Chu Kang stadium, the match between two rugby powerhouses, St Andrew's Secondary School and St Joseph's Institute, commenced. The first half of the game was filled with tension and it seemed that neither team was able to score due to ball handing errors and controversial calls by the referee.

Saints had possession of the ball for most of the half with the SJI players close at hand defending every attempt made by the Saints to score. However, the Saints pressed on to see through their first try right before the whistle was blown for half time as Justin Teo broke though the formidable SJI defence from the try line. Unfortunately, he missed the conversion kick and the dry spell continued for the rest of the game rendering the Saints without a single point from conversions. This placed the Saints in the lead 5-0 against SJI in the first half.

With a pep talk given by the coaches, the players came onto the field with the flame burning in their hearts even more intensely. Lagging behind by a mere try, the SJI players were quick to respond with hands quicker on and off the ball, maintaining a continuous flow of attack. The Saints were quick to respond, preventing any tries or penalty kicks from occurring. As the Saints got into possession of the ball, they were quick to get into momentum, laying siege to the SJI defense

The Saints continued the game with an aggressive barrage of attack with Kok Ho finally breaking through the SJI line of defense to score for SASS's 3rd consecutive try 15 minutes into the second half. A fourth try soon followed in the 20th min as Sharizah sped past the opposition to score the next 5 points. Despite the multiple tries scored against them the SJI players continued to press on, pushing the Saints line of defense all the way to their try line. However after numerous phases of open play, the ball was thrown back into their half after a penalty was given for the infringement of hands. The saints then saw the match out with another try by Jeremy, the captain of the SASS team, bringing the total to 25-0.

" It was an exhilarating game. The 'C' Division saints played well." Andre commented.

It was a great game of rugby played in the spirit of sportsmanship – Play Fair, Play Hard and Play Well.

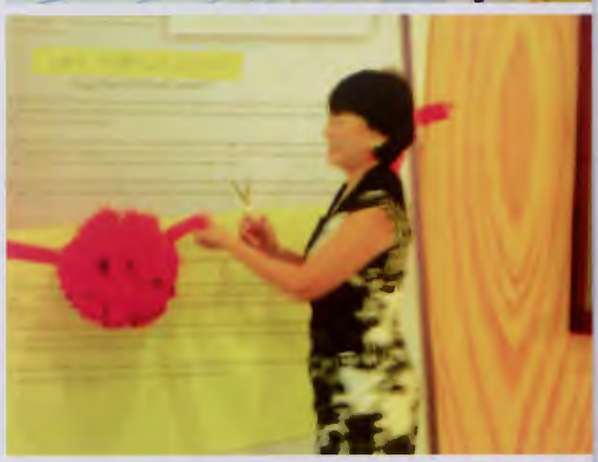

Old Schools' Gallery opens at Bras Basah MRT

The next time you are at Bras Basah MRT Station, do pop by the Bras Basah – Bugis Old Schools' Gallery. The gallery was opened on 3 August 2011 and it features the history of schools in the vicinity; schools in the European part of Singapore such as St. Andrew's School, Raffles' Institution and many other prestigious schools.

Bras Basah Road and its neighbouring precinct were marked out as the European part of Singapore back then and hence, many of the early schools were established in the area. The gallery aims to preserve the heritage of this area in Singapore by making known the many schools which were situated here. For one, the old St. Andrew's School is now the Stamford Road Carpark!

The gallery was opened by Miss Bernadette Toh, Director, Office of Student Life from Singapore Management University (SMU) ,during a ribbon-cutting ceremony.

In an interview with Miss Bernadette Toh, she said that the reason why SMU decided to embark on this project, in collaboration with the National Heritage Board (NHB), is because SMU is now sitting on the old St. Joseph Institution (SJI) field, making it very appropriate for the opening. It is located in the MRT station so commuters can read it and have a sense of awareness of the past. This project also inculcates a sense of place and time in the students of today, to ensure that they are aware of their school's heritage and are proud of it. Linking the present to the history is very important as this would allow them to know where they were before, especially in this fast-modernizing world.

