

Lives Are In The Making Here

St Andrew's Secondary School Annual 2008

Vision, Mission, Goals

Our Vision

Lives are in the making here

Our Mission

To produce men of wisdom and stature in favour with God and man

Our Goals

By being a Quality School where an inquiring mind and a love for learning is balanced with an emphasis on sports and the arts, all the while supported by a sense of belonging and student government to keep students both rooted and purposeful

School Hymn

Our Father, by whose servants,
Our School was built of old,
Whose hand has crowned Thy children,
With blessings manifold;
For Thy unfailing mercies,
Far strewn along our way,
With all who passed before us,
We praise Thy name today.

They reaped not where they laboured,
We reap what they have sown;
Our harvest may be garnered,
By ages yet unknown.
The days of old have dowered us
With gifts beyond all praise,
Our Father make us faithful
To serve the coming days.

Before us and beside us,
Still holden by Thy hand,
A cloud of unseen witness,
Our elder comrades stand;
One family unbroken,
We join with one acclaim;
One heart, one voice uplifting
To glorify Thy Name.

School Song

Lives are in the making here,
Hearts are in the waking here,
Mighty undertaking here,
Up and On! Up and On!
We are arming for the fight,
Pressing on with all our might,
Pluming wings for higher flight,
Up and On!

Up boys! Truest fame
Lies in high endeavour;
Play the game! Keep the flame
Burning brightly ever!

Fair before us lies the way,
Time for work and time for play;
Fill the measure while we may,
Up and On! Up and On!
Life and time will not delay.
Time is running fast away,
Life is now, today; today;
Up and On!

Foes in plenty we shall meet,
Hearts courageous scorn defeat;
So we press with eager feet,
Up and On! Up and On!
Ever onward to the fight,
Ever upward to the light,
Ever true to GOD and RIGHT,
Up and On!

Principal's Message

Lives are in the Making here

This is the first line of our School Song that we sing every other Monday at morning assembly. This is also the vision adopted by the whole of St Andrew's Village which is fuelled by our belief that you are given to us by God and meant to be in St Andrew's, and that you can, in your turn, grow to be a man of both stature and wisdom.

I am happy to let you know that the School Assessor Team that came from the Ministry of Education to validate our processes found this mission of the school both inspiring and meaningful. The team felt that the positive atmosphere they could sense as they walked around the school is a result of this belief the school has about you.

Our strengths in our Centre of Excellence for Design and Technology, our Rugby and our Military Band were duly acknowledged. More importantly, MOE saw as the school's greater strength the fact that we have consistently added value to our students by helping them to perform academically above what was expected of them, and that we have done it while not neglecting the more important area of character development.

MOE assessors saw the significance and impact of our various programmes such as the RKS Adams Class, Drama-in-Curriculum, Elective Modules, ManyWaysOfSeeing, the Marshall Plan, Restorative Practice, the River Studies, Self Science and the Step-up Programme, and encouraged us to continue to have this many-pronged approach of developing our boys through building their understanding, their self confidence and their sense of belonging to the school.

MOE assessors also praised the very positive contributions of alumni through their roles in the Board of Governors, the Fundraising Committee, St Andrew's Alumni as well as SAPTA, and felt that old boys contributed significantly to the sense of belonging and identity in St Andrew's Secondary School.

This, after all, is what St Andrew's is about – making school with its friendships and its opportunities an inextricable part of a boy's life, helping boys to form those values of loyalty and courage, honesty and commitment, that will last them through to manhood.

For those graduating after this year, may you build on the glimpses of a better world that you first caught sight of at St Andrew's. May your building be strong and true so that you, in your turn, will make a difference in someone's life.

Warmest regards
Belinda Charles
Principal

Chaplain's Message

Lives are in the Making here

Shalom in Jesus' Name!

St Andrew's School (Primary, Secondary, Pre-U & JC) holds a very special place in my heart; having received transformation in mind and in life through the 13 years I spent in them. I am glad, too, that my son completed his education in St Andrew's School as well (up to Secondary 4). I found joy!

Academically, I gained knowledge from the many subjects that were taught. Realising the purpose of learning each topic helped tremendously in enjoying the subjects. (Yes, you can enjoy your subjects!) I found knowledge!

Socially, the friendship developed with the teachers, schoolmates and classmates taught me many life lessons and I am indebted to a few close friends and teachers who cared enough to listen and to share their lives with me. I found friends!