Mrs Toh, Principal of St Andrew's Secondary School, commented "Our forebears had the foresight to move St Andrew's School from downtown to our current site at Woodsville before World War II. As a result, we continue to enjoy heritage buildings as part of our school whereas other schools that shifted from the downtown area are at sites which do not have such a great amount of history attached to them. Furthermore, the spacious Village was made possible because of the forward-thinking of the church and school leaders at that time."

So the next time you are at Bras Basah MRT Station, remember to take some time off to visit the gallery!

SYF Band Choir Presentation

On the 5th of July 2011, the choir was honoured to perform at the SYF Band Choir Presentation Night, "Symphonic Canvas", at the Esplanade Concert Hall.

The Saints Choir was part of a combined choir, consisting of choristers from Nan Chiau High as well as Ang Mo Kio Secondary. We performed to a full house, an arrangement of Dr Kelly Tang's "The Wind" for SATB Choir and Wind Band, together with the Maris Stella High Symphonic Band.

Indeed, performing with a band for the first time opened the eyes (and ears) of many of the choristers. The experience was simply phenomenal. Music-making, truly reaps more enjoyment when one is in the company of those like-minded.

Javier Khoh, the President of the Saints Choir had this to say, "This event has definitely been a blessing to us. We have gained many valuable experiences and precious memories which will reside in our hearts forever."

A sense of discipline was also instilled in the hearts of our boys. It was also a reminder that the Gold Award is just a stepping stone to success. This will certainly spur the Saints to soar towards greater heights. The performance was an outstanding one and the boys have done the school proud by displaying the true attitude of saints.

National Solar Car Race - A Reflection

"Because we don't think about future generations, they will never forget us." ~HenrikTikkanen.

Statistics have shown that after another century, all oil and fuel would be completely consumed by mankind due to our great demand for oil. If we continue relying on oil, the only future we leave for our children is one of despair and disappointment. Hence, one of our sources of hope is to use renewable energy such as solar energy.

Therefore, our school sent a team to participate in the National Solar Car Race organised by the Singapore Polytechnic. The history of the competition goes way back to 2002 when it first started in the United States. Our school has been participating in this competition for the past 4 years and we are proud to have won the championship title this year. The race was a tough fight as teams from other schools were equally good but with strong teamwork, we emerged champions.

Our mentor, Mr Jason Ang, commented ' We did well despite the fact that we were working around a low budget, so I think our performance was good.'

After four years of participating in this competition, it has now become a tradition for us to continue participating in it for years to come, improving on what we have learnt and achieving higher goals in subsequent years.

Ever upward to the fight! Ever onward to the light! Ever true to God and right! Up and on!

River Studies

TLLM Ignite4!

Our school was selected to embark on TLLM Ignite4! in 2011. In line with our school's strategic thrust of Efficacious Learning, this programme is a curriculum innovation which aims to close learning gaps and develop in our students 21st century competencies.

In SASS, this programme is currently being conducted with the 2RKS Adams class under the umbrella of the Science Department. The inquiry approach is used to inculcate in students the habit of questioning to get answers in Science. Starting out with teacher's modelling initially, the students progressively move on to solve scientific problems independently, with the teacher acting only as the facilitator. They also carry out experiments in an authentic setting by the Kallang River. To date, they have collected data at different locations along the course of the river.

This programme involves a close partnership with the Ministry of Education. Our teachers collaborate with the Curriculum Planning and Development Division (CPDD) in the design of the programme and the Teaching & Learning package. Miss Nur Aishah Nadiah, who is the Research Activist, attends a weekly two-day course on Curriculum and Research at MOE.

Through TLLM Ignite4!, we hope that over time, our students will become self-directed learners and critical thinkers who are passionate about learning Science.

South Zone Millennium Race

The South Zone Millennium race has been a traditional event in our school for years. Every year, numerous students participate in it, and the race gets tougher with each year. For the past few years, our school has emerged as either 1st runner-up or the overall champions.

This year's Millennium race was a rather unique one, as it was Mrs Toh's first year in attendance. The race started with a grand entrance by Mrs Toh, Mr Goh and our guest-of-honour, Mr Chia Mia Chiang, Principal of Ngee Ann Polytechnic. All the participants were in high spirits as the horn was blown for the first race which was under the Non-Motorized Cars category. All the cars were unique in their design and showcased the innovative ideas of the students.

After the Non-Motorized Cars category came the highlight of the day - the motorized car category. This made the spectators even more excited. The motorized car race was spiced up with the addition of various obstacles to challenge the competitors. Throughout the race, a numbers of cars were unable to their route due the obstacles and some even malfunctioned on the race track. After an hour, all the excitement died down as the judges pondered the results. Everyone watched with bated breath when the judges announced the results. Some students jumped for joy when their school's name was announced as a winner, but some schools were saddened with failure. However, we think that everyone present that day was a winner in his own way. As Mornish says, "I think everyone did their best to bring honour to their schools. Although not everyone here today will leave as a winner, I hope they can all leave here with their heads held high."

Every race will have its final destination. Up and On!

The Saints Water Polo team kicked off the year with the preparation of the National Sports Water Polo Championship. However, we were unplaced in both the 'B' and 'C' divisions.

However, our 'C' division team, despite the lack of experience, was able to narrow the score gap against most of the teams. Our 'B' team comprises mainly Sec 3 players going for more game experience.

In June, we sent two teams to particpate in the Barker's Road U-13 Challenge. Saints B team, comprising Sec 1s and 2s, lost all their matches but with a respectable scoreline against teams with older players. Our Saints A team, comprising Sec 2s and 3s, did the school proud by emerging 2nd runner-up behind the Melaka State Team and HCI.

We would like to express our appreciation to our alumni players who come to the SAV pool fortnightly to mentor our 'B' boys informally.

Saints Interact Club

The Interact Club is a Rotary-sponsored service club for young people. Made up of members ages 14-18 or secondary-school age, Interact gives young people an opportunity to participate in fun, meaningful service projects. Along the way, Interactors develop their leadership skills and initiative in making new friends.

Through their service activities, Interactors learn the importance of
- Developing leadership skills and personal integrity
- Demonstrating helpfulness and respect for others
- Understanding the value of individual responsibility and hard work
- Advancing international understanding and good will

The word Interact stands for "International Action," and today nearly 200 000 young people in more than 110 countries belong to some 8 700 clubs, making Interact a truly international phenomenon. All over the world, young people are spreading fellowship and international understanding through a wide array of Interact service activities.

Bonding Camp held at St Andrew's Sec School. The objective is to strengthen the rapport among members of St Andrew's Interact Club.

Food Fair - Raised $400 for Community Involvement Projects
Saints Interact Club, in collaboration with 3SA RKS ADAMS, raised $400 for community projects by having a small food and drink sale during the rugby finals and on sports day.

Chennai Experience - Cultural and Community Work

Saints Interact Club and SJAB organized an overseas trip to Chennai, India. Apart from the community work at the Kadallur Orphanage Home and the IPD Orthopaedic Centre for the physically and mentally handicapped and spastic childre, we visited two secondary schools- Vana Vana Vani Matriculation School and a Hindu School; and also a premier engineering and technology institution - Indian Institute of Technology Madras. Visited Dakshinchitra, a unique Heritage Village and Mahabalipuram, a UNESCO World Heritage site.

Project Emily

Aunt Emily is alone and wheelchair-bound. This project offers an opportunity for our boys to engage in community service regularly. The boys visit Aunt Emily fortnightly to spruce up her home.

Project 11 - Collect Ring tabs
Project 11, a unique and meaningful project that helps create a better life for our physically-challenged friends. The project calls for a simple act - collecting ring tabs from drink and food cans. The ring tabs will be recycled in Thailand into materials for making components of prosthetic limbs to benefit the disabled who are in need.

Joint Interact Club Installation
On 29th July 2011, Saints Interact club members participated in a Joint Installation with Dunman Secondary School at Dunman school.