Spiritually, the discovery of my sinful nature and that Jesus Christ died for my sins, and having put Him as Lord of my life, I became, so to speak, a new person. It was to me 'a new life in the making'. Jesus said 'I have come that they may have life, and have it to the full' (John 10:10b) and I am glad I am experiencing it. I found Christ!

May God continue to bless and make St Andrew's Secondary School a special place in the lives of everyone.

Mr Harry Tan, an ex-principal of St Andrew's Secondary, passed away on 6 August 2008. He is remembered fondly here by Mr Phoon Kok Kwong who was his student and later, a member of his teaching staff.

When I was 15 years old and a student of St Andrew's Secondary School, we had a change of principals. The new principal, Mr Harry Tan Ho Swee, was a unique man by all accounts.

As a prefect and a Rugby player, I had opportunities to see him up close perhaps a little more than other students. He opened Woodsville House to the prefects to have a barbeque. He passionately took an interest in school sports, most notably Rugby. He took a combined A, B & C Rugby team to Thailand for the Asian Schools Rugby Tournament at the end of 1977.

At morning assembly, he was regularly speaking to the students. He did this with gusto and passion. He clearly enjoyed speaking to us. Though it was common for most speakers to talk about God's love for us, he, more than once expressed his personal love for the students. He would regularly say 'I love you boys' at these occasions and it was unusual enough for it to stick in my mind even after all these years.

Mr Tan was, at that time, quick-tempered. He had little tolerance for defiance and rudeness and he was not always understood in his ways and decisions. In retrospect, I sense it was his great passion for his school and for his students that had guided him in all that he did with immense conviction.

If Mr Tan's quick temper was legendary, his graciousness and generosity of heart were personal traits that no student will ever forget. He would often pay out of his own pocket for many of the boys if they were short of cash or financially in need. One of his favourite phrases, 'Money is not a problem', was no idle boast as he would invariably trust God for funds and passionately raise the needed amount through the OBA or various other sources.

One of his favourite stories of God's faithfulness concerned the school's award winning band. Before Mr David Glosz joined St Andrew's as Band Master, the band had not been doing too well. When Mr Glosz came, he needed $66,000 for instruments. Shortly after this, Mr Tan received a plea for help from the Jacob Ballas Memorial Fund as to how their unused $65,000 could be used for any good purpose for the school. Mr Tan gladly accepted this amount, and together with $1000 of his own money, bought the instruments for the band and started it on its glorious path to Gold for many years running.

Mr Tan attributed this not to coincidence, but rather to the providence of Almighty God.

In July this year when we heard that Mr Tan was in hospital, we went to see him to cheer him up and to offer our support. We saw him there, looking very weak and frail. His words to us, however, were not those of someone who looked for comfort. We were, instead, comforted by him. He reminded us teachers to 'love the boys' always. He encouraged us to remain faithful to God and trust Him in whatever circumstances we found ourselves.

He wanted it recorded that it was always God who had provided for him, his family and the school.

Truly, when I remember Mr Harry Tan, it is with mixed emotions as there were times when we did not understand him or the way he did things but beneath that rough veneer, we could see a man of compassion, generosity, humour, wit, passion and God-inspired love.

For all the years you served St Andrew's and for all the students who remember fondly the great impact you had on their lives, through your teaching of Maths, your dispensation of discipline and your words of wisdom, I say, 'Thank you so much, Mr Harry Tan. Rest well till we meet again.'

Founder's Day Guest-of-Honour

Speech by Mr Harry Elias

Play the Game

The theme chosen for this year's Founder's Day is 'Play the Game'. I hope you recognise it – it comes from the chorus of the school song

Up Boys! truest fame
Lies in high endeavour;
Play the game! keep the flame
Burning brightly ever!

The School Song

We Saints love the school song. A man like myself who left school 54 years ago can still sing it heartily because after all these years, the words still ring true. In fact it is permanently stored in my P.C.

The song captures great enterprise – mighty undertaking here. It captures good fulfilment – fill the measure. It is about meeting adversaries and obstacles and overcoming them – ever onward to the fight.

This line Play the Game is not to be taken literally. If you did, then you must have forgotten the other verse that says Time for work and time for play.

What we learn from playing games

You must always have time to play as well as time to study. Playing is very important because it teaches us so many things. I think your principal will not mind if I say it teaches you as many important lessons in life as books do.

Playing games teaches you that winning is not an overnight occurrence that happens with luck. The hockey and the rugby boys amongst you all will know that every match you win comes because you have practised and trained vigorously. Sure, you win some matches more easily than some others. But that wasn't luck – it was because the other team was less skilled and you had the practice to give you the edge you needed.