Highlights of 2010

• With the support of the alumni and Canon Singapore, the club helped to organise the inaugural Tan Teck Meng Photography Competition themed "Celebration of Youth". The competition was open to the whole village with 4 categories: Junior School, Secondary School, Junior College and Parents and Staff. Our members, T S Kautham won the 3rd prize for the secondary section and Shintaro Tay won the coveted Tan Teck Meng Special Prize for the best student entry.

• The club assisted in the inaugural Woodsville Day during which The Village Gallery was unveiled. The Village Gallery is a collaboration between SAV and SBS Transit, with the generous support of the Board of Governors, to engage the community in the artistic endeavors. Photographs taken by students from all 3 schools are exhibited at the Potong Pasir MRT station.

• The highlight for the year would be the youth photographic competition, "Celebration of Youth", which the club supported. Our members, Foo Yi Chern and Shintaro Tay won the 3rd prize and a special mention respectively in a hotly contested competition which received more than 3000 entries. The exhibition cum prize presentation was held at the National Geographic Store, Singapore. Guest-of-Honour was Mr Michael Palmer, an old boy and member of Parliament.

Plans for 2011:

- The club will have a fully functional darkroom by mid-2011. Club members can look forward to exposure to B&W film processing and B&W print making.
- Senior club members can also look forward to exposure to basic studio photography in 2011.
- Club members can look forward to additional workshops as the club embarks on photo-journalism and photo essays in 2011.

2011 Report

OUR VISION & MISSION

To Help Groom a Talent Pool For 3D/2D Graphics Animation For Singapore.
To Help Set Best Practises In 3D/2D Graphics Animation In Secondary Schools.

There are no prizes, yet, for this year but certainly a lot of growth from the boys in two areas: in numbers, standard of works and branching possibilities. We will also need to look into what we could do further.

First, the number of new members has brought our membership to an all time high of 25 and counting. There are still boys signing up as I type this. The animation lessons in-curriculum as part of the Special Programme has been responsible for this.

Standing Middle from left: Muhd Assif Humayun Marcus Cheong, Bryan Lim Clement Ong, M. Liivanesh (Administrator), Tee Jian Hong, Juneous Lim (Asst-Vice Captain1), Julian Chong, Wong See Keat, Ryan Ho , Julio Lim, Jonathan Lim, Leong Yi Bin
Not in picture:, , Naiquddin Amsyar B Saszri

Second, the standard of the team's works is something we can take pride in. We have received compliments from our old boys who are Poly students and even some industry people. We will just let the pictures do the talking. These pictures are still shots from their submission to the 3D Graphics and Animation Competition co-organised by Temasek Polytechnic that SWAT has been participating for three years now. The theme this year is "Home is..."

We still have some room for improvement in the process of putting together an animation clip, which the boys will manage with some training plans this coming year-end. Inter-department and agency collaborations are also in the pipeline. This is timely as we have upgraded our machines that will see different dimensions of intelligence being activated within the team. One of them is Musical Intelligence (H.Gardner), where sound and music were put together by the boys with state of the art software that has helped complement their animated scenes.

The Tan Lye Whatt Animation Lab was used to facilitate the making of the Bronze Award video submission for the Commonwealth Vision Award 2011 by Low Gin Wee (former SWAT member).

For now, we will just have to sit and wait for the results of our submission for the competition, and hope the excellent effort by the team pays off, as it will only be out nearing November 2011. Till then, we hope these pictures tell the story so far...for SWAT. With many thanks to those who have supported us, especially Mr Jovi Lum and Mr Nigel Lim, our volunteers.

Activities
We have professional trainers to teach our boys how to create their very own applications and games on the iPhone/iPad. The boys learn about the coding and also graphic design. We also upload the selected applications or games by our boys onto the iTunes Store so that everyone worldwide can download the boys' creations. At the same time, the boys can learn about entrepreneurship by selling their programmes online or contribute back to the society by donating their earnings to charities.

Service
Provide PA support during flag raising, assemblies and major school events (eg. Founder's Day, National Day etc)
IT Reps in every class to help the teachers troubleshoot IT equipment during lessons.
Videography support for the various school events.