It is the very spirit of the Olympics. Training, preparation, training and preparation. The Chinese Olympics Gold medallist in Diving says that he trains 7 hours per day, seven days a week.

In teams that you encounter who are just as well prepared as you are, two things will make the difference – the character that comes from an ability to persevere and the stamina that comes from a fitness that is built over months of steady unglamorous work. When the Saints won the A Division rugby three years ago, it was because they kept playing even though it was already the second half and they were down 22-10. Their determination made all the difference.

You have won and also lost enough in tournaments and in competitions, whether it be in sports, in music and the arts or in your uniformed groups to know what I am talking about. When you won, you had the satisfaction of knowing that your efforts paid off. When you lost, I hope you were able to see just how you can be better the next time. What you must never do is to do what the Swedish weightlifter did at the Olympics. When he lost he deliberately dropped his bronze medal on the floor in protest for his loss. This act stripped him of his bronze medal. This eposide was carried by all newspapers around the world.

The saddest thing I ever see or hear about is when a team loses and the finger-pointing starts. When players start blaming each other, the whole point of playing in a team is lost, no, it is thrown away. Bandsmen, choir members, games players must all remember that they win as a team, they lose when they see or hear only their part and no one else's. I heard the Band were broken hearted when they failed to get a Gold with Honours last year but it has not stopped them from performing at numerous concerts in school and in public this year. In the same way, the Choir could have felt they were not good enough when they won a Silver last year but it did not stop them from producing 'A Beautiful City' this year for the school to enjoy.

The other disappointing thing I hear is when a team wins and behaves with arrogance. That is almost like winning without a reason. This is why I am proud of my School for continuing to do what they had always done in the past, teach the boys to win with humility. In fact I was very glad to hear that both the Junior School and the Secondary School have programmes in place that are recognised for the MOE's Character Development Award. It is important that the School lays the moral foundation so that our boys will always know how to do the right thing.

Even in the world of work, this holds true! Without this moral fibre and integrity, governments will fall, business will fail. Notice if you may the complete collapse of giants Arthur Andersen and Enron because of the lack of integrity and moral fibre.

How we should play

I hear the PE Department has adopted a wonderful slogan they call Play Cube (Play^3) – Play Fair, Play Hard, Play Safe.

Play fair

In the game of life, much like in the games you play, it is important to play fair. Everyone knows it is important not to cheat, whether in an exam, or in a game, or in a transaction. But sadly you probably know at least one person who does cheat, most usually because he thinks he wouldn't get caught.

Not playing fair always gets found out.

Play hard

This is a call for excellence. Don't settle for 'also-ran', for mediocrity, for just passing. Strangely enough, your principal tells me you play hard enough on the field, but not all of you have the same desire for excellence in your studies. That is really sad – no, it is more than sad, it is completely wasteful.

In my work as a lawyer, I know that you will need to spend many many hours to prepare for your case. There is no Perry Mason or Hollywood Court appearances without notes, without help. You must anticipate and practise all moves that may be invoked by your opponent.

An ill prepared lawyer is a handicap, to himself, to his firm, to the system. He will be easily detected from the questions asked of him by the Judge, his employers and the clients.

Play safe

You don't do things that will get you hurt unnecessarily. Know the facts about your body and your muscles. This will enable you to avoid difficulties.

The game of life

In life, like in games, there are rules. Here are some of the rules or values your school thinks are important and which I know are as important when you start work.

Integrity : In school, it will mean things like not cheating, not passing off other people's work as your own, not taking what does not belong to you. You will be surprised how important this is when you start working. Many industry leaders say that is the first thing they look for. It's no good having a man who is smart if you can't trust him. Absolutely and totally.

Responsibility or Self Discipline: In school, this is important because it is the mark of growing up. When you come out and work and people find they can rely on you to do the things they have left with you, your value to the company increases many many times.

Perseverance or Commitment: In school, teachers and parents want you to keep doing work and exercises even when it gets boring. You know what, work can be boring too if you do not look for meaning in what you do. But the people who are patient in doing the small things find they will do the bigger things well in addition.

Excellence or Achievement Orientation: We all want you to aim for the best; not just to pass. Mediocrity never goes anywhere. It is afraid to climb out and be challenged. It just wants to be comfortable in its own small dark hole.

I want to tell you the story of the 2 wolves.