With the merging of the Infocomm Club and the PA Club, we have adopted the name VIRUS. We are very proud to have come up with this new identity:

V - Infocomm Club Logo
Innovative - Boys must be innovative in their projects/entries in competitions.
Responsible - Boys must be responsible in their duties
Unique - Boys are unique and have a unique role being ICT Reps.
Service - Service to School

Achievements
This year, Lui Yan Le(1A), Lukus Soh (1B), Tan Wei Arn (1B), Jeric Wang (4S1), Ho Dan Ze (4SB) and Timothy Tang (3ST) participated in the i-Code competition. This is a nationwide event jointly organised by IDA and Nanyang Polytechnic. The competition was very stiff and although our boys did not clinch any awards, it was an enriching experience for them!
We will be participating in the Singapore Digital and Media Awards at the end of the year.

The year 2011 started off with a change in Teacher Advisors to the Library. We bade farewell to Ms Hannah Watson who has left St. Andrew's. In her place, we welcomed Mdm Gayatri and Ms Kong Lai Ling.

In February, a trip was made to Kinokinuya as part of our annual book purchasing exercise. 250 books of various genres were selected and purchased for the Library.

Among the purchases for the Library were books by Cressida Cowell, whose series "How To Train Your Dragon", has proven immensely popular with our younger students. We also saw the complete series of Jeff Kinley's Diary of a Wimpy Kid included in our catalogue. Other purchases include books by authors like Steve Berry, Raymond E. Feist and David Eddings.

2011 saw the further expansion of our DVD collection. From about 30 titles at the start of 2011, we now have in excess of 55 as of September. New titles include Iron Man 2, Narnia: Voyage of the Dawn Treader, Dairy of a Wimpy Kid 1 & 2, I am No. 4 and some classic favourites like Pirates of the Caribbean: At World's End and National Treasure 1 & 2.

We would like to also express our thanks to the Class of 1976 (4S1) who have also generously agreed to continue their sponsorship of the following magazines: BBC Knowledge, Time, Popular Science and Popular Mechanics. This subscription sponsorship amounts to over S$500/- a year.

Following last year's reorganisation of the layout in the Library and the creation of a large open space on the main floor, we now have the flexibility of configuring the Library space as needed. As a result, the Library was used to conduct the NRIC registration exercise in the first semester and the NHB student health checks at the start of the second Semester. Together with the English Department & Julia Gabriel enterprise, the Library also hosted several lessons of the Speak Well Programme, where students from Secondary 3 were trained in speech and presentation. This culminated in an actual debate between different teams within their classes, some of which have proven to be quite interesting.

During this year's National Day Celebrations, the Library was also used to host the School Chess competition and was the collection point for the NE competition entry forms.

In conjunction with the Shine On Reading programme in May, the Library displayed the kites assembled by many of our students on our walls. We also have on display items related to the Youth Olympics held in Singapore last year, including a working replica of the Olympic Torch. Also on display are a small collection of rare and limited edition books on loan to the Library as well as gifts presented to us from visiting schools.

In continuing with our tradition of supporting the Arts in School, we have put up 2 additional 'O' level works of our students on our walls, as well as photos from this year's Tan Teck Meng Photo Competition. We hope that other students to viewing these art works and photos will draw inspiration from them.

The Library is also proud to have been the School's debate team's "home ground" during the Julia Gabriel debate competition as well the subsequent friendly debate with Paya Lebar Methodist Girl's School. We would like to congratulate Russ Hoe, on achieving 8th best speaker during the Julia Gabriel debate series and the School team on winning the debate friendly with PLMGS.

Saints' Creed

I am a boy
I wonder about everything.
I hear with my right ear
I see with my left brain.
I want to be a man
I am a boy.

I pretend to be a man.
I feel no pain
I touch and go.
I worry about nothing.
I cry?
I am trying to be a man.

I understand the shortcuts in life
I say what I want.
I dream all the time
I try everything.
I hope to go SAJC
I am a boy.

- a combined effort by Mr Gordon Goh, Mr Michael Lim, Mr Benedict Tan, Mr P Selvarasoo and Mr Jason Ang (Science department teachers)