> One evening an old man told his grandson about a battle that goes on inside people. He said, 'My son, the battle is between 'two wolves inside us all.
> 'One is Evil. It is anger, envy, jealousy, greed, arrogance and lies. The other is Good. It is joy, peace, love, humility, kindness, generosity, truth, compassion and faith.'
> The grandson thought about it for a minute and then asked his grandfather, 'Which wolf wins?'
> The old man simply replied, 'The one you feed'.

This will be your passport to ensure (as it did for me) that this will be foremost in making you a True Saint with grit and determination to have the wonderful motto as a badge of honour. The badge of Up and On.

Founder's Day Valedictory Speech

Speech by School Dux, 2007

'Citius, Altius, Fortius' : these are the Latin words for 'Swifter, Higher, Stronger'. In the Olympics, we truly see men and women pushing themselves to the limit in order to rise to the challenge of these three simple words. I am talking not just about record-breakers like Michael Phelps or just the gold medallists; I am referring to every sportsman who tries to go swifter, higher, stronger than he or she has ever gone before. Unlike the Olympic motto, our school motto needs no translation and it simply goes 'Up and on!' It too is a challenge that every Saint must rise to meet.

A very good afternoon to our Guest of Honour, Mr Harry Elias, distinguished guests, Members of the Board, Mrs Charles, teachers, parents and fellow saints.

It is thanks to God's blessing that I am standing before you today to represent the Class of 2007 to pay tribute to the three things that make our lives as Saints so special: friends, family and faith.

I vividly remember how worried I was on my first day in St Andrew's. Being a newcomer, I not only had to make new friends but I had to blend in with the St Andrew's culture familiar to those from the Junior school. However, this seemingly insurmountable problem was soon solved. That's because of the environment St Andrew's has provided, one where friendships are forged and strengthened. I can still remember one of the Self-Science lessons I had when the class was made to fill up a worksheet indicating the level of friendship one had with other classmates. I had a hard time ranking my friends because they all seemed equally important to me. Our friendship grew stronger from year to year and together, we weathered the storms and added colour to each other's life. I can still remember how our no-nonsense school captain transformed himself into a zany MC for Teachers' Day, and how the whole school would watch with quiet pride as our rugby players performed their hakka with gusto before each match. I thank God for my dependable friends as without them, my life in St Andrew's would have been less memorable. Thank you friends.

St Andrew's is like a second family to us. If we students are like brothers to each other, then the teachers and pastoral staff are the elders who keep watch over us and the Principal is the head of the household. At this juncture, I would also like to thank our old boys for their love and generosity. A case in point is the Haagen Dazs ice-cream thoughtfully distributed to us on every Sports Day. We are truly knitted together as a family, not just as a school. It is in this family framework that we support one another, be it students, staff or old boys.

Teachers play a vital role in the family. Though our gratitude to them is not always reflected in our behaviour in class, their immense dedication and hard work will always be remembered. Their countless remedial lessons and the effort they put into their lessons are the rich soil in which our success is planted. If that's not good enough to keep us awake, our teachers are equipped with humour. I still remember one particular Sports Day when both teachers and students chanted the name of Mr Muthu, cheering him on towards the finishing line. Fortunately for us, our teachers are people blessed with a sense of humour and can often laugh along with us. It is this wonderful combination of devotion and humour that has made lessons in St Andrew's something I have always looked forward to. Thank you teachers.

Coming back to the Olympics, one will see that both St Andrew's and the Olympics develop one's faith. Just think about it: every athlete competing in the Olympics has to have the faith in himself or herself to be able to perform in front of millions of viewers all around the world. However, in St Andrew's we are nurtured to have faith not only in ourselves but in God. From our chapel and morning devotion sessions, we learn that we can draw strength not only from within our hearts but also from our Almighty God who loves us and walks with us. I believe that it is through this added faith that we find peace before our exams and solace in times of trouble. I remember one occasion when Mrs Charles led us in a prayer meant for us before a test or examination. It has been in the hymn book all along, but I had never thought it existed. Thanks to this soothing prayer, we calmed down and cast away our anxiety so that we could do our very best.

My life in St Andrew's can be summed up with these three words: friends, family and faith. As Proverbs 27:17 says, 'As iron sharpens iron, so a man sharpens another.' In our time in St Andrew's, we have truly grown in wisdom and stature together. 'Citius, Altius, Fortius': we have grown swifter in our love of learning, higher in our moral stature and stronger in our friendship. Even as we forge new and separate paths in the future, let us remain as one family unbroken, and may the friends, family and faith we have found in St Andrew's always inspire us in times of trial, toil or triumph. Once a Saint, always a Saint. May every act and deed in our lives bear testimony to this wonderful exhortation.

Up and On!
